CROPSEY THREAT TO OPPOSE MAYOR; FUSION STIRRED

Committee Tells Justice His Candidacy Would Elect Tammany Ticket.

HIS DECISION TOMORROW

But Brooklyn Hears He Will Resign from Bench to Enter Republican Primary.

LIVINGSTON IS CONFIDENT

Brooklyn Leader Says He Is Sure His Candidate Will Make the Race.

What seemed to be a well-founded report that Supreme Court Justice James C. Cropsey intended to resign within a day or two to enter the Republican primary to contest the Mayoralty nomination with Mayor Mitchel was circulated in Brooklyn late yesterday. One report had it that Justice Cropsey would announce his resignation today. While Mr. Cropsey would not discuss the rumor, it was learned that he is preparing a statement of his intentions, and that it would be issued tomorrow. Mr. Cropsey's friends have persistently urged him to make the contest. It was said apparently for him last night that he had finally decided to throw his hat into the ring.

Word reached the Fusion Committee of 250 yesterday that the Justice had definitely decided to enter the race against Mayor Mitchel, and a delegation of Fusionists at once called upon him and urged him not to enter the race against Mitchel. This delegation was headed by William Hamlin Childs, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Fusion Committee. Others on it were Brooklyn members of the committee, including Herbert K. Twitchell, Alfred T. White, James H. Post, Colonel Willis L. Ogden, and Frederick E. Gunnison. The Brooklyn contingent was selected with the hope that they would have more influence with Mr. Cropsey than members from any other borough.

In Conference with Cropsey.

The delegation met Justice Cropsey about 4 o'clock in his chambers in the Garfield Building, near Borough Hall, and the conference lasted about an hour. During this time it was said that Mr. Childrs and his associates used all their powers of persuasion to have Mr. Cropsey announce his withdrawal and leave the field open to Mayor Mitchel. One argument brought to bear by Mr. Childs was that if Mr. Cropsey headed a third ticket he would have no chance of success himself, even if he won in the primaries, as the Fusionists would have their ticket in the field right up to election day and that the split in the Republican forces would necessarily mean the triumph of Tammany. Mr. Childs told Mr. Cropsey that every Republican of prominence in Manhattan and also many in Brooklyn were unalterably opposed to a Republican primary contest and that the Republican organization in Manhattan and the Bronx, at least would support the Mitchel ticket to a man. The Fusion leaders admitted that there might be some defection in Queens, Kings, and Richmond.

The conference had not proceeded far when Jacob A. Livingston Republican leader of Kings, who has backed the Cropsey boom from the start, and Albert E. Vass, Chairman of the Kings County Republican Committee, were called in. It is understood that they insisted that Justice Cropsey had as good a chance as Mayor Mitchel to win the Republican nomination in the primaries. They argued that should Mr. Cropsey win the nomination Mayor Mitchel would withdraw, leaving the field to the Brooklyn Justice. It was also learned that Justice Cropsey emphatically insisted that he had not sought the nomination, but that evidence had been presented to him in the shape of petitions from citizens all over the city urging him to enter the contest, and that he felt it was his duty to make the fight.

His Decision Within 24 Hours.

When the conference broke up it was understood that Mr. Cropsey would hold back his decision twenty-four hours longer and give another hearing to the Fusion leaders. It is expected that Chairman Childs and other members of the Fusion Committee will meet Mr. Cropsey again today. No one who was at the conference would discuss what had taken place. Justice Cropsey said he had no statement whatever to make. Mr. Childs seemed somewhat perturbed and hurried away. He said he had nothing to say as to what had taken place. Mr. Childs went at once to his home at Greenwich, Conn., and could not be reached later on the telephone.

Jacob Livingston emerged from the conference wearing a broad smile. Asked as to what had taken place, he said:

"I really don't know what it is all about. I don't know why Mr. Childs and the other Fusionists came over here, I am sure."

It was learned, however, that Mr. Livingston was thoroughly satisfied with the progress of the Cropsey boom, and that he expected important developments within the next day or two. Mr. Livingston's friends said the Republican leader was confident that Mr. Cropsey would make the race against Mayor Mitchel.

John T. McGovern, a Brooklyn lawyer, who is a close friend of Justice Cropsey, said last night that the petitions which had been circulated by Leader Livingston to find out Justice Cropsey's strength among the voters had all been tabulated, and that they would be turned over to the Justice tomorrow morning. Last week the petitions were turned over to Mr. McGovern to check up and put in shape. It was intimated that the public would be surprised when the number and calibre of the petitions were made public.

"They show indisputably," said one

Germany May Guarantee Immunity to Hospital Ships

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The Evening Standard says it has high authority for stating that negotiations are in progress, with every expectation of success, toward obtaining immunity for hospital ships from submarine attacks.

According to a dispatch from Madrid, published by The Standard, it has been arranged that a Spanish naval officer will go aboard every hospital ship to guarantee that the ship is used only for the transport of sick and wounded.

NEARLY ONE-THIRD OF CITY'S QUOTA IN Official Figures Indicate 12,000 Have Waived Draft Exemption and Are of the Army.

One Offer of $300 for Disqualification—Big Prices Charged for Exemption Blanks.

Deputy Attorney General Roscoe Conkling, representative of the Federal and State authorities in charge of the draft selections in New York City, announced at midnight last night that complete returns of their work from the beginning to date made to him by 50 of the 189 exemption boards in New York City showed that those 50 boards had obtained to date 3,358 men who have waived exemption, without reservation of any kind, and were now of the National Army.

These boards represent a little more than one-fourth of the boards in the entire city, and if the ratio of men who have waived exemption is maintained in the remaining 139 boards, it means that New York City has already furnished about 12,000 of its quota of 39,000 men for the first great selective draft army.

Seventy-eight boards in the city reported last night on the work they did yesterday. The total number of men examined by these boards yesterday was 8,526, of whom 1,662 passed the tests and waived exemption. The average for each board yesterday was nearly 22.

Mr. Conkling called yesterday on all boards in the city for returns showing the number of men called, the number examined, the number qualified physically, the number who have filed exemption claims, and the number who have positively waived exemption.

Mr. Conkling last night sent the following telegram to Adjt. Gen. Stotesbury and to Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder:

"Of eighty-six boards actually inspected in all boroughs up to 9 o'clock tonight, seven have posted call lists but have not begun examinations.

"Fifty-five boards show 11,623 physically qualified.

"Fifty boards show 3,358 accepted, with no question of exemption to be settled.

"It is estimated that 70 per cent. of the able-bodied men in New York City have filed claims for exemption or discharge. There is no way of estimating at this time how many of these claims will be disallowed. CONKLING."

Slackers Offer Bribes.

Unscrupulous men of draft age, among them a few person of means, have approached Exemption Board officials and attempted through bribery to escape the draft, according to Deputy Attorney General Roscoe Conkling, who is supervising the drawing of New York City's quota of 39,000 men for the national army. One man, Mr. Conkling said last night, offered to pay $300 to a member of a board if that member would secure his exemption on any grounds.

Mr. Conkling's statement was made in an answer to this question: "Has any man called for examination tried to escape service by offering a bribe to a member of an Exemption Board?"

"Yes; several have tried that way of getting exemption," Mr. Conkling replied, "and in one instance a board member—and he is one of New York's most reputable citizens—was offered $300 if he would use his influence to get a certain person of conscript age exempted. Of course this man indignantly spurned the offer and reported the matter to the proper officials, who are now investigating the case.

"In the other instances of attempted bribery brought to my attention," Mr. Conkling added, "the amounts offered were not so large. I am glad to say, however, that in no case has a bribe been offered by an American born citizen. In nearly all instances the criminals were alien born, a few of whom seemed to think it entirely proper to buy their exemption. I am sorry I am not in position to give names tonight, but until the investigation by the Federal authorities is completed I don't think I should divulge that information. I can state that every board member approached spurned the bribe that was offered."

Passed, Exempted, Then Passed.

An unusual case brought to Mr. Conkling's attention concerns a man who was called for examination last week and who passed all physical tests and was listed as eligible for service. After the man had been passed and listed he was recalled before the board, examined a second time, and disqualified by the doctors. Yesterday the man was ordered by Mr. Conkling to appear before Dr. Victor C. Pederson and Dr. Frederick Smith of the headquarters board, for a third examination. Drs. Pederson and Smith pronounced him an almost perfect physical specimen and referred him back to his original exemption board, which was ordered to restore him to the eligible list.

Owing to the delays of some boards in getting to work and to the failure of others, which have been examining men, to report on their districts, officials have been unable to make up any

WADSWORTH FOR PUBLICITY

WILLIAMS DEMANDS LOYALTY

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—By unanimous consent the Senate agreed today to vote tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock on the conference report of the Food Administration bill.

This action was taken at the close of a stirring debate. Senator Wadsworth of New York criticised the Administration for what he termed its failure to take the people into its confidence with respect to the conduct of the war, especially in the matter of expenditures, and regretted the failure of the amendment for supervision by a war board of Congress.

Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi followed Mr. Wadsworth with an appeal to Senators to discard partisanship and align themselves with the Administration for the winning of the war, or, else frankly line up with Germany for the defeat of America.

Probably a Law by Saturday.

Not a voice was raised in protest when Senator Chamberlain, sponsor of the bill, arose at the end of the day's debate and asked that the Senate agree to dispose of the bill at the hour he named, 4 o'clock tomorrow. Senator Hardwick of Georgia, one of the opponents of the measure and the only one to speak on the Oregon Senator's motion, smilingly remarked that he would not interpose an objection, as the measure might "only be worse mangled," if it went back to conference.

The vote tomorrow, according to the Senate leaders, will confirm the conference report by a substantial majority. If this is done, the bill, which has been before Congress since June 14, will go at once to the House for the signature of the Speaker. The House will not be in session until Friday. Under the rules the Speaker cannot sign any bill except in open session of the House.

After Speaker Clark has signed the bill, which was confirmed by unanimous vote of the House last week, after it was reported from conference, it will be returned to the Senate for the signature of the Vice President. This would put the bill in the hands of the President by Saturday night.

Judging from the disposition of the Senate today, the Food bill has weathered its worst storm. The bitterness of the opposition to the conference report seems to have melted away, and no Senator could be found tonight who did not believe the measure would be put through tomorrow. Upon signing the bill the President could at once appoint Herbert C. Hoover Food Administrator, so that his term of office would begin Saturday night.

Wadsworth Attacks Administration.

In debate today Senator Wadsworth of New York criticised the Administration, saying it had failed to take Congress into its confidence in the conduct of the war. He accused Administration leaders of bad faith in having sidetracked the Food Survey bill for the food control measure, after, as he said, the Administration had urged people throughout the country to speed up agricultural development on the promise that the Food Survey bill would be hurried through Congress.

Senator Wadsworth contended that the President ought to accept the Senate proposal for a Congressional committee on the conduct of the war, so as to enable the people to keep in intimate touch with war affairs. The New York Senator felt, he said, that the people would become restive unless the Administration showed more of an inclination to throw light upon matters in which they were vitally concerned in the conduct of the war.

"Congress is in the dark as to how this seventeen billion dollars is to be spent," said Senator Wadsworth. "Such darkness breeds suspicion, and suspicion in any quarter of the land, whether in the industrial communities of the East or the wheat fields of the West, in turn breeds hostility.

"Not only is Congress in the dark, but the whole public of the United States is in the dark. Go about the country, and you will find, not that the people are suspicious or are asking embarrassing questions as to the military or naval plans of the Government, but, 'How much are these cantonments costing?' I cannot tell them, you cannot tell them, and nobody is willing to tell them; they cannot find out, and thereupon their suspicion that all is not well grows and expands until it becomes a menace to the confidence of the public in their Government.

Wants a Link with the People.

"That is an improper way to wage a war. This is not a war of the Government; it is not a war of the Adminis-

Allied War Conference Continued in London

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A continuation of the Paris conference among the representatives of the Entente Allies was opened in London this morning. David Lloyd George, the British Premier, presided.

Among those present at the conference were Premier Ribot and Minister of War Painleve of France; Baron Sonnino, the Italian Foreign Minister; A. J. Balfour, the British Foreign Secretary, and Arthur Henderson and the other members of the British War Cabinet. All the Entente Allies, in fact, were represented by either Ambassadors, Ministers, or special representatives.

GIVES TAFT TITLE OF MAJOR GENERAL

H. P. Davison Gains Similar Rank Under President's Order Reorganizing Red Cross.

WADSWORTH A BRIGADIER

All Members Abroad Must Have Commissions or Warrants and May Wear Uniforms.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, announced today that President Wilson had reorganized the American National Red Cross on a military basis. Hereafter duly qualified officers of the Red Cross will be recognized by military titles, with assimilated rank and for appropriate duties. The President's action is taken under authority granted to him by a joint resolution passed by Congress last April. General army orders were issued putting the reorganization into effect, fixing the military titles, and describing the uniforms to be worn.

The two chief officers of the Red Cross will have the rank of Major General. These are ex-President William Howard Taft, Chairman of the Red Cross Central Committee, and Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the Red Cross War Council.

In explaining the action of the President, Secretary Baker made it clear, these commissions conferred no military authority, obligation, or other incident attached to rank or office, nor any right to pay or allowances of similarly described grades in the United States Army. They, however, serve as certificates of identity. In line with the rejection recently of Red Cross nurses of German origin, the General Orders issued in connection with the reorganization of the Red Cross direct that, in order to avoid the presence in European theatres of war of persons who may not be acceptable to the authorities of any foreign Government, or in whose loyalty there may not be placed undoubted confidence by the Government of the United States as well as of such Governments, the name, residence, and former employment of each member of the Red Cross to be sent abroad will be furnished to the Adjutant General of the army. If employed abroad, similar information will be furnished to the commanding General in France.

Chance for War Knitters.

One million pounds of knitting wool, to be knitted by American women into garments to protect American soldiers and sailors from cold this Winter has been purchased by the Red Cross. This yarn is to be distributed to Red Cross warehouses and sold to the chapters throughout the United States, the proceeds to be turned back into the treasury of the Red Cross and made available for other work.

Three spinning mills are now engaged in making this yarn. It will furnish material for 1,300,000 sweaters, or 2,000,000 pairs of woolen socks. It could be turned into 2,000,000 mufflers or 8,000,000 knitted wristlets.

These sweaters, when completed, will be worth at least $6 each retail, and the other articles proportionately valuable. This material, when worked into finished shape, will, in dollars and cents, represent over $2,000,000 yarn value, and $5,700,000 value in the time and effort of American women.

As much of the yarn probably will be purchased by individuals, it will be safe to say that this one undertaking will represent $7,800,000 additional value in articles donated through the Red Cross to make our soldiers and sailors warm and comfortable.

The Red Cross has established at Philadelphia for the use of the navy the first general Red Cross Hospital in this country. The City of Philadelphia had condemned the building and grounds of the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital in order that a boulevard might be cut through its grounds. The usefulness of the building, however, was not seriously interfered with, and Philadelphia offered this hospital to the Red Cross for an indefinite term without rental.

It contains about 250 beds.

CAVALRY BRANCH DETACHED

Artillery and Machine Guns Increased and Trench Mortar Batteries Added.

TWO BRIGADES TO A DIVISION

Each Will Comprise Two Regiments—Reorganization Reverts to Civil War Plan.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Brig. Gen. Henry P. McCain, Adjutant General of the army, announced tonight that a general order had been issued by the War Department providing for important changes in the organization of the army to be sent abroad.

The order provides for the creation of actual army corps and armies. In the American army these existed only on paper ever since the close of the civil war. There were army corps in the Spanish war designated as such, but none of them was operated as a corps to any important extent. There will be three infantry divisions in each of the new army corps. There are sixteen infantry divisions in the National Guard and an equal number in the new national army approximately, which means that probably ten army corps will be formed out of the guard and draft army forces. Each army will consist of three or more corps.

In the reorganization announced tonight the ratio of artillery strength will be greatly increased in proportion to infantry. The machine gun arm also will be greatly enlarged. Each new army division will consist of approximately 19,000 men. At present, under war strength, each has 28,000 men. Under the new arrangement there will be nearly 33 per cent. more army divisions than under the old method. The reduction in size of the divisions grows out of the conditions of modern warfare on the trench front in France and Belgium. The new American divisions will conform in size and organization practically to the units utilized by our allies in Europe.

Announced by Gen. McCain.

General McCain's anouncement follows:

"The ratio of artillery strength to infantry is greatly increased. A division will hereafter include only four infantry regiments in two brigades in place of the old division of three brigades, each comprising three regiments of infantry. There will still be three regiments of field artillery in each division. Thus, in the new organization, there will be three regiments of field artillery to every four regiments of infantry instead of the ratio of three to nine. In addition, a trench mortar battery is attached to each division.

"The machine gun arm is also materially enlarged. A machine gun battalion of four companies has been made a unit of each division, in addition to the three machine gun companies included in each regiment.

"The American division will be made by this order to conform practically to the units utilized by the Entente Allies, among whom a division numbers approximately 19,000 men. The reason for the change is that the division as heretofore made up of about 28,000 men is too unwieldy for the demands of trench warfare. With so large a unit, sure and swift communication with all parts is difficult. The problem to be met was basically one of mobility for the peculiar needs of fighting on the western front.

"The smaller sized units call for maintenance of all units at full fighting strength. For this purpose reserve battalions will be provided. These will consist of 612 men each and are listed in the general order as 'separate training battalions.' The number of these battalions has not been made public. Details of regimental organization are also withheld for military reasons.

"The new order provides for army corps and armies, units which have practically existed only on paper since the civil war. Corps were organized during the Spanish war, but were not actually operated as such to any great extent.

Three Divisions to a Corps.

"Each army corps will consist of three infantry divisions, corps headquarters, and certain army corps troops not specified. Each army will normally consist of three or more army corps, army headquarters, and certain army troops not specified.

"Under the new order each infantry division will be composed as follows, the changes from the present organization being as indicated:

"One division headquarters, (same as at present.)

"One machine gun battalion of four companies, (new.)

"Two infantry brigades of two regiments and one machine gun battalion, (four companies) each. (The present division is three infantry brigades of three regiments each.)

"One field artillery brigade of three regiments and one trench mortar battery, (same, except trench mortar battery is new.)

"One field signal battalion, (same.)

"One train headquarters and military police, (same.)

"One ammunition train, (same.)

"One supply train, (same.)

PICK HELFFERICH TO STEER PEACE PLANS; LEANS TO ENGLAND, SAY BERLIN CRITICS; OUTCRY AGAINST JUNKERISM GROWS

Kerensky's Health Causes Worry in Russia; Friends Fear He Will Collapse Under Strain

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The health of Alexander F. Kerensky, Russia's man of the hour, is a matter of grave concern to his friends and associates, according to members of an English delegation which has just returned from Petrograd. Premier Kerensky's health was none too good when he took office, and the strain since has been not only constant, but probably heavier than on any other statesman in the world today.

Illustrative of his weakness it is stated that even during the first weeks of the revolution every public speech he made was followed by a period of faintness. His friends say that only his tremendous will power and nervous energy have kept him going so long.

Those who have seen the brilliant Russian leader in the last few weeks describe his face as being haggard and drawn, his figure emaciated, his voice still strong and vibrant, but speech marred by frequent coughing, and his eyes brilliant, but not with the brilliance of ruddy health.

The Premier's whole appearance unmistakably shows the effect of the enormous work required of him every twenty-four hours and the heavy responsibility and constant drain on his slender physical resources.

"If Kerensky can only hold out," is the phrase more and more frequently heard among his friends and admirers, indicating their dread of his physical collapse and what it would mean to the destinies of free Russia.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY GETS A SHAKEUP

FIRST STEP OF NEW POLICY?

Daily Mail Attacks It as a Half-Measure; Says Secrecy as to U-Boats Hampers Us.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Commenting on the changes in the British Admiralty, announced last night, by which Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss succeeds Admiral Sir Cecil Burney as Second Sea Lord, and Alan Garrett Anderson, who has been Vice Chairman of the Wheat Commission, assumes the Controllership of Naval Construction, the post formerly filled by Sir Eric Campbell Geddes, the new First Lord of the Admiralty, The Daily Mail calls them "an obviously procrastinating half-measure," and asserts that they have brought about only "continued depredations of submarines and resultant public anxiety."

"From the moment America came into the war," it proceeds, "it was clear that one of her most valuable contributions would be ships. It is because of the shortage of vessels for transporting her troops to Europe that Germany affects to despise her utmost efforts. Ships, and yet more ships, are essential if the ravages of submarine warfare are to be offset, and if Britain and her allies are to be effectively supplied with foodstuffs and raw material from the boundless store of America's resources.

Says Admiralty's Policy Hampers Us.

"It was, therefore, to the problem of shipbuilding that the United States gave its first attention. Mr. Hurley is grappling with his task with comprehensive energy, and it is obviously in the British interest that he should be assisted in every possible way. But on the very threshold of his work our New York correspondent tells us he is confronted by the obstacle created by the misleading and designedly secretive character of the Admiralty's weekly statement of tonnage losses. It handicaps Mr. Hurley in his endeavors to speed up construction. It prevents him from explaining to the American people and to the workmen on whose skill and labor so much depends how serious the situation is. He has to deal with generalities that hide the truth and conceal the danger. He cannot lay before those whose enthusiasm he wishes to arouse the plain facts of the shipping position. The British people hate being treated like fools and children. The American people hate it even more. To get the most out of them, as out of our own people, it is necessary to tell them the facts. Then, like ourselves, they will achieve impossibilities.

"Such an Admiralty as the nation wants would answer the American appeal for the publication of the tonnage sunk by submarines in a proper way. It would not be afraid to reveal the facts. The present British Admiralty returns seem chiefly designed to throw dust in our eyes. They do not deceive the Germans, but they do mislead the British nation and its allies."

Special Duty For Admiral Burney.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The changes in the British Admiralty are attracting much attention and are interpreted as the first step in a reorganization which it is supposed Sir Eric Campbell Geddes, First Lord of the Admiralty, was appointed to carry out.

In quarters where the existing Admiralty methods are regarded as unsatisfactory it is declared that the change ought to have been so complete as to "give the country a resolute and energetic Admiralty permeated by an offensive spirit."

There is no implication of incapacity against Admiral Sir Cecil Burney, whose services as Admiral Jellicoe's second in command of the Grand Fleet are recognised, and an official announcement states that he will be employed on special duty. It is assumed that, as his record was made in active command, he may welcome the change.

Two of Russian Southern Wing Voluntarily Quit the Line, Petrograd Reports.

BERLIN, Aug. 7, (via London.)—Austro-German forces yesterday began an offensive against the Russo-Rumanian armies in Moldavia, on the Rumanian front. Russian positions north of Fokshani were stormed, according to the official statement issued today by the German General Staff, and 1,300 prisoners were taken. Thirteen guns and numerous trench mortars also were captured. The statement follows:

Army Group of Prince Leopold: The position is unchanged.

Front of Archduke Joseph: In the Sereth and Suchawa Valleys we gained ground as the result of fighting, and we continued to advance in the mountains in spite of stubborn enemy resistance.

Renewed Rumanian attacks on Casinului and near the Lepsa Monastery in the Putna Valley broke down with severe losses.

Army Group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: In a local attack Prussian and Bavarian regiments stormed Russian positions north of Fokshani. Thirteen hundred prisoners, thirteen guns, and numerous trench weapons were brought in.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 7.—In the direction of Fokshani, on the Rumanian front, the forces of the Central Powers and their allies began an offensive and pressed back the Russo-Rumanian troops across the River Tyriadesus, says the official communication issued today by the War Department. In the direction of Kimpolung, in Bukowina, Austro-German forces, after a battle with the Russians, occupied the heights at Molit. In the region of the River Bystritsa two Russian regiments voluntarily left their positions, causing the Russian troops to retire a few miles. The text of the statement reads:

Western Front: To the southwest of Brody, in the region of the villages of Dube and Zarkov, the enemy is conducting an intense artillery fire. To the south of Grijmalov our advance detachments drove back one of the enemy's advanced posts.

In the valley of the River Sereth, and chiefly of the River Suchawa, the enemy is continuing to press back our troops. The villages of Vaskovcy, Satulmary, Radautz, Burla, and Glit were occupied by the enemy.

Rumanian Front: In the direction of Kimpolung the enemy, after a battle, has occupied the heights to the north of the railway station of Molit. In this region the Cadet Corps of the Two Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry Regiment, under the command of Captain Luchkin, beat off several attacks of the enemy and forced them to retire in disorder. Two of our machine gunners, Protsenko and Walktrus, took prisoner a German scouting party consisting of three noncommissioned officers and twelve privates.

In the region to the west of Baelin enemy attacks were repulsed. On the River Bystritsa, in the region of Kotergachi and Kochnaborchel, two regiments of one of our divisions voluntarily left the positions occupied by them and went to the rear, which caused our troops to retire from this region a few versts to the east.

In the direction of Fokshani the enemy, after artillery preparation, began an offensive along the Fokshani-Marasechti railway and the Fokshani-Chiusleia road. On Aug. 6 the enemy occupied our positions in this region, having pressed our troops back across the River Tyriadesus.

Aviation: Our airplanes dropped bombs on the railway station at Baranovichi. Successful hits were observed.

On Aug. 4-5 enemy airplanes made a series of flights on the coast and islands of the Gulf of Riga. Recently there has been a noticeable increase of aerial scouting and activity in the Gulf of Riga.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—It cannot be said that the appointments of the fourteen new men who are to help Dr. Michaelis carry out his promises as Chancellor have been hailed with acclamations of joy by the German people, but for the most part the press observes an attitude of respectful expectation.

Some newspapers deplore that the new men are nearly all bureaucrats, or, to put it in another way, administrative officials, though they receive due credit for the excellent records all of them have earned as such.

The Socialist newspaper Vorwärts this morning published a list of the new appointments without one word of comment. Its editor informed your correspondent that he received the news too late last night to express an opinion, but then the list was publicly known nearly two days before it received the Kaiser's approval.

Socialists Adopt Waiting Policy.

One of the principal leaders of the Social Democrats, who warned me that he was not voicing the sentiment of his party but merely his own, which, he hoped, represented that of his party as nearly as possible, said that it had been understood among his associates that although the present appointments did not meet their expectations they would wait and see. It was not the Socialist policy to kick against any and every measure for the mere sake of making things uncomfortable, he said, but on the contrary, the new men should be given a fair chance to show what they can do. Any progress whatever was welcome, and the new appointments, at least, did not mean reversion to Junkerdom.

If the Socialist attitude is one of wait and see, it can hardly be that of the Pan Germans, whose organ, the Deutsche Tageszeitung, also remained speechless this morning. Count zu Reventlow will probably have recovered sufficiently tomorrow to give those responsible for the appointments a piece of his mind.

Finds No Sign of Progress.

The Zeitung am Mittag, reviewing the comments in the papers, contends that the general opinion is that the new men have been selected by old methods. It says:

"If one wants to be strictly correct, one cannot call it a Cabinet solely composed of bureaucrats, but it is impossible to discover any new method in the composition of this new Government. Chief Burgomasters have been appointed to Ministerial chairs before, also parliamentarians have been singled out now and then. That is no progress. It has nothing to do with the new era, nor is it likely to arouse eager attention.

"This new Government suggests no new program, but there is this to be said for the new men—they are all pledge to the Kaiser's message on ballot reform. Perhaps that was the principal reason for their selection.

"Some observant persons claim to have discovered a more liberal tendency than ever before existed in those high attitudes, but on the whole the general attitude of the public press seems to be one of wait and see. Some think the very anti-spasmodic character of the new Cabinet is an advantage from the viewpoint of interior peace, but we do not believe in treating the political aspirations of the nation merely with calming medicaments. We did not expect parliamentarization all of a sudden, which, after all, involves many constitutional difficulties, but it would perhaps have been just as easy to select a Government bench which in its com-

Deplores Ignoring of the People.

BERLIN, Aug. 7, (via London.)—Germany's press is decidedly lukewarm today in its welcome to the new occupants of the Ministerial bench, and characterizes the fourteen newcomers to executive and minor posts as a Cabinet constituted of officials whose appointment does not betray a change in system.

"It cannot be denied that the events occurring in our internal politics lack historic dimensions, as compared with our present military achievements," says the Tageblat. "The great German nation, which is the only 'kultur' people in the world, exercises neither direct nor indirect influence in the selection of its servants. The present reorganization of the governmental personnel is of little moment as regards the internal development of the empire."

The Lokal Anzeiger says:

"If parliamentarization has assumed but modest proportions on this occasion we can but welcome the circumstance, inasmuch as we do not deem it prudent to reconstitute one's dwelling at a time when a world of enemies is trying to break in. The selections prove that the emphasis has been placed not on principles but on men, as is evidenced by the appointment of two chief magistrates and a Social Democrat."

"Simon Pure Ministry of Officials."

The National Liberal Boersen Zeitung says:

"Is the result which we are now permitted to contemplate that to which we and, with us, many others have looked forward? The question may promptly be answered in the negative. We have again a Simon Pure Ministry of officials. Two parliamentarians, Dr. Spahn and Dr. von Krause, cannot be considered as an evidence of a sincere desire for parliamentarization. While their appointments are a compliment to their parties the fact remains that the widely heralded change in personnel is not wholly satisfying."

The Conservative Tägliche Rundschau has this comment:

"What has been created is a Cabinet of officials, after the old-time fashion, with the addition of two parliamentarians. Chancellor Michaelis up to this time has been noted for his fortunate selection of the men about him and his faculty of securing their close co-operation. It is to be hoped that his good luck has stood by him in the present appointments and that he will soon be able to demonstrate that the conduct of our Government will be once more in firm, capable hands."

Calls Helfferich Pro-English.

The Vossische Zeitung discusses the retention of Dr. Helfferich at length, branding him as a bad legacy from the Bethmann Hollweg administration and as an inspiration for a pro-English current in German foreign policy. It charges him with having delayed and then discredited the U-boat campaign.

"We cannot overlook the fact," says the Zeitung, "that in Dr. Helfferich not only has [illegible] of the old system been incorporated in the new Government which was to foreshadow a change in method, but, above all, one of the strongest [illegible] of the old system, and that [illegible] official capacity, Dr. Helfferich's ambition is to exercise an influence upon foreign politics, and in this he has occasionally [illegible] the outward method of his [illegible] policy. He at no time has substituted for it a conscious determination to achieve a firm Continental understanding, as opposed to the aggressive world-power policy of England and the United States. Personally the new Foreign Secretary is suited to [illegible] Dr. Helfferich's views of world politics [illegible] representation in the new Government."

Official circles express the view that the selection of new men has been prompted solely by their personal qualifications, and that the roster of the newcomers shows that the Government has reached out in every direction to obtain the best men available, the selection being [illegible] in scope.

Helfferich Kept for Peace Task.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 7.—Will Dr. von Kühlmann or Dr. Karl Helfferich, Vice Chancellor, be the real director of foreign policies under the administration of Dr. Michaelis, the Imperial German Chancellor? This is the political problem of the hour in connection with the shake-up of Cabinets in Germany. It is known the versatile Dr. Helfferich desires to have a hand in steering Germany's new course in world politics after the war, and it is rumored that the new Chancellor, unacquainted as he is with international affairs, desires to retain the ex-bank director, Dr. Helfferich, as his special adviser and mouthpiece, particularly for this field.

In fact, one of the avowed reasons for Dr. Helfferich's retention, despite his present unpopularity in the Reichstag, was that his services are indispensable in peace negotiations. The Berlin Tageblatt, the Lokal-Anzeiger, and the Vossische Zeitung all refer to the possibility of a conflict, as Dr. von Kühlmann, it is understood, is disinclined to permit himself to be relegated to a subordinate place.

A second feature of the shake-up is the consideration shown the Catholic Centre Party, whose demand for representation in the Imperial and Prussian Cabinets for the Roman Catholic population was recognized by the appointment of three Roman Catholics, Spahn, Waldraff, and Kühlmann. With a revocation of the anti-Jesuit and Polish expropriation laws also part of the Centrist program, that party is considered to have done very well as a result of the Parliamentary crisis.

Stand-Patters Defended.

While the Radical and Socialist press is dissatisfied at the absence of any marked concession to parliamentarism in the new Cabinets and at the failure to consult the Reichstag on the appointments, newspapers of the opposite camp are aggrieved at the shelving of Dr. Beseler, Prussian Minister of Justice; Count Loebell, Prussian Minister of Interior; Baron von Schorlemer, Prussian Minister of Agriculture, and other stand-patters on Prussian franchise reform.

The Tageszeitung shows its dissatisfaction in a short, cool, noncommittal paragraph of greeting to the new administration and by giving far more space to sketches of the departing statesmen than to biographies of the new appointees. Herr Zimmermann, former Foreign Secretary, in an article in the Lokal-Anzeiger, scolds Dr. Michaelis for jettisoning those tried and trusty officials in favor of political novices of untried worth. The Vossische Zeitung severely criticises the appointments of Dr. Helfferich and Dr. von Kühlmann on the ground that both favor rapprochement with England and not with Russia as a basis of post-bellum policy. It says Dr. Helfferich was Dr. von Bethmann Hollweg's evil genius in foreign affairs who first delayed unrestricted submarining by getting out statistics, and then discredited it by impossible predictions.

Theodor Wolff, editor of the Tageblatt, scoffs at all the appointments except that of Dr. von Kühlmann, whom he advises to use his elbows vigorously to gain room to run his own department and prevent intrusion by Dr. Helfferich. The Lokal-Anzeiger also advises a firm policy and holds out as an enticement the glittering opportunity of leading the premier military power of the world to a just and permanent peace, which would be as great a victory for Germany on the diplomatic field as that of Hindenburg on the field of war. The Anzeiger's adoption of the phrase, "peace by understanding" does not imply any change of heart in the paper, which is committed absolutely to a powerful Pan-German peace.

A Socialist Under Secretary.

Among the new men appointed to posts in the Ministry are two recruits from the ranks of the communal administrators. Herr Waldraff, Minister of the Interior, and Herr Schwander, Minister of Economics, were associated with Chancellor Michaelis in his former work of food distribution and control and attracted his notice by the energy and ability with which they handled the food problems in their respective municipalities. Waldraff is politically a member of the Free Conservative Party, one of the Burgomaster members of the Prussian House of Peers, and in the food debates in that body repeatedly defended the interests of the urban population against agrarian selfishness.

One of the most interesting members of the new Administration, if he accepts office, will be the Socialist, August Muller, whose name is as indicative of popular extraction as John Smith would be in American life. Herr Muller's acceptance of an under secretaryship in the food administration is said to be doubtful, and if he becomes the first Socialist Under Secretary in Germany's history, it apparently will be because he finds himself viewing his possible services in the problem of the proper nutrition of the people as either not incompatible with or as outweighing his socialistic principles.

Dr. von Kühlmann is greeted by the Socialist newspaper Vorwärts as representative of the spirit of a peaceful, friendly understanding with Germany's present enemies. It takes the optimistic view that he accepted the office with the intent of pursuing a policy based upon the Reichstag resolution. This assumption also explains the friendly acceptance extended to him by the radical press.

Reichstag Watchfulness Advised.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 7.—The new appointments of Imperial German Secretaries and Prussian Cabinet Ministers are considered unsatisfactory by the German democratic groups. Three of the new appointees, according to the Vossische Zeitung, are conservative agrarians, otherwise Junkers. The Clerical Dr. Forsch belongs to the annexationist group, while the appointment of Cologne's Mayor, Herr Waldraff, to the Imperial Home Office is rendered suspicious by the fact that he is known as a Conservative.

The Vossische Zeitung says it now rests with the Reichstag to see that the new appointees do not run contrary to democratic wishes. The responsibility, it holds, will rest with the Reichstag, though it had no voice in the appointments.

Theodor Wolff, in the democratic Berliner Tageblatt, says:

"It is obvious that to Michaelis the true democratic parliamentary course of policy is just as foreign as any exotic sea monster. In Germany only the army is allowed to make world history."

The industrial annexationist Lokal-Anzeiger is, on the whole, satisfied, explaining that the corps of the Imperial Secretaries retains its bureaucratic character and "the parliamentary course remains within modest limits, which is the only intelligent solution."

The semi-official Berlin correspondent of the Cologne Gazette says that all the new appointees to the Prussian Ministry have been carefully catechised by Dr. Michaelis as to their willingness to assist in democratizing the Prussian electoral system, as promised by the Kaiser July 11.

Berlin telegrams received in Holland show that throughout Germany the news of the appointments had been received with disappointment by all who hoped for a democratic turn in domestic policy. Kühlmann's appointment as Foreign Secretary seems to please Theodor Wolff, and to be objected to only by Reventlow, who thinks Kühlmann disapproves the submarine campaign.

REVENTLOW ANSWERS LLOYD GEORGE SPEECH

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Commenting in the Deutsche Tageszeitung on Lloyd George's speech last Saturday, Count zu Reventlow says:

"The speech has two principal points, of which the first is his attempt to veil the great military failure of the British Army in Flanders. He is incensed that Germany should have flagged the British attempt and that the German papers report the British occupied only a narrow strip of devastation dotted with gaping craters.

"Lloyd George is simply talking to distract attention from England. France and Italy are deeply disappointed that the attack did not result in breaking through the German lines after that same Lloyd George, with the air of a St. Nicholas, had promised a pleasant surprise to the Entente.

"Is that line of inundated craters really Lloyd George's idea of the pleasant surprise he had in mind? If he claims it was the British method of saving as many human lives as possible in a military advance, he can only contemplate suppression of the record of British losses, as they would expose his lie. His remark that British strategy accomplished its aim is not worth commenting on, but he cannot explain why the British nation should be joyous over the result of the battle.

"We, on the contrary, may well be pleased. In the west we resisted unparalleled attacks by the enemy and in the east we were conducting a magnificent offensive, while at the same time the U-boat war is unceasingly leading toward a victorious decision.

"Lloyd George's speech simply confirms our own knowledge of the pessimistic mood prevailing in Great Britain. It also confirms our confidence that the German Empire is on the right way to victory.

"The other point in the speech was Lloyd George's attempt to paint the possible fate of England's allies as black as possible. All of them, including North and South America, he says, would by this time languish under the German yoke had it not been for England's strength. Now after three long years of war England's allies have not been led to victory, but are still where they were three years ago. They have already become slaves to Britannia, who will yet lead them to final defeat.

"He uses strong words in speaking of weakened German nerves. He wants to teach the Kaiser the pronunciation of the word restitution, of course, in the English sense, which is synonymous with the restitution of English domination over Belgium. The conquest of Belgium by English arms has failed, and that is why the Chancellor now tries to reconquer it with his mouth. He prefers that as the safer method. But we need not bother about this. We have but one aim—the security of our frontiers—which can only be achieved by victory."

GERMANS HONOR CASEMENT.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 7, (via London.)—According to the Lokalanzeiger a tablet, commemorating the execution of Sir Roger Casement was unveiled on the shore of Lake Anmer, near Rederau, in Bavaria, on Aug. 3.

The tablet is under a window of a hotel where Casement lived for some time. A large number of people of all classes were present at the ceremony.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The anniversary of Sir Roger Casement's death was celebrated in Tralee on Sunday by a procession to McKenna's Fort, where he was arrested on landing from a German submarine. The demonstration was a sort of pilgrimage to the spot. Thousands of men and women wearing Sinn Fein colors assembled at Tralee, coming from all parts of the country. The procession included 800 horsemen, 500 cyclists, and hundreds of others in cars, each of which carried a Sinn Fein flag. It was intended to celebrate mass in the fort, but it is stated that the local clergy objected to this part of the demonstration.

HINT NEW VATICAN POLICY.

Different Course Toward Germany Predicted if Gasparri Retires.

ROME, Aug. 7, (Delayed.)—Many Italian newspapers and some authorities on Vatican affairs continue to affirm that Cardinal Gasparri, the Papal Secretary of State, has resigned. The retirement of the Secretary, it is asserted, will permit the inauguration of a new policy by the Vatican toward Germany.

The official Osservatore Romano is silent on the subject, but the semi-official Vatican organ Correspondenza flatly denies that the Papal Secretary has retired.

Italy Plans Exchange of Professors.

ROME, Aug. 7.—Francesco Ruffini, Minister of Public Instruction, has named a commission, composed of Senator Vito Volterra and Professor Bonfante Rossi, which has been charged with the preparation of a legislative bill providing for the study of Italian students abroad and for an exchange of professors between Italian and foreign universities.

CANADIANS PUSH CLOSER TO LENS

RAID CROWN PRINCE'S LINES

French Take Captives as They Break Through at Three Points —German Check Near Verdun.

By The Associated Press.

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Aug. 7.—The British lines continue to tighten about the French city of Lens, north of Arras. Canadian troops, who on Saturday night pushed their positions forward approximately 200 yards along a front of 1,000 yards into the western environs of the city, late yesterday added a 600-yard front of a similar depth to their defenses south and west of the outskirts of that mining centre.

The Germans have been showing signs of decided uneasiness in the Lens sector for several days, as has been evidenced by their practice of throwing a curtain of fire on the British trenches each morning at dawn.

Vimy and Farbus, towns behind the British lines south of Lens, have also been shelled daily by enemy batteries.

Canadians Hold Lens-Bethune Road.

By The Canadian Press, Limited.

CANADIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 7.—The Canadian outposts around Lens have established a new line in a group of houses which is within a few yards of the enemy front line at that point. The Lens-Bethune Road is now safely within our lines almost up to the city of Lens.

The enemy does not intend to submit to the loss of Lens without making a fight for it. While our outposts were establishing their new posts this morning the Germans turned loose a heavy artillery and machine-gun barrage upon the crater recently captured and buildings near by. Sheltered by this barrage, his infantry advanced upon the crater, which was only slightly held as an outpost. Our men in the crater withdrew without suffering any casualties, and the Germans reoccupied it. Destructive artillery shooting was continued yesterday by our artillery at an extended rate.

French Make Raids in Champagne.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—French troops last night broke into the lines of the German Crown Prince on the Champagne front at three places, inflicting losses on the Germans and bringing back prisoners, it was officially announced today by the French War Department.

A German attack between Avocourt Wood and Hill 304, in the Verdun sector, was driven off with heavy losses to the assailants. The Germans gained a foothold in the French first line in Caurières Wood, but were expelled today by a counterattack.

There were fairly violent artillery duels in the Bixschoote sector of the Belgian front, and between Hurtebise and Craonne, north of the River Aisne.

The text of the early statement says:

There has been fairly violent artillery fighting in Belgium, particularly in the Bixschoote sector, and north of the River Aisne, along the Hurtebise-Craonne front. The infantry was not engaged.

In the Champagne region we penetrated the German lines at three places. This made it possible for us to inflict losses on the enemy and to bring back prisoners.

On the left bank of the River Meuse, after a spirited bombardment, German troops this morning undertook an attack between Avocourt Wood and Hill 304. Met by a violent fire from our forces, delivered with precision, our assailants were compelled to return at once to the trenches they had left, after suffering perceptible losses.

In Upper Alsace there have been encounters between patrols.

Germans Checked Near Verdun.

In Belgium the cannonade was rather violent during the day.

On the right bank of the Meuse, (Verdun region,) the enemy directed an attack against our positions in the Caurières Wood. An enemy detachment which had succeeded in gaining a foothold in an element of our first line was thrown back immediately by a counterattack.

Intermittent cannonading has occurred on the rest of the front. It was especially spirited to the west of Cerny and in the direction of Hurtebise.

The Belgian communication says:

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The official report from British headquarters in France issued tonight reads:

Beyond the usual artillery activity on both sides, there is nothing of special interest to report.

Intense Cannonade Near Hulluch.

BERLIN, Aug. 7, (via London.)—Lively artillery firing at intervals in some sectors of the Flanders front is reported in today's Army Headquarters statement. Further south an intense bombardment is in progress between Hulluch and the Scarpe. Otherwise only scouting and raiding operations have occurred along the Franco-Belgian front, according to the statement, which reads:

Army Group of Crown Prince Rupprecht.—In Flanders the fighting activity of our own and the enemy's artillery was only temporarily lively in some sectors. In the crater field several engagements took place between reconnoitering parties.

In the Artois there was an intense fire, which was directed against positions between Hulluch and the Scarpe.

Army Group of the German Crown Prince.—Thrusts by Oldenburg and Württemberg storming troops in the Bessy ravine, north of the Laon-Soissons road, and near Berry-au-Bac and the Aisne brought us gains in prisoners and booty.

AMERICAN AIRMEN BATTLE OVER BELGIUM

PARIS, Aug. 7.—A patrol of the Lafayette Escadrille, composed of Adjutant Lufbery, Lovell, Willis and Parsons, engaged six German aviators six miles within the German lines in Belgium on Sunday. The air battle was progressing favorably for the Americans when six other German aviators joined in, forcing the Americans to withdraw before the superiority of numbers. Although they had been fighting for some little time, the quartet got away without receiving a bullet hole.

The weather has cleared and the members of the Lafayette Escadrille are anxious to get into action again.

JULIAN ALLEN WOUNDED.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Allen of New York, who are visiting here, received word today that their son, Julian Allen, had been wounded by a German shell while driving an ambulance in France. He was recently decorated by the French Government for bravery.

A news dispatch also reports that John V. Newlin of Whiteford, Penn., has been killed. Both men were members of Section 29 of the American Ambulance Corps. Allen's wounds are not serious.

SENDING FUNDS TO GERMANY

Federal Authorities Find Teutons in Cleveland Are Forwarding Money.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 7.—Federal agents today were investigating reports that thousands of dollars in money is being sent monthly from Cleveland to Germany through the Swiss Government.

Investigation, it is said, has revealed that scores of Germans and persons of German extraction are sending funds to Germany, ostensibly to relatives. Federal officials want to learn whether any of this money is reaching the German Government.

Edinburgh to Honor W. H. Page.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A movement is on foot, according to The London Times, to offer the freedom of the City of Edinburgh to Walter Hines Page, the American Ambassador to the Court of St. James's.

nouncement that opportunity is to be taken of the appointment of Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss to rearrange the duties of the Second Sea Lord, who will be relieved of detailed administrative work connected with the personnel of the fleet. This is interpreted as meaning that the Second Sea Lord will not be trammeled by details which subordinates can handle, but will be associated more closely than his predecessor was with the preparation of war plans.

Permanent Secretary Displaced.

Another change in the Admiralty is the removal of Sir William Graham Greene from the permanent secretaryship at the Admiralty to a secretaryship in the Ministry of Munitions under Winston Spencer Churchill. Sir William's departure from the Admiralty is regarded as of considerable importance, as the holder of the post of permanent secretary, which he has retained since 1911, has always been largely responsible for the continuity of Admiralty tradition and policy. It is this continuity which is regarded by many as a most dangerous factor in that it hinders initiative and adaptability to current needs.

Mr. Anderson, who will be responsible for the Admiralty's shipbuilding requirements, has a close knowledge of both shipping and railways. He was long associated with a company of shipping brokers and is a Director of the Midland Railway. He is a son of Dr. Elisabeth Garrett Anderson, a well-known physician and the first woman to be elected as Mayor in England, being the Chief Magistrate of Aldeburgh.

FIGHTER TO AID JELLICOE.

Wemyss, New Second Sea Lord, Distinguished Himself at Jutland.

According to Geoffrey Butler, who came to this country with the Balfour mission and is now here on British Government service, the appointment of Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss as Second Sea Lord of the British Admiralty indicates that Admiral Jellicoe, the First Sea Lord, is to have the assistance of a man who, though little known to the public, has a distinct reputation as a fighter of the first order throughout the British Navy.

"He took a foremost part in the Jutland fight," said Mr. Butler last night, "and acquitted himself admirably. He comes of one of the old Conservative families of England, being a son of the late J. H. Erskine Wemyss of Wemyss Castle, Fife. He entered the navy in 1877, was made a Lieutenant in 1887, a Commander in 1898, and Captain in 1901. He was commander of the Royal Naval Barracks in 1911 and 1912, Rear Admiral of the Second Battle Squadron in 1912 and 1913, and was an extra equerry to the King.

"Vice Admiral Wemyss represents the old aristocratic element. The Second Sea Lord is at present responsible chiefly for the appointment of the personnel of the navy, and he is undoubtedly taken as first assistant to Admiral Jellicoe because of his knowledge of men and his reputation as a fighter."

Anderson a Shipping Man.

Of Alan Garrett Anderson, named as the new Controller of Naval Construction, Mr. Butler said:

"Anderson, like Sir Eric Geddes, is one of the business men who have sprung into prominence in the course of the war. It is interesting to note that when the British Government wished to find a chief of the Joint Bureau, which controlled the pooling of wheat for all the Allies, they went not to a great farmer or wheat controller, but to President of one of the big Liverpool shipping firms, Alan Garrett Anderson. He comes of one of those English families known for its progressive qualities.

"Anderson was educated at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge, but was not graduated, preferring to settle down to business. It will be remembered that he accompanied Mr. Balfour on his mission to this country, and that he paid a visit to Chicago at a time when there was great excitement in the wheat market. One of his partners in his shipping firm is a descendant of William Penn and bears the same name. He impressed those who came into contact with him on his recent journey to America as a typical Liverpool merchant of the old school."

Greene's Removal Significant.

The following comment on the removal of Sir William Graham Greene from the Permanent Secretaryship at the Admiralty to a Secretaryship in the Ministry of Munitions was sent to THE TIMES last night:

"Besides the political head of every Government department (the member of the Cabinet responsible) there is always in England a permanent head drawn from the permanent civil service whose fame is generally unknown, but who, having the experience of many years' service, exercises profound influence. Woe betide the Secretary of State who neglects his advice or runs counter to his wisdom! The only case of the overriding of the permanent chief known to history is the famous instance of Lord Randolph Churchill, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, who, when faced with an argument by his permanent head, duly substantiated by statistics so full as to include decimal points, remarked, to his mentor's horror, 'I expect you are perfectly right, my dear fellow, but, you know, I never could understand those damned dots, so I think we'll have it as I originally suggested.'

"Sir Graham Greene was the permanent head of the Admiralty. As the tenure of office of such men is regarded as sacrosanct, 'having,' as one disgruntled junior said, 'neither beginning nor end,' the removal of Sir Graham Greene establishes another record for the Lloyd George Government. It will be recollected that a full-dress debate in both houses of Parliament failed to remove Lord Hardinge, who was permanent head of the Foreign Office and had been subjected to much public criticism."

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Alan Anderson, the new Controller of Construction of the British Navy, is well known to men in the grain trade in Chicago. He was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Board of Trade at the Blackstone Hotel when he visited Chicago with the Balfour Commission.

While here he had a number of conferences with board leaders on the wheat price situation as affected by heavy buying of the Allies, and also on securing facilities for shipping grain.

At one time Mr. Anderson was with a grain firm which had connections in the Chicago field.

PERSHING PICKS TYPE FOR NATIONAL ARMY

TRAINED AS FOR FOOTBALL

Sammies Prepare to Don Masks and Enter "Gas House" for Experimental Purposes.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Major Gen. Pershing, commander of the American expedition in France, said today that it was highly essential that the men in America's draft army should be in excellent physical condition, well disciplined and capable of individual action. He added that the army organization must be built from the bottom up, each man and officer devoting all his energies to the work. The General said:

"Our men must be in good physical condition, keeping their morals clean and thereby capable of meeting the trying conditions of modern warfare. The men must learn to obey orders promptly, implicitly and willingly, but not, necessarily automatically.

"I object to the word 'automatic,' because we do not want a machine-made organization, but an army of thinking men—men with individuality, men fully capable and ready to assume command of units, should their officers be killed or incapacitated, as sometimes happens in trench warfare.

"The men must be made to realize that war is not sport or play, but serious work demanding the utmost energy and attention to insure success."

General Pershing likened army organization to a football team, in which each man is trained to physical perfection under strict discipline, but is capable of brilliant individual action in a crisis. He added: "We want our men trained the same way."

The General was optimistic and confident that America's army would give an excellent account of itself and would come up to the expectations of our allies despite the tremendous amount of work necessary before active American participation in trench warfare was possible.

SAMMIES TO DON MASKS.

Prepare to Face Extra Strong Vapors in "Gas House."

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Aug. 6.—The issuance of French gas masks to the American soldiers has brought them a little nearer to the realization of their proximity to real warfare. The men are looking forward to the gas experiments with the greatest possible interest as giving a touch of adventure to their training. When the so-called "gas house" is completed the men will be put through a mixture of a deadly vapor several times stronger than will ever be encountered upon the field of battle.

Some German prisoners have declared that in their advance training they have endured periods of from five to ten minutes in a gas mixture fifty times as strong as could possibly be maintained in an open air attack. The men are put through these intense mixtures to demonstrate to them that with proper care and use of their equipment they cannot be hurt by any gas likely to be encountered in the front-line trenches.

It is a most important branch of the modern training of a soldier that he should be convinced there are many methods of effectively dealing with the deadliest terrors of latter-day warfare, and that careless, slovenly, and unheeding soldiers are the ones first to succumb. It is even demonstrated to the soldiers that the terrifying liquid fire can be avoided except in most extraordinary circumstances, such as being caught in a tunnel or in a dugout with the enemy in such a position that he can pour flames through the entrances.

In training the Americans regarding gas the greatest weight is to be laid in demonstrating to each man the value of his protective appliance and seeing that he is fully instructed in its proper use. He will be made to realize, however, that only by skillful and rapid adjustment of the mask can protection be assured, and that it shall be a daily task with him to see that his appliance is in good condition. Fit must be assured, for otherwise the gas penetrates through every small hole and attacks the eyes and mouth so that in a short time that man is put out of action.

Lectures on gas are being arranged first for the officers, then for the men; for in gas training officers have to go through identical drills and experiences. Ten seconds will be the outside limit allowed for the adjustment of helmets after the gas alarm has been sounded. The increasing use of gas shells even from the longest range guns makes the carrying of masks far back of the line an imperative military necessity. The first traces of gas poisoning are a hot mouth and irritation of the throat.

Despite proof that the Allies have so often produced to the contrary and the terrible deaths allied soldiers died when this hideous mode of warfare was first sprung upon unsuspecting foes by the high command of the German Army, private soldiers and Germans say the gases are so-called "smelling substances" and are not poisonous. The substances, they assert, exert stupefying action and after long exposure have an asphyxiating effect. Under their influence vision is affected. A man is forced to close his eyes in a few seconds and can observe nothing.

Germans naively admit, however, that "it is impossible to remain in these gases without protection." The exact nature of the composition of practically all of the German gases is known to the Allies, and the Americans are obtaining immediately the full results and benefits of all this laborious and dangerous work.

MUST REPORT TO PERSHING.

All Our Officers Get Orders Designed to Frustrate Spies.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—To enable Major Gen. Pershing, commanding the American expeditionary forces in France, to have complete information regarding all persons and units connected with the American military forces sent abroad, the War Department has issued a general note which also safeguards the interests of the Government against persons who may attempt to gain military information by impersonating American army and marine officers.

The order was issued July 8, but not made public until today. General Pershing, of course, has complete information regarding American army and marine officers attached to his expedition. But there are other American army and marine officers on duty in France, England and elsewhere, whose status is not reported on regular organization returns and concerning whom General Pershing may know nothing as to their location or status.

In the circumstances, unless proper military safeguards were instituted, it might be possible for persons impersonating army officers to obtain military information from British and French officers. To guard against this, orders have been given by which all American officers in France or England desirous of obtaining information from the French or English War Offices must submit their applications to General Pershing, who alone is authorized to present such requests on behalf of officers in those countries.

The general order of the War Department follows:

"Washington, July 6, 1917.

"General Orders.

"No. 83.

"To the end that information concerning the organizations and individuals serving in connection with the United States military force operating against Germany may be in possession of the Commanding General of such forces and of the War Department, the following orders are promulgated:

"1. All officers of the armies of the United States, of every kind and character, and of the Marine Corps attached to the army, who are now or may hereafter be on duty in France, England, or elsewhere, in connection with the United States military operations in Western Europe, and whose status is not reported on organization returns, will report by letter to the Commanding General, United States forces, at Paris, France, on the last day of each month, giving duties on which engaged, or status, and address. Those hereafter ordered to duty in countries of Western Europe will report by letter to said Commanding General immediately upon their arrival in any of the countries specified.

"2. One copy of the monthly return of each organization will be furnished to the immediate superior commander as prescribed by army regulations and instructions on the blank forms. One copy of the monthly return of each organization or unit, including base hospital, not forming part of a brigade, division, army corps, or army, will be furnished to the Commanding General, United States forces at Paris. All officers not accounted for on organization returns will be accounted for on the returns of the headquarters, United States forces at Paris.

"3. Officers in France or England, or hereafter going to those countries, who for any reason desire or find it necessary to apply for information from the French or English War Office will submit their applications or requests to the Commanding General, United States forces, at Paris, who alone is authorized to present such requests on behalf of officers in the countries named to the Governments of France and England.

"By order of the Secretary of War:

"TASKER H. BLISS,

"Major General, Acting Chief of Staff.

Official:

"H. P. McCAIN

AMERICAN AIRMEN CHOSEN.

Selected to Complete Their Training in Allies' Schools.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—It was announced at the American Aviation Service today that American airmen had been picked to enter British, French and Italian aviation schools for completion of their training at the earliest possible moment.

The problem of sending the most efficient airplanes has been solved in part by the purchase of all available materials from the Entente Allies, thus permitting the Americans to begin their aerial operations much sooner than otherwise would be the case. The service has been divided into purchasing and operating divisions.

Officers in the American service emphasize their belief that nothing should interfere with the aviation plans in the United States. The officers say that where one man is needed in the reserve for each man in the trenches, in aviation, to insure American protection and supremacy, it is estimated that five reserve men are needed for each man flying.

ITALIAN AIR RAIDERS MADE HAVOC AT POLA

Bombed Austrian Arsenal and Fired Naphtha Depot and Seaplane Station.

ROME, Aug. 7.—A detailed report on the air raid at Pola, the Austrian naval base, on Friday night, following the raid of Thursday night, shows that it began at 11 P. M. and ended soon after dawn. Each Italian machine carried eight bombs and six grenades. The first members of the squadron arrived over Pola an hour after their departure, and the last at 4 A. M. They carried out their task, which comprised a flight of 320 kilometers, (nearly 200 miles,) 100 of which were over enemy territory, without the loss of a single machine.

D'Annunzio, the poet, was aboard one of the larger planes, piloted by Captain Gori. The damage effected was most important. The arsenal was bombed and a naphtha depot and a seaplane station were set afire and burned like paper. The Italian aviators, who kept at an average height of from 2,500 to 3,000 yards, were able to judge of the extent of the destruction by the enormous sheets of flame and columns of smoke which shot up to a height of 500 yards.

The Austrians were unable during the bombardment to extinguish any fires started by the bombs, but they kept up a furious fire with their anti-aircraft guns, and thirty of their most powerful searchlights threw dazzling beams over the space where the Italians were flying. Notwithstanding, the latter cruised over the city for nearly five hours and escaped unhurt and victorious.

Minister of Marine Rushes Work on Powerful Station.

ROME, Aug. 7.—The Minister of Marine is planning to establish a powerful wireless station which will be constructed on a new system, radically different from that adopted thus far by all the big European companies.

It is hoped that by making a record in rapidity of construction it will be possible to open the new station soon.

Artillery Duels on Italian Front.

ROME, Aug. 7.—Reporting military operations on the Austro-Italian front the War Office announcement issued today says: "No important events were reported yesterday. Artillery duels took place on the Julian front."

DUTCH RIDICULE GERMAN 'CHIVALRY'

Newspapers Display U-Boat Murder in Parallel Column with Pastoral Letter.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 7.—Dutch newspapers print in a parallel column with an account of the murder of the crew of the British steamship Belgian Prince a Berlin telegram giving the following extract from a pastoral letter read in all the Protestant churches of Berlin last Sunday:

"We will comport ourselves as Christians toward our enemies and conduct the war in the future as in the past with humility and chivalry."

The pastoral letter was read at a service which Emperor William and the German Empress attended at the Cathedral. It exhorts the people to humanity and recognizes the hand of God in the protection from invasion which the Fatherland has enjoyed.

The British steamship Belgian Prince was sunk July 31 by a German submarine. According to survivors who reached a British port the Germans removed the lifebelts and outer clothing of all the members of the crew except eight, smashed the lifeboats with axes, and then re-entered the submarine and closed the hatches, leaving the men on deck. The submarine traveled on the surface for about two miles and then submerged. Thirty-eight of the crew were drowned. Three others were rescued by a patrol boat.

U-BOAT IN DUTCH PORT.

Another Attacks Vessel in Spanish Territorial Waters.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 7.—The German submarine U-30, accompanied by two Dutch torpedoboats, today entered the waterway of the Netherlands fishing town of Maassluis, ten miles west of Rotterdam, according to a dispatch to the Handelsblad. It is understood that the U-boat merely is awaiting better weather.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The Admiralty learns that a German submarine yesterday attacked a Spanish fishing boat in the neighborhood of Bilbao, Spain, within Spanish territorial waters. Two of the crew were severely wounded.

SWEEPING SLAUGHTER OF GERMAN CATTLE

Fodder Shortage Causes Drastic Action in Reducing the Number of Animals.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 7.—A shortage in fodder has compelled the Germans to undertake a sweeping slaughter of home stocks of cattle. German buyers in Denmark, who last week cut prices 15 per cent., are, according to a dispatch today from the interior, discontinuing purchases altogether until the surplus at home is utilized.

This has brought about another reduction in the price of meat in Denmark, and it is said that further cuts will follow.

A decrease in prices for meat also will be aided by the action of the Danish Meat Bureau, which, finding a number of butchers charging prices involving an excessive profit, has withdrawn from the offenders the bounty derived from the fund accumulated from the export tax on meat and applied to reducing prices to Danish consumers.

BRITAIN EXPORTS LESS TO US

London Shipments Fell $10,000,000 in the Last Seven Months.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Extraordinary fluctuations in Anglo-American trade are shown by the Consular figures as to British exports from the Port of London, from which more than half the British exports to America are shipped. The shipments for April were the highest, and those for July the lowest since the beginning of the war. The April exports were valued at $18,500,000, and those for July only $8,500,000. Exports from January to July, inclusive, last year were $100,000,000, and for the same period this year less than $90,000,000.

The slump began in June, with exports of $9,500,000, as against $12,500,000 last year. Those for July made a still worse showing, being $8,420,000, as against $10,475,000 last year. This fall occurred despite the big increase in exports of rubber from $25,803,000 in the first seven months of last year to $37,825,000 for the same period this year.

One reason for the decrease is the rigid restrictions on the exportation of certain articles. Exports of tea for the seven months were only $746,000, as against more than $3,000,000 last year; those of wool $900,000, as against $1,200,000 last year; of hides $2,300,000, as against $3,800,000. There were also decreases in the exports of precious stones, indigo, and art objects.

BOASTED OF 19 SHIPS SUNK.

U-Boat Captain Told Artensis Survivor of Vessels He Destroyed.

Harold Hansen, a survivor of the crew of the Norwegian sailing ship Artensis, 1,789 gross tonnage, which was sunk on July 19 eighty-two miles off Black Rock, on the coast of Ireland, returned yesterday to an Atlantic port with the report that one U-boat had sunk nineteen vessels, aggregating 66,000 tons, in a three weeks' cruise. He was told this by the Commander of the submarine that sunk the Artensis, who was evidently proud of his achievement, and wanted the people of America to know it.

Hansen said that the Artensis was sailing from Glasgow to Hampton Roads when the submarine fired a torpedo which missed the stern by a few feet. The Captain of the Artensis hove to. When the U-boat appeared the commander ordered the crew of the ship to get into the boats and pull for the nearest land. After removing all the food, tobacco, and provisions from the sailing vessel the Germans put bombs in her hold and blew her up.

WRECKED ZEPPELIN BROUGHT HERE

Machine Downed with Its Crew in London Air Raid Subject of Customs Dispute.

New Yorkers may soon see the remains of a Zeppelin shot down in one of the German raids over London. Custom House authorities gave up yesterday the attempt to classify for duty the wrecked airship and sent the papers to the Board of General Appraisers.

The wreckage, which in its fall carried to death a crew of more than thirty Germans, arrived in the hold of a cargo steamer recently in cases, excepting the sections too large to be boxed.

The tariff law makes no classification of airships, but under a ruling of the Treasury Department airships and airplanes may be entered free under bonds for racing. The customs examiner reported that the Zeppelin, in the form in which it reached New York, appeared to be composed almost wholly of steel and aluminium, and recommended that duty be taken at 20 per cent. ad valorem as a "manufacture of metal" not specially provided for.

The importer, whose identity is not revealed, set up the claim that the wreckage should be admitted at 2 cents a pound as "aluminium scrap," with an alternative claim at 3½ cents a pound as "aluminium in bars, strips, rods, &c." As no agreement was reached, the importer paid the duty demanded, and will submit testimony to the Board of General Appraisers.

SEES RUSSIA SOON AS STRONG AS EVER

Charles H. Boynton, Just Returned from There, Has Confidence in Government and Army.

Charles H. Boynton, President of the American-Russian Chamber of Commerce of this city, has just returned to New York from Petrograd, where he went the first part of the year. Mr. Boynton, who has had exceptional opportunities of meeting leaders of Russian thought and of analyzing Russian conditions, has absolute confidence in the political restoration of Russia on substantial lines and that the army will soon be restored to full discipline. In outlining his views yesterday, Mr. Boynton said:

"That the Provisional Government in Russia will endure and come from its recent serious political contention stronger than at any time since its establishment is my confident belief. Every individual who has the welfare of the Russian nation and her people sincerely at heart should encourage that Government by sympathetic as well as by material aid to steer a course that it will pass safely through the Scylla of counter-revolution and the re-establishment of autocracy on the one hand and of the Charybdis of German intrigue and propaganda on the other hand.

"Up to the time of the last Ministerial crisis, there was no government, and by government I mean a body capable of forcing its decrees and decisions even against an opposing armed force. A strong, dominating individuality had to take the helm or, the license being allowed, political propaganda of a dangerous type would have endangered the conservative, patriotic, and better element of Russia in its efforts to bring a substantial, dependable democracy to that huge nation.

"Premier Kerensky is the man of the hour—not that he is more courageous, more self-sacrificing, and more capable than many others in his Cabinet, but because, from his position in life before the revolution, he is trusted by both the army and the people not to betray them. I believe he has formed a coalition Cabinet which will have the support and respect of 75 per cent. of the Russian people, the other 25 per cent. being composed of antagonistic political parties of extreme anarchistic and counter-revolutionary tendencies.

RUSSIAN CABINET FILLED.

Changes Made in Tentative List—National Defense Department.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 7.—The Premier has completed the formation of his new Cabinet. The official announcement of its composition contains several changes in the list of portfolios made public yesterday, as follows:

Lieutenant Lebedoeff is made Acting Minister of Marine, a post held up to the present by Premier and Minister of War Kerensky.

M. Bernatsky is appointed Acting Minister of Finance, a portfolio that had been assumed by M. Nekrasoff in addition to the vice Premiership.

M. Yefremoff, Minister of Justice, is transferred to the Ministry of Public Aid, replacing M. Astroff, the Mayor of Moscow.

Professor Kokoshine, a leader of the Constitutional Democrats, is appointed State Controller, a position which had been given to F. A. Golovine.

M. Yourneff is named Minister of Public Works.

M. Yaroudny takes the office of Minister of Justice vacated by M. Yefremoff.

M. Takhtamisheff, the Minister of Communications, is now mentioned in the new official list.

M. Savinkoff, the new Assistant Minister of War, is a well known Revolutionary leader. He already has done much at the front on behalf of the Government to promote an offensive, and fought energetically against the demoralization of the army.

M. Tseretelli, who served in two previous Cabinets, refused to join the new Cabinet on the ground that he wished to devote his whole time in organizing democracy, but he promised the Ministers his full support.

Oscar II.'s Passengers Go to Russia.

CHRISTIANIA, Aug. 5, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—Through the representations of the Russian Minister special permission to land has been granted to the 600 Russians from the United States who were detained aboard the Danish-American liner Oscar II. owing to difficulty in finding temporary accommodations for them ashore. Tomorrow they will leave by a special train which will convey them via Stockholm direct to the Russian frontier. Another party of 400 Russians arrived yesterday at Gothenburg.

ROOT LAUDS RUSSIAN WOMEN.

Hopes American Sisters Will Follow Their Example, if Necessary.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Elihu Root, who with other members of the American Mission to Russia, which has completed its work, was in Chicago today, spoke hopefully of the situation in Russia.

"I have faith in the new Russian Ministry and in the Russian future as an important element in the aims of the Allies," he said. "Russian women are doing a wonderful work in shaming the men into fighting, and where necessary I hope American women will follow their example."

REFORM DOMINATES TAMMANY PLATFORM

'NO POLITICS IN EDUCATION'

Riverside to be Kept Intact and the City's Charities Taken from "Control of Charity Trust."

The platform on which the Tammany candidates for city, county, and borough offices are to run in the municipal campaign this year was adopted last night by the Democratic Fusion Committee of 170, which is a combination of all the elements opposed to the Mitchel administration. Municipal ownership and operation of public utilities is the keynote of the platform. The plank on this subject pledges the party to the public ownership and operation of all traction systems, including marginal railways and docks, gas, electricity, and the telephone, as well as terminal markets, storehouses, and refrigerator plants. The municipal ownership plank says:

> It is the purpose of the Democratic voters of the city of New York in the approaching municipal election to fight for municipal ownership, the true principle of all municipal reform. Just as the source of all municipal misgovernment is the privately owned and operated public utility franchise, so the correction of the evils of municipal government lies in the adoption of the universally accepted truth that every public service which is in its nature a monopoly should be a public monopoly. In other words, we stand unqualifiedly for the principle of municipal ownership and operation of all public utilities. And we propose to effect this reform as rapidly and as steadily as is possible, with earnest endeavors in every field in which it can be promoted, and with a spirit of convinced adherence to the principle.
> The Fusion Administraton say they are for public ownership and operation, but they qualify this by the statement that the city is not yet ready to undertake it. Their insincerity is recognized by all the public utility corporations of the city, which are supporting the Fusion Administration. These corporations, which have so long fattened upon the city, have a very clear understanding of just how much, or rather how little, the Fusion Administration means in its declaration in favor of public ownership. No so-called good-government movement, composed of the self-styled better elements in any American city has ever shown either the courage or the disinterestedness to really grapple the public utility franchise question. The elements that compose the Fusion movement are always restrained by selfish pecuniary interests, a fear for their investments, and the prospective diminution of their excessive returns from private ownership and operation of public utilities. They stand for superficiality and insincerity in municipal administration, ignoring the sources and the causes of misgovernment while content to gloss and palliate their surface manifestations.
> It is the Democratic purpose in this campaign to strike a blow for true reform, and we are proud to reflect that it is the first time in the history of municipal government in this country that a great political party has brought its organized strength to the service and to the support of this great principle of civic regeneration. Specifically we are in favor of the public ownership and operation of all public utilities, including traction, gas, electricity, and the telephone. The supply of transportation, light, heat, and power is of the utmost importance to the community. The services rendered have become a necessity to the life, health, comfort, convenience, and industry of the city. Through public ownership and operation only can the cost of these indispensable public services be reduced to the cost of similar services in more progressive cities, and thus only can the selfish resistance of the public utility corporations be made to give way to a progressive development of the city in the interest of the people.

As part of the municipal ownership plan the platform states that there will be continued in the public service necessary employes of private corporations whose operations are taken over by the city, to the end that all faithful service employes shall receive the protection and benefit of the civil service laws. The program also calls for the improvement of port conditions and the internal waterways of the city. One plank deals with promised reforms in the Board of Education as follows:

> We regard that function of government which deals with the education of the youth as sacred. We will drive politics and political influence out of the Board of Education. We deplore the attempt of corporations and foundations to control our school system. We will banish the imported Gary system, which aims to make our public schools an annex to the mill and factory. We declare it to be un-American and undemocratic in that it foreshadows the establishment in this country of insidious distinctions between the children of the rich and the children of the poor. That there should be sufficient seating accommodations for all children of school age within the city is fundamental. We promise the children of our citizens every opportunity for a good, sound education that will fit them to take advantage of the benefits of the greatest republic in the world.

A reorganization of the Health Department is promised, with a responsible head located in each borough. The platform states that the "control of the charity trust over our public charities" will be eliminated and that municipal charities will be "restored to the control of municipal authorities." Taking up the west side terminal problem, the platform states that there shall be no monopoly of waterfront given to any railroad nor grant of property or of franchise in perpetuity, and adds:

> Nor shall there be any settlement which shall not include in its provisions the preservation of the artistic and recreation features of Riverside Park and an intelligent co-ordination and rearrangement of passenger transportation facilities to relieve the congestion of traffic through the inadequate Park Avenue tunnel.

The platform sidesteps the proposition of having a garbage disposal plant on Staten Island, declaring:

> We hold that the reducing, rendering, and destruction of garbage and waste, as a municipal function, should be cared for by the municipality and not by private interests, to the end that profits therefrom may accrue to the municipality itself.

Fair and equitable charges on all municipal ferries are promised, as well as the maintenance of the merit system for appointment to public office, a test of the two-platoon system in the Fire Department, and the reclaiming for the city of all void, forfeited, and lapsed public franchises. The platform also pledges the Democratic Party to obtain legislation at Albany on the following subjects:

> Amendments to the Public Service Commission's act providing for the election of the members of the Public Service Commission for the First District, one for each borough, to the end that men more representatve of the people, as well as the several localities, may have the power to regulate the public utilities.
> An amendment to the charter of the city making the office of Corporation Counsel elective and thereby answerable directly to the people.
> An amendment to the State Constitution which will guarantee complete emancipation from State control and interference in the management of affairs that are purely local.
> The power and influence of the administration will be similarly exerted to oppose the imposition of further direct taxes upon the people of the city for State purposes and legislation that seeks to abolish borough or county lines or in any wise to impair local autonomy.

On the subject of alleged Fusion misgovernment the platform has this to say:

> A survey of existing conditions in this city shows nothing to explain, much less to justify, the extravagant boasts put forward by the Fusion administration in its efforts to perpetuate itself by re-election. Since 1913 the annual budget has increased over $26,000,000, and the gross debt has increased nearly $368,000,000, amounting to the enormous total of $1,490,440,000. The interest charges upon this stupendous liability are appalling.
> The inequitable and unjust assessment of real estate and the high rate of taxation have made ownership of real estate in the City of New York a heavy burden, imposing intolerable hardships on the real estate owner and the great masses of the people who pay rent. The lamentable condition of the city's financial affairs is largely due to the unwise and reckless administration of the present Fusion officials, who today stand indicted before the people of the city on charges of extravagance, incompetence, and surrender to favored interests.

Among instances specified as being handled with extravagance and incompetence are the Manhattan Court House plan, the Municipal Building in Brooklyn, the South Brooklyn Marginal Railroad scheme, the surrender of Rockaway Point to the National Government for a fort site, the purchase of Dreamland and Rockaway Parks, the Riverside Drive improvement plan, and alleged fads and fancies in the conduct of the Police Department and in the Board of Education. Continuing, the platform says:

> An administration which responds only to the promptings of self-seeking financial interests which exploit the people for profit can have no definite policy of government which will be of benefit to the masses of this great cosmopolitan city. A vital issue of this election is, Shall the control of the affairs of the city remain in the hands of a financial and social autocracy? The Rockefeller-Morgan group is the chief beneficiary of all the railroads having terminals in this city and of those that lease city piers. They are also largely interested in steamship property and dominate every avenue of distribution of the necessaries of life. They are the controlling factor in virtually every lighting company in our city.
> The present high cost of food and other necessaries is largely due to the greed and selfishness of this anti-social group. They control the banks. They have large holdings in the milk trust, the coal trust, and in most of the corporations which serve the public. In fact, it is no mere coincidence that the interests which are conspicuous in the fight to continue the present administration in power are the chief beneficiaries of every monopoly which afflicts the city. Many franchises of public service corporations have long since expired. Other public franchises are concededly void. Yet such is the power wielded by these interests over the present administration that no sincere move has been made to recover these valuable assets, which belong of right to the people.
> Despite the mounting cost of the city's administration, nothing has been done to ameliorate living conditions in the congested disricts of this city. Disease prevention, hospital treatment for the sick, sanitary control over food supplies, adequate breathing spaces in crowded districts, recreation requirements, the scientific control of food supply, and the regulation of transportation and marketing cost, not to mention other legitimate and highly important functions of the modern city, have been wholly neglected or touched upon in the most insincere and ineffective manner. Such an administration must not be continued in power.

The platform concludes with the statement that the Democratic Party can be depended upon to carry out its pledges and that with the party again in power, a sane, economical, and constructive administration is assured.

"There shall be no backward step taken by the Democratc Party in system or methods which practical experience has justified," the platform adds. "The ideals of good government will be maintained and the substantial welfare of the people of this great city re-established as the chief end and purpose of municipal government."

Ellison Leads Tammany Slate.

William B. Ellison gained strength yesterday among Tammany leaders as their choice for Mayor. Because the time is drawing near when Tammany will have to name its candidate to oppose Mayor Mitchel, Tammany district leaders held a great deal of earnest discussion yesterday of the qualities of the group of men suggested as possible candidates, and it appeared last night that all except Ellison had been rapidly losing ground. Supporters of General Henry De Witt Clinton were still active and will receive a hearing today by the Business Men's League.

The probabilities are that both the Business Men's League, representing real estate interests in the main, and the Democratic Fusion Committee will indorse Ellison. As counsel for various organizations of the police and city employes, it is believed that Ellison would be in a position to make an aggressive campaign against Mayor Mitchel, who is held by Tammany to be unpopular with employes in most departments of the City Government.

With the drift of Tammany sentiment in favor of Ellison, there was a similar movement to settle definitely on the men to run with him. The choice for Controller appeared to be fixed on Congressman J. J. Fitzgerald of Brooklyn. Frank L. Dowling, President of the Board of Aldermen, will probably run for Borough President against Marcus M. Marks, while Sheriff Al Smith seems sure to be the Tammany candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen. Tammany leaders were particularly pleased with the men in view for running mates with Ellison. While the strength of Ellison is considered debatable, the rest of the ticket is considered the strongest that could possibly be put into the field.

GERMAN SAILORS STRICKEN.

Interned Men in Boston Inoculated to Stop Spread of Typhoid.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 7.—Two cases of typhoid fever among the German sailors interned at Gallop's Island in Boston Harbor has caused a cancellation of all visiting privileges, it was announced today. The men affected have been removed to the marine hospital at Chelsea.

To Free Ships for Cotton.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—In a speech, winding up with debate on the Corn Production bill in the House of Commons today, R. E. Prothero, President of the Board of Agriculture, pointed out that if the bill succeeded to the extent expected in adding to the home grown wheat acreage, there would be released sufficient tonnage to bring from America the entire cotton supply required by Great Britain last year.

FUSIONISTS HEAR CROPSEY WILL RUN

Fusionists Not Surprised.

A Fusion leader who is in touch with the Brooklyn developments admitted last night that the Cropsey situation had assumed very disturbing proportions and that some bad news so far as fusion was concerned might be forthcoming soon.

"Yesterday's conference," he said, "was called for the purpose of rounding up the situation and finding out just where Justice Cropsey stood. He has never publicly stated his attitude, but we have known that he has never been eliminated by any means. It would not surprise us in the least if Justice Cropsey has decided to fight Mayor Mitchel in the primaries."

It was announced at Fusion headquarters, 224 Madison Avenue, last night that a Fusion ticket for the Bronx had been agreed upon. The final step in affecting harmony was taken yesterday when Coroner William J. Flynn, who had been a candidate for the nomination for Borough President, withdrew and announced that he would support Thomas W. Whittle, for Borough President, Eugene McGuire, for Sheriff, and the other candidates on the Bronx Fusion ticket. Friends of Mr. Flynn threatened at first to make a fight against Whittle. They appealed to Mayor Mitchel, Fire Commissioner Adamson, the Fusion candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen, and William Hamlin Childs, Chairman of the Fusion Executive Committee.

After going over the matter the Mayor and others took the position that the ticket had already been agreed upon by the Bronx conferees, who were the proper persons to settle it, and they asked Mr. Flynn to surrender his personal aspirations and fall in line. This he finally agreed to do.

The Business Men's League, which is seeking to find a business man for Mayor, announced last night that it would give a hearing today to representatives of real estate interests who are advocating the nomination of General Henry De Witt Hamilton for Mayor. The real estate interests are against the Mitchel administration, it was said, because they believe that real estate owners have not been accorded fair treatment. It was announced at the league's headquarters, 50 East Forty-second Street, that the Hamilton Committee will be the last to be heard and that a final decision as to the candidates to be selected will be reached at a meeting to be held tonight.

General Hamilton is a patient at the New York Hospital suffering from a broken leg and arm. Three days ago he was taken to the hospital in an automobile. The leg and arm were set, and it was said last night that his condition was good. Friends of the General who were visiting him last night refused to discuss the accident.

GEN. O'RYAN APPEALS FOR A MORAL ARMY

Fourth Brigade Held by Lack of Equipment—Guard to be Inspected in Central Park.

Major Gen. John F. O'Ryan, commanding the federalized New York troops, redesignated as the Sixth Division, U. S. A., makes public today a communication he has addressed to the 37,000 men of his command, warning them against drink and other evils which trail the soldier on active duty. Inasmuch as Camp Wadsworth is in South Carolina, a bone-dry State, the General's advice is evidently aimed at what the soldiers will face in France. The letter follows:

"You are about to engage actively in war—in the greatest war in the world's history. The majority of the soldiers of the division are young men. Their future careers are to be affected mightily by what they do and how they act during the period of the war. Right among your comrades in the ranks of the division today are future leaders in public life—Governors, Mayors, ministers, financiers, manufacturers, educators, and great soldiers. In all probability there are some whose lives will be complete failures. In which group do you propose to be? Have you thought of this? The subject is an important one for you. It is because of this and because of the effect of your attitude and habits upon the efficiency of the division that I am addressing you in this personal way.

"If you are new in the military service you will find your life very different from what you have been accustomed to—and probably very different from what you expect. Up to the present your life has been regulated by your family ties, by your employer's requirements, by the influence of your church, and in large measure by your personal views and habits. From now on it is to be regulated for you by the regulations and orders in force in the military service. If you try to 'buck' these rules you are in for an unpleasant time. If you seek to substitute for what is prohibited or required what your own judgment or preferences dictate you will not be 'playing the game'—you will not be a well-oiled cog in the big machine—and this is to be a war of big machinery. On the contrary, you will be a gritty part, you will be out of adjustment, and your summary readjustment will follow.

"If, on the other hand, you can be persuaded at the outset to believe that the rules under which you are to live and to act were formulated by those intensely interested in your well-being and in the efficiency of our forces, and are based upon years of trial—if you can be made to understand this, and, understanding, make it the habit of your daily existence to do with all that is in you what you are given to do, and to refrain absolutely from that which is forbidden, you will make good, and you will soon come to experience the satisfaction which every man enjoys when he knows he is making good.

"In the first place, you will notice in reading this letter that no reference is made to the effect upon your morals of the use of liquor or of uncommendable associations. You are largely the custodians of your own morals. The chaplains will remind you of your moral responsibilities. The plea contained in this letter is based upon other grounds—upon principles of scientific military management. Our job is to whip the enemy hard and with the least loss to ourselves. In training our military machines to do this we must eliminate back-lash, rattles and useless loads. We must have every part healthy, strong and dependable, not part defective, diseased or obsolete.

"This cannot be if we are to permit 'booze' in any form into our military machine. Alcohol, whether you call it beer, wine, whisky, or by any other name, is a breeder of inefficiency. While it affects men differently, the results are the same, in that all affected by it cease for the time to be normal. Some become forgetful, others quarrelsome. Some become noisy, some get sick, some get sleepy; others have their passions greatly stimulated. When you stop to consider the thousands in a division, do you not see how vital to efficiency is the elimination of liquor? If one officer or man is permitted to use liquor, then others will claim the right to do so. How can a division of troops be ever ready—ever up on the bit to drive ahead or to thrust back the enemy's drive—if through the presence of this insidious evil some soldiers forget their orders, or become noisy when silence is essential, fall asleep when every faculty should be alert, or absent from their posts?"

In announcing that the War Department had rescinded its orders terming the New York troops the Twenty-seventh Division Major Edward Olmsted, Assistant Chief of Staff, said that it was done in accordance with the President's proclamation of mobilization. In that document it is stated that guard organizations shall retain their State designation until the time they depart for actual service.

Though the names of Colonels Fiske of the Seventh and Bates of the Seventy-first have been mentioned as probable successor to Brig. Gen. John H. Foote, who was removed from command of the Second Brigade because of physical disability, the opinion at headquarters was that a regular army officer might be detailed to that post. In this connection the selection of Captain W. N. Haskell, who whipped the Sixty-ninth into shape on the border, would find favor, it was said.

CALL FOR NEW ARMY EXPECTED IN QUOTAS

Crowder Preparing Final Set of Rules on Mobilization and Assignments.

RECRUIT DEPOT IN FRANCE

Regiments at Front Will Be Kept Up to Full Strength from a Reservoir There.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Provost Marshal General Crowder and his assistants are at work on the final set of regulations to be promulgated this week to complete the organization of the selective draft army. These regulations will govern actual mobilization of the men selected, and how they are to be assigned.

The only hint of the probable method of mobilization of drafted men lies in a recent ruling by General Crowder, which shows that the Adjutant General may summon the quotas of the districts in increments. Division of each quota into five equal parts is suggested, each part to be called up separately as needed.

Under this arrangement it would be possible to call out at once the men to form the new national army, and to summon later those who are to compose the reserves for all elements of the army. Men temporarily needed in harvest fields or elsewhere would be classified by local boards into these later increments to meet emergency situations in their districts without delaying organization of new forces.

It is regarded as likely that the mobilization regulations soon to be issued will show that the surplus of drafted men is to be used as a recruit reservoir, and that all the men will be put under training as quickly as possible. A recruit depot will be established in France, from which regiments at the front will be kept filled up, drafts of men from the main recruit depot in this country being sent over to this distribution centre as needed. In the same way, sick or wounded men will be returned to the front when recovered, and a steady flow of recruits to maintain active regiments at top-fighting efficiency will be provided in this way.

Statements issued today by the War Department show that preliminary figures place the total force of National Guard taken into the Federal service Aug. 5 at 13,093 officers and 419,834 men. Another statement showed that 180,766 war volunteers had been recruited for the regular service since April 1, leaving only about 2,000 vacancies in the regulars at war strength.

These figures mean that approximately 725,000 men are now under arms, exclusive of the Navy and Marine Corps, to be supplemented within the next few weeks by 687,000 raised under the Selective Draft bill. Of the latter number about 500,000 will compose the third great element of the war army, the national army, and the remainder will go to fill up the regulars and the guard and their reserves.

The National Guard statement shows that only the number of men short of the 419,834 figure, shown by checking of the muster rolls by department commanders and the rejection of any found unfit, will be taken from the draft forces for the guard service. The recruiting service expects to fill the regular army to full war service tomorrow or next day, so that there probably will be a surplus of 150,000 or more men when the full 687,000 of the first increment of the national army is assembled.

In addition, recruiting throughout the country will supplement the excess, all men who volunteer going into the regulars or the National Guard or into the reserve after full war strength is reached.

The mobilization regulations will show how the drafted men are to be assigned. Already the War Department has received countless applications from men certain to be called in the first increment of the draft forces for assignment to some particular arm or branch of the service. Where a man has been summoned by his local board for physical examination, no method exists whereby he may enlist in the regulars and have his service count on the home quota. It is probable, however, that some effort will be made to meet the wishes of the drafted men in this regard as far as possible when they are mobilized. It can only be done to a limited extent, as the regulars and guard, as shown by today's statement, are practically filled up now.

The War Department has taken over recruiting for the National Guard as well as the regulars, the entire guard having now become a part of the army of the United States and having no connection with the States. Today's statement says that about half the men applying for enlistment are within the draft ages. Those accepted will count as credits on subsequent quotas of their districts.

Liberia Declares War.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Liberia, the negro republic on the coast of Africa, has declared war on Germany. Some time ago Liberia broke off diplomatic relations.

The declaration of war now gives opportunity to intern German merchants and others who have been accused of unneutral activities. The United States was advised today of the little republic's action.

definite figures. Mr. Conkling sent an order to every board in the city yesterday to submit full data immediately.

The Federal authorities also want to know the men who failed to respond when called for examination. The names of these men are to be posted in each district and the delinquents listed as "accepted for military service." The first to post such a list was Board 126, Ninety-third Street and Amsterdam Avenue. There are thirty-eight names on the list. Three are known to be in hospitals. They are Arthur B. Many Ignore the Call.

In some districts it is stated that more than seventy-five men ignored the call. In many instances the letters of notification were returned from the Post Office marked "not at address," although the addresses were those given in the registration on June 5. The authorities will look up every man who fails to appear.

Notwithstanding gloomy reports from some districts, as, for example, the Fourth, in the Bronx, where of 123 men examined yesterday only five waived exemption, Mr. Conkling and other officials were optimistic, and said that New York's quota would be in sight within ten days. There are still a few boards which have not started examining. Board 136, at 221 West 120th Street, began yesterday, and Board 130, at 143 Baxter Street, it was said last night, would begin tomorrow morning. Board 96, at the Bowery Y. M. C. A., in Third Street, won't start before Saturday, and possibly not until next Monday. Board 127 was nicknamed the "leisurely board" yesterday because of a report that it meets only on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Among the boards which came to the front yesterday with good reports were 66 and 82 in Brooklyn. The former got 79 soldiers out of 103 men examined, and the latter 72 fighting men out of 131.

In Manhattan Board 92 examined 92 men yesterday, of whom 54 were "ready to fight." In the Bronx conditions are the worst in the city, judged by last night's reports. Board 12 examined 97 men and got 12 fighters. Board 18 got five men out of 112. Board 20 made the best showing with 20 exemption waivers out of 125 men examined.

Complaint was made to Mr. Conkling yesterday that the Eye and Ear Infirmary had refused to examine, without compensation, men of draft age sent by boards to have their eyes tested. Dr. Pedersen called the infirmary and learned a clerk had refused to enter a few men except upon payment of the customary dispensary fee of 10 or 25 ments. The clerk had not been instructed to enter men free, and the hospital authorities immediately remedied the situation.

Does Alimony Exempt?

Several members of the exemption boards have asked Mr. Conkling to rule on the status of men who pay alimony. A lot of alimony payees are claiming exemption as the sole support of divorced wives. The question has been submitted to the War Department.

William Henkel, Jr., Chairman of Board 119, 238 East Eighteenth Street, was disappointed at the showing of his district. "We will be lucky if we get one man out of every eight," said Mr. Henkel last night. "We called 500 men to fill our quota of 191, and we are now calling a second 500, and may have to issue a third call. The natives are all right, but it is different with the alien-born population, which is large in this district. They want to take all they can from the country and give nothing in return."

Police Commissioner Woods received from Secretary of War Baker yesterday a letter in which the Secretary unofficially said that he believed members of the Police and Fire Departments were not exempt. The Secretary said the matter came within the province of the Provost Marshal General, but he personally thought the Provost Marshal would rule that the men are subejct to the call.

Judge John F. McIntyre in General Sessions a few weeks ago called attention to the increasing number of men of conscript age being convicted of misdemeanors, and said the belief seemed to prevail that conviction barred a man from military service. This impression is wrong.

Big Prices for Exemption Blanks.

Deputy Attorney General Roscoe Conkling and the Federal authorities were informed yesterday that lawyers and notaries co-operating with members of Exemption Boards were making large profits drawing exemption claims for registrants who could not get blanks through regular channels. There has been great scarcity of these blanks at some exemption offices, and many have had stenographers write out forms or have had them drawn by lawyers. According to information that reached the Deputy Attorney General, members of some Exemption Boards materially assisted the lawyers by telling registrants where to find them. In one instance reported the name of a favored lawyer was prominently displayed on a sign at the Exemption Board office.

Deputy Attorney General Conkling, the Mayor's Committee, and the Federal authorities took immediate action. Philip J. McCook of the Mayor's Committee referred the matter to United States Attorney Francis G. Caffey, who promised to take any measures possible under the law. Later John C. Knox, Mr. Caffey's assistant, reiterated this promise. "This office," he said, "is as anxious as the Mayor's Committee or any patriotic, decent citizen to stamp out any exploitation of those called in the draft."

Deputy Attorney General Conkling notified the office of one lawyer involved that his case would be referred to the Bar Association after he had heard several registrants who had paid from $5 to $15 each for exemption claim blanks.

"This is despicable," he said. "I am a lawyer myself, and know that a lawyer is entitled to a legitimate fee. But this practice, growing out of the shortage of exemption blanks, is not legitimate."

The Deputy Attorney General was especially concerned because a Bronx neighborhood newspaper had published the assertion that he had sanctioned the practice. The newspaper mentioned Otto Henschel of 2 Rector Street, living at 810 Ritter Place, the Bronx, as one who had been drawing exemption blanks for persons living in District 13.

It was announced at Exemption Board 13, Jennings Street and Prospect Avenue, the Bronx, that Henschel was, until recently, a volunteer worker at that place. "When the exemption blanks ran out," Philip Storminger of 1,338 Prospect Avenue, Chairman of the board, explained to Deputy Attorney General Conkling, "we referred people desiring them to Mr. Henschel, knowing that he knew how they should be drawn.

"The calls for exemption blanks being numerous, we had a sign put up, saying that Mr. Henschel would draw copies for any one who called on him. As soon as we heard of a complaint we took the sign down, and we have not referred any one to him since."

Blank Cost $15.

The board's attention was called to the charges alleged to have been made by Henschel when C. A. Kelly, 1,317 Franklin Avenue, sought exemption on the plea of a family. Kelly said Henschel charged him $15 for an exemption blank, although he charged two others who went to him $10 and $5, respectively.

Mr. Conkling called Henschel's office on the telephone, but was told by an employe that he was not in. At his home last night Mr. Henschel told a TIMES reporter that he had no statement to make.

Judge Martin T. Manton in the United States District Court yesterday sent two men charged with failure to register to serve sixty days in the penitentiary at Trenton, N. J.

MORE ARRESTS IN OKLAHOMA.

Fifty Draft Resisters Captured as Disorders Subside.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 7.—Confidence that a majority of the residents of Central Oklahoma are loyal to the United States and willing to do military service despite organized resistance to the draft on the part of a few was expressed tonight by Governor Robert L. Williams, in commenting on the fact that normal conditions virtually have been restored in the counties where three men have been killed in the efforts of posses to quell opposition to the draft.

"I did not want to send troops in there except as a last resort," the Governor said. "To let the citizens themselves put down the trouble was unassailable proof that as a whole the people were absolutely loyal and thoroughly amenable to law and order."

Fifty more draft resisters were arrested today, including two alleged leaders, "Doc" Caleb and a man named Fink. It was announced that Roy Crane of Oak Grove and John Barnhardt of Wewoka, said to be organizers of the "Working Class Union," were two of the men for whom the Government would ask the death penalty on charges of treason. The rank and file of the men involved in the disturbance, most of them tenant farmers, probably will have to face the lesser indictment of conspiracy to evade the draft. About 300 men have been taken into custody, and the problem of feeding their dependents will demand attention in a few days.

The wounding of William McEwen, Deputy Sheriff, when guarding a railroad bridge at Wetumka, the capture of John Harjo, notorious snake leader of the Indian working class union membership of Seminole County, and the confession of Mate Harris that he ordered the burning of a bridge near Francis were late developments of the night.

"The new organization provides for no cavalry in the division. The division as at present constituted calls for one regiment of cavalry. The present division also calls for one aero squadron, while the new plan calls for none, the aircraft units being otherwise provided for.

"The order specifies sixteen divisions of the national army to be organized and numbered from 76 to 91, both inclusive, and states the numbers to be given to each of the different units in each division. It provides that the sixteen divisions of the National Guard now organized shall be reorganized to conform to the new plan as soon as practicable after their arrival in the training camps.

"The regular army, the National Guard, and the national army will all conform to the same plan."

So far as the regulars are concerned, it has been understood that the reorganization already has been carried out for the units now in France.

COMMEND FOOD BILL WHITMAN OPPOSES

Dairy, Fruit, and Cold-Storage Interests Speak for Committee Measure at Hearing.

T. R. CALLED A SLACKER

But Senator Brown Immediately Takes It Back—Opposition to Perkins for Food Controller.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Aug. 7.—Disapproval of food control in this State by George W. Perkins and approval in general of the War Committee's Food Control bill, which has been denounced by Governor Whitman as a measure drafted for the benefit of the cold storage interests, were voiced at the second hearing on the bill held in the Senate Chamber today before the War Committee. With one exception, the speakers represented the dairy, fruit-growing, and cold storage industries.

The feature of the bill most commended by the speakers was that against which the Governor had directed his severest criticism, the naming of the three members of the proposed Food Control Commission with Theodore Roosevelt heading the list.

"One of the best features of the bill," said Judge Isaac S. Segnor, who represented the fruit growers of Orleans County, "is the naming of the men who are to compose the Food Control Commission. Not only do we think that the Legislature ought to name these men, but we think also that the people ought to know that the Legislature has made sure before adjourning that they will accept. Fear of the personnel of the commission is greater among the food producers and distributers up State than of the bill itself, though it is drastic in many respects."

"Naturally," said Senate Leader Elon R. Brown, who is head of the Joint Committee on War Measures of the Senate and Assembly, "the committee felt some delicacy and refrained from asking the distinguished men who were named if they would accept before their names were written into the bill. But I am glad to say that up to date we have found only one slacker, and he undoubtedly had a good excuse."

The reference to Colonel Roosevelt as a "slacker" stirred the crowd in the Senate Chamber to laughter. A little later Senator Brown said he desired to withdraw what he had said "flippantly" with reference to Colonel Roosevelt.

"I want to correct any inference that might be drawn from my unfortunate and ill-considered remark," said the Senator. "I will call no man a slacker who has three sons on the front in France."

The opposition to Mr. Perkins was voiced more openly by E. S. Beckwith of Albion, representing the fruit growers of Western New York and the Cold Storage Association, than by any other speaker.

The one speaker at today's hearing who represented the consumers was Mrs. J. Wells Wentworth of New York City, Chairman of the Food Committee of the Woman's Suffrage Party in the Nineteenth Assembly District. She pronounced the bill cumbersome and unwieldy and not designed to give the necessary relief to the consumer. She urged that the bill be amended so as to provide a practical plan of food control.

Spokesmen for the fruit growers and apple shippers told the committee that, with the apple crop in this State a failure, the Western apple growers refused to send their products to the warehouses here, because they feared that the Food Control bill would provide for the confiscation of foodstuffs stored. The fruit growers wanted all fruit exempted from the operations of the law. Senator Brown took pains to reassure them, and to point out that the bill did not go any further than the Federal Food bill in that respect.

John D. Miller of Susquehanna, Penn., speaking for the Dairymen's League, urged the establishment of a $300,000 milk distributing plant in New York City under State auspices.

The large delegation from New York which had been expected failed to put in an appearance. At the conclusion of the hearing it was announced that the committee would meet again tomorrow at 11 A. M. The special session of the Legislature will reconvene tomorrow night.

$16,000,000 CLOTH ORDER.

Navy Lets the Biggest Series of Uniform Contracts in History.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Navy Department has just contracted for 4,500,000 yards of woolen uniform cloth at a cost of more than $16,000,000 to meet the enormous wartime requirements and provide for future needs. These contracts constitute the largest purchase of woolen cloth ever made for the navy, and one of the most important single contracts for goods placed in the history of the trade here or abroad.

With the placing of an order for 1,000,000 yards with the American Woolen Company of New York, substantially all contracts embraced in the department's schedule in blue uniform cloth have now been awarded. The amount of wool in the grease required for the manufacture of the cloth is upward of 15,000,000 pounds. It will be sufficient for the manufacture of about 1,000,000 shirts or jumpers, 800,000 pairs of trousers, and 350,000 overcoats.

tration; it is the people's war, at least so it has been stated, as we are informed that it is a war for democracy. And yet it cannot become a people's war until and unless the people are taken into the confidence of the people's Government.

"I would like to see some connecting link established between the executive and the legislative branches of this Government. The management of a war waged for democracy must not be a thing remote from the people.

"Both of our great allies, England and France, have recognized this state of affairs, and both have met it along the lines suggested by the provisions of the pending bill, which received an overwhelming and convincing vote in the Senate. Great Britain recognized the needfulness of co-operation between the executive and legislative branches of its Government. The members of the Ministry of Great Britain urged such a relationship upon their Parliament. The British Ministry is responsible directly to Parliament; how much more needful does it appear that such a co-operative arrangement ought to be established between the two branches of Government when, as in the United States, the Cabinet owes no responsibility to the legislature!

"In France not one connecting link, but two or three, or more, exist between the Ministry and the Chamber. The committees have open sessions, they are permitted to have closed sessions as well; the understanding is complete, the labors of the committee in making popular the measures which of necessity arise in the great emergency of war are of incalculable value in the development of the power of the French nation."

Senator Wadsworth attacked the proposal in the Food bill to fix a minimum price of $2 for wheat during 1918, saying that no man, "whether he be a Hoover or not," could attempt to say that a flat minimum price of $2 would be fair to all farmers throughout the country.

"What may be a fair price in Ohio or Kansas or some other State might not be a fair price elsewhere," argued Senator Wadsworth. "The price to be fixed for wheat depends upon the productivity of wheat fields in different localities. It varies in different States. A field yielding twenty-five bushels to the acre should command a higher minimum price than one yielding forty bushels. This minimum price is unfair, and I am against it. This whole matter of regulating food products is so complicated in this bill that I predict infinite trouble for the country when an effort is made to carry it out."

Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, in a speech lasting an hour, called upon the Senate to stop talking about the Food bill and pass it at once. The Senator alluded to an interview in which Oscar Staus was quoted as saying, "There is no politics in this country now except on Capitol Hill."

"As I said yesterday, I am rapidly coming to the conclusion that it is about time that we forgot, during the war, partisan alignments in the Senate," said Senator Williams. "I am glad to say a majority of the Democratic and a majority of the Republican Party have forgottem them. But there is a little group of men on each side who have formed themselves into a sort of third party anti-Administration and, in a certain sense, anti-American Party. Somehow they have either consciously or unconsciously placed themselves in the attitude of obstructing or delaying or opposing everything that goes toward seeing this war issue through to a victorious end.

"The majorities on both sides should get together and say to these two little groups: 'You have danced your ballet, you have sung your song. America is tired of you, and we are tired of you. We want you to do something.'

"This is not a partisan domestic question; it is an international question. It is not a question between Woodrow Wilson and Congress. It is not a question between the American Administration and some Americans, unless those Americans are disloyal. This is a question between America and Germany.

"It is time that the men in this chamber were lining themselves up, without partisanship, as pro-Administrationists and pro-Americans, or else, frankly and bravely, as anti-Administrationists and anti-Americans. I, for one, am ready to take my stand.

"Everybody who knows me knows that I am a dyed-in-the-wool Bourbon Democrat. But when a great international question like this confronts the entire American people, when my boys must go to the front to be maimed or killed and the boys of other citizens, equally worthy and in many cases more so, must go, I confess to a little bit of impatience with the men who cannot realize the situation.

"Those of you who followed Roosevelt, follow him now. He is setting you an example. Those of you who followed Taft, follow him now. He is setting you an example. Those of us who have followed Woodrow Wilson and would follow him to the death, under the Constitution and the laws of the country, follow him now. He is setting a glorious and loyal and able example.

"All three of these men have proved their Americanism. As far as war legislation is concerned, these three men might as well be standing on the same platform. They are all speaking the language of the American tribe.

"They are tired, the country is tired, and two-thirds even of this Senate is tired and a larger proportion of the other House is tired of constant gabble-festing, constant gabbing about nothing—tired of gentlemen intoxicating themselves, without even enlivening any one else, through the exuberance of their verbosity."

Senator Williams remarked that when his attention was called to what he characterized as the "absolute spiritual disloyalty of the German-edited newspapers," he had said: "Let them talk. The more you let men talk and write, the more you find out about them."

"We not only know how we want to vote and why we want so to vote, but each one of us, in true Senatorial dignity and egotism, thinks that he knows better than anybody else in this chamber. So why use up the time of the American people in this gabble-festing—like ganders hissing at one another on a pond bank so as to show off before the goose?"

Speaking in opposition to the conference report, Senator Gronna pronounced it a "victory for the Standard Oil Company and the grain exchanges of the country," declaring there was nothing in it to control prices of the oils the farmer needs. Senator Chamberlain interrupted Mr. Gronna to deny that the oil companies benefited under the bill.

tins of ether. Because of the shortage of anaesthetics in France, the Red Cross War Council, in addition, has authorized Major Murphy to establish, as soon as practicable, a central plant to manufacture nitrous oxygen or "laughing gas," the most effective and harmless of anaesthetics for short operations.

American machinery will be shipped to France for this purpose, and American operatives will be sent over to conduct the plant.

Also, by reason of the shortage of surgical apparatus, the Red Cross has planned to establish in France a small factory for the repair of surgical apparatus and the manufacture of the more simple instruments. Four men, expert in the repair of orthopedic appliances, are to go to France immediately, and the necessary manufacturing machinery will be sent over as soon as it can be obtained.

MISS RANKIN URGES CONTROL OF MINES

SAYS PRODUCTION LAGS

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Demanding legislation to enable the President to take over and operate the copper mines in Arizona and Montana where strikes are now curtailing production, Miss Jeannette Rankin, member of Congress, made her first speech in the House today.

Miss Rankin was heard by crowded galleries and practically every member of the House who is now in Washington. She was liberally applauded as she assailed the "Copper Trust."

Miss Rankin told the House that the labor troubles in Butte were largely due to the "rustling card" system. Without a rustling card, she said, miners could not obtain work, and if they protested against that treatment they were deprived of employment by the Anaconda Copper Company. Upon the President of the company, John D. Ryan of New York, Miss Rankin placed the chief responsibility for the labor unrest in her State.

Miss Rankin introduced a resolution to empower the President to take over and operate "metalliferous mines, the product of which is a necessary raw material in the manufacture of supplies for the nation's defense."

Miss Rankin said she had brought the copper situation to the attention of various Government officials here without making any progress in her efforts to bring about a settlement. Mr. Ryan, she said, made no reply to her telegrams asking for concessions in behalf of the striking miners.

"You have been informed by the daily press that the big copper mines in the West—in Arizona and in Montana—are not operating to their fullest capacity," said Miss Rankin. "This is due to the fact that the mine owners and the mine workers are unable to agree. The result has been an alarming decrease in the output in copper. According to an estimate of the Council of the National Defense only 12,000,000 pounds of copper was produced in Butte in the month of July, while the normal output is 30,000,000 a month. The disagreement has also meant great lawlessness. In Bisbee hundreds of men were deported, in complete contempt for law and order. In Butte a man was lynched by masked men.

"As our laws read today there is no means of handling the situation. I am advised that the President has no real power by which to act. Therefore, I am introducing this resolution, which I hope the committee will have ready to report to Congress when the absent members return.

"For some years the Anaconda Copper Mining Company has been using what is called in Butte 'the rustling card system.' This rustling card system is practically a blacklist on a national scale—or perhaps it had better be called a 'white list.' It has effectively discouraged the men from organizing. It has prevented them from obtaining the enforcement of laws requiring safety devices in the mines. It has caused them to hesitate to discuss their grievances on the outside. The conditions of the mines have grown more and more unsafe. I have had heartbreaking letters from the wives of some of the miners, saying that when their husbands went to work in the morning they never knew whether they would ever return, and that they lived in constant anxiety.

"On June 8, 160 men were burned in a fire in one mine. This was the climax. The men stopped work. The workers knew that they would never be safe as long as the rustling card system existed, for under that system every man who complained of conditions or reported dangers or endeavored to form an organization was laid off for one reason or another, and it would be impossible for him to obtain work again in any mine in Montana or elsewhere.

"John D. Ryan of New York, the President of the Anaconda Copper Company, is the man responsible for this situation. You are probably all familiar with Mr. Ryan's name in connection with his recent affiliation with the activities of the American Red Cross. If Mr. Ryan says the rustling card system must be abolished it will be. I have tried in vain to draw this fact to his attention, however. My telegrams to Mr. Ryan have been received, but as yet I have received no response."

Miss Rankin also declared that the copper companies had refused to accept the 16.67 cents a pound for copper at which the Government had been purchasing, and were awaiting action by the Committee on War Purchases.

MAYOR IS EMPHATIC IN REYNOLDS'S DEFENSE

Denies Charges Made by William Bullock and Denounces Attack Upon His Friend.

William Bullock, Director of the Bureau of City Inquiry, yesterday again accused ex-Senator William H. Reynolds of being secretly interested in the sale of Rockaway Park to the city and of having received special favors from Mayor Mitchel. The Mayor emphatically denied the charges, and while he made it plain that he would enter into no controversy with Director Bullock, he said he intended to defend Mr. Reynolds because the latter was his friend.

"In the first place," said the Mayor, "we all know the motives which animate the author. If Mr. Bullock has any knowledge of bribes being paid—I suppose he means that they were paid to city officials—and he does not place his information before the proper authorities he is compounding a felony. As far as the city's real estate transactions are concerned Senator Reynolds had no interest in the property acquired by the city when the city bought it. Public opinion demanded the acquisition of a park at the Dreamland site and at Rockaway. The properties in which Mr. Reynolds was interested, directly or indirectly, have been treated no differently than any other property the city acquired except in the case of Dreamland, where the city fought the findings of the condemnation board more vigorously than usual, having carried those findings to the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals.

ARMY AT WAR STRENGTH IN NEXT TWO DAYS

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. — There is every indication tonight that the army will round out its maximum war strength in the next two days. A total of 1,416 recruits were obtained on Monday, leaving only 3,132 men to be enlisted to bring the army to its war strength of about 300,000 men.

Pennsylvania, which is the banner State for army recruits, and New York, which presses the Keystone State closely for honors, are both still going strong. Between the two of them they have contributed over 40,000 men to the regular army. The daily statement issued by Adjt. Gen. McCain follows:

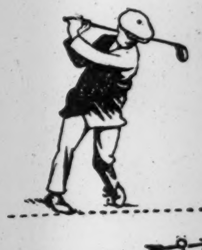
A Page From Our Book About Golf



PIVOTING

ONE of the most essential things in driving a golf ball is getting the body into the blow. The body should not sway but turn, using the spinal column as an axis. At the top of the swing the left knee, hip and shoulder should be facing the ball. At the finish of the swing it is almost the reverse, except that the right knee is pointed in the direction the ball has taken. A slightly built player can get a very long drive by proper pivoting combined, of course, with perfect timing of the shot.

TAKING UP OUR BURDEN.

The Senate has proposed a tax bill which will raise two billion dollars. It is the greatest burden ever put upon any people, treble the amount paid by us before the war, double the amount paid by England now, and England raises a larger proportion of war expenses by taxation than any other country. These burdens would have been thought incredible, unendurable, but for the education through which the world has passed under German compulsion.

Everywhere the experience has been similar. The price of making democracy safe is worth paying, for life would not be worth living if it were not paid. And in all countries the burden has been found less crushing than economists have feared. In war there are both economies and profits, both moral and material. Never has it been imagined, still less realized, how prodigious is the capacity for the creation of goods under modern methods of quantity production. If capitalists and workers had co-operated with equal zeal in times of peace, want might have been banished from the earth. The amazing production of the instruments of destruction, if devoted to meeting the demands of consumption, would have produced a divisible surplus of goods comparable to the incredible cost of war. It has been a misfortune with both present and future compensations. In the present it supplies the means through united effort to defeat the German conspiracy against the world's freedom. How otherwise could Germany have been beaten? For the future it creates the hope that the lesson now taught will not be lost, and that through intensive work by capital, labor, and machinery the burdens may be reduced sooner than has seemed probable, and the blessing of plenty be attained as otherwise would not be possible.

There is no leading country in the world where this is not true in general, and it is true of ourselves in particular. There are so many of us, and we are so rich, that all comparisons of totals for us in relation to other nations are misleading. We shall bear our billions of taxes easily, even with prosperity, and all the more certainly in proportion that the taxes are wisely laid. In that respect, also, our experience has been favorable through the improvement of the proposals originally made. No doubt there is still room for constructive criticism, for the details of the bill baffle mastery at a sitting. Congress seems unable to produce a bill without using thousands of words itself, and authorizing the Treasury to use thousands more in meeting points overlooked by Congress. Both houses show an aversion to doing anything as it has been done before, to following a beaten track where the rough places have been found by experience and removed.

For example, the Senate has restored the bank check tax, but it has not availed itself to the full of the stamp tax resources as they have been developed on previous occasions. Instead we have many new taxes, with fresh details and inconveniences. The Senate has surpassed the House in the concentration of taxes. No less than two-thirds of the additional revenue needed, and about one-half of the total revenue, will come from income and war-profit taxes. The Senate provides no less than $362,000,000 more than the House from sources as little objectionable as any source can be. And the Senate improves the manner of the tax, as well as increases the total. The House provided an "excess profits" tax, calculated upon a difficult and perhaps impractical estimate of capital. The Senate substitutes a tax based upon comparison of incomes according to records already in the Treasury's possession, and within the knowledge of the payers of the future taxes. Both in the matters of income and profits taxation our rates are less than those imposed by our allies. Their experience in such methods has been longer than ours, and supports the Senate's proposal. The proportion of the year's revenue to be raised by taxation is very high, much higher than has been the practice of England, but it is diminished if we take into account our bond issues to provide funds for our allies.

The Senate's proposal of taxes upon drinks and tobacco is beyond criticism. Nobody has to pay them, and those who escape them may derive a benefit besides the saving of the tax payment. The excise taxes upon the "breakfast table"—tea, coffee, cocoa, sugar—are approved by the world's experience. The Senate Committee estimates that if all the taxes named are paid by the consumer the total will be 75 cents apiece per year. How could there be found a better way to raise $86,000,000 for war purposes?

These are the highest points of the Senate's affirmative action. Its negative action will equally commend itself to most. Only the proposer of the "morally and economically unsound" retroactive tax on incomes of 1916 to be paid in 1918 can regret its disappearance. The same may be said of the proposal to impose tariff taxation without consulting anew the voters who rejected it. The Senate negatives also the increase of the inheritance tax. It is cumulative upon the similar tax in forty States, and it is to be feared that the casualties of the war might make it peculiarly obnoxious to the country, as unjust to the dependents upon the country's defenders.

NO PASSPORTS FOR ENEMY USE.

The State Department has very properly, and of necessity, declined to issue a passport to MORRIS HILLQUIT under which he would attend the Socialist conference at Stockholm. This conference is called by the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates in Petrograd. So far as anything Russian can at present be said to have an official character, the Stockholm conference would represent the Russian Government. Our custom and our laws do not permit private citizens to carry on negotiations in respect to public affairs with foreign Governments or their representatives. That is the exclusive business of the Government at Washington.

But if this passport were issued to Mr. HILLQUIT it would be put to a use that would give aid and comfort to the enemy. The character and the intentions of the Socialist Party in this country, to which Mr. HILLQUIT belongs, are not concealed. It is openly disloyal, it denounces the war, and the Government for participating in the war. The members of the party who are loyal Americans in thought and feeling have withdrawn from it. The remnant is very largely pro-German, and altogether anti-American.

The Socialists and radicals of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates have brought Russia to the verge of ruin and anarchy. The council for a time showed itself the most dangerous enemy of that democracy which the revolution sought to establish. Now it has become alarmed, and has drawn back somewhat from its extreme positions; it nevertheless continues to be a source of danger for Russia and for the Allies. The Socialists of the council have been completely fooled by Germany. Their proclamation of "no annexations, no indemnities," has visibly served German ends, it is contrary to Russian interests. It means just what the German agents in Petrograd intended it to mean, the restoration of the status quo, leaving Germany a continuing menace to civilization. The Socialist conference at Stockholm can serve no other cause than that of Germany. The State Department would be guilty of an incredible folly if it should encourage the attendance of friends of Germany in this country by issuing passports to them.

A SERIOUS MILITARY MISTAKE.

The public comment in all parts of the country on the reported intention of the War Department to relieve the commanders of the military departments from all authority over the various encampments of troops within their boundaries will be of a kind that the Administration will not be pleased to hear. It is almost incredible that the order should have been given, but the report telegraphed to THE TIMES from Charlotte, N. C., is verified by the Washington authorities. It has been thought in New York that the only plausible excuse for the transfer of Major Gen. LEONARD WOOD from the command of the Eastern Department was the benefit to the country which would be assured by the employment of his unquestioned administrative ability and gift of organization in the development of large bodies of new troops. There are more camps in the Southeastern Department than in any other. But the intention of the Government, it seems, is not to make use of General WOOD's skill at all. The various camps are to be under the sole control of Brigadier Generals, some not yet appointed, who will be directly responsible "to the Secretary of War "and the highly organized bureaus "under his supervision."

This is bad judgment. The "highly organized" bureaus of the army are not held in great esteem either by soldiers or by civilians who come in contact with them. The division of military authority is already so great that there is danger of a scandal before long. The bureaus should be wholly subservient to a competent General Staff. The department commanders should be in the control of the General Staff. All the troops in their departments should be under their control.

What is the idea of the War Department? What is the impulse that causes it to create inevitable confusion in a great national crisis? The new order applies to General WOOD more than to any other department commander because there are more camps within the boundaries of his command than in any other. But the order is a slight, also, to Generals BELL, EDWARDS, BARRY, and LIGGETT. The transfers of Generals BELL and LIGGETT last Spring, however, were practically promotions. General WOOD, who had gained so large a measure of public esteem, was obviously moved down a step. There was a great and quite excusable protest at the time. It was freely said that the Administration was angry with WOOD because he had foreseen the coming of war and had exerted his influence to arouse the country to a sense of the need of preparation for defense. The country owes much to General WOOD. The success of the officers' training camps is due to him. What he said in the days of anxiety preceding the declaration of war has been amply justified. Our lack of preparation, our lack of national common sense, were exactly as he said. The people of all parts of the country appreciate his services. There is no need to dwell upon the esteem in which he is held in the East. In the South his coming was hailed with enthusiasm. His sagacity and energy have created a most favorable impression in that part of the country. The Administration will make a sad mistake if it fails to avail itself of the best services of so valuable a military commander.

Quite apart, however, from any consideration of General WOOD's just claim upon the country, the plan to divide military authority in time of war is a bad plan, the plan to place so great reliance on the far from competent Washington bureaus is a bad plan, and the determination of the Secretary of War, a civilian without military training, to make himself a war lord, regardless of the knowledge derived from study and experience which the military heads of the army possess, will not meet with public approval. Public approval in its conduct of the war, we infer, is what the Administration most desires at this time.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' BALLOTS

The Brobdingnagian war ballot puzzled and confused our soldiers on the Mexican border last year. Whom wouldn't it puzzle and confuse? Some soldiers voted for nominees for one office who were candidates for another like office; some for candidates in other districts than their own. Thus votes were made null. The number of American soldiers training here or abroad is already considerable. In 1918 it will be immense. If they are to vote, let them have an intelligible ballot, not a series of enigmas.

The Honest Ballot Association of New York proposes that the election law be so amended that the Secretary of State be required to print upon the ballot the names of all the nominees for offices to be elected by all the voters of the State and all the voters in this city. The names of nominees for offices in "such other political sub-"divisions as are large enough to war-"rant it" may be printed or not, in his discretion.

Under the present law, soldiers' and sailors' ballots must be cast not later than twenty days before election. Since independent nominees for State offices may decline twenty days before election, for county offices eighteen days before election, the Secretary of State cannot print the names of nominees, for the use of soldiers and sailors, unless their elections are brought nearer the general election day. The Honest Ballot Association therefore proposes that soldiers' and sailors' elections be held ten, instead of twenty, days before the home election. Even then, the names will have to be cabled and the tickets printed abroad for the use of those of our military and naval forces there.

Both proposals seem sound. It may be said that fighting, not voting, is the business of soldiers and sailors. There may be times when a vote is just as necessary as a gun for the support of the army, the navy, the war, and the United States.

A MARIONETTE CABINET.

When the great German "crisis" was grappled with so grandly by Chancellor MICHAELIS, he met the demand for peace by declaring that Germany would accept only a victor's peace, and that with that understanding he had no objection to the Reichstag's adopting a resolution declaring for a peace without conquest. Germany was to get what she would get by "forced acquisitions," only she was not to call it a process of "forced acquisition." As for the demand for democracy, he met that by proposing to give the political parties some Government jobs, provided they were accepted on the clear understanding that their holders should have nothing to do with the direction of affairs, which was to remain in the hands of the Kaiser and his servants. Lest we be accused of distorting MICHAELIS's words—and we admit that his answer to the demand for democracy sounds too crudely insolent to be true—let us reprint his exact language:

> I also consider it desirable that the relations of confidence between Parliament and the Government should be made closer by calling to the leading executive positions men who, in addition to their conciliatory character, possess the confidence of the great parties in the popular representative body. All this is, of course, possible only on the assumption that the other side recognizes that the constitutional right of the Imperial Administration to conduct our policy must not be narrowed. I am not willing to permit the conduct of affairs to be taken from my hands.

This "concession" to democracy, which was no concession at all, is now carried out. Of course it was not MICHAELIS who was speaking, but the Kaiser himself; it was the Kaiser, through MICHAELIS, his mouthpiece, who said, "I am not willing to per-"mit the conduct of affairs to be "taken from my hands." With this understanding, this recognition by "the other side"—that is, the people—that some of their number can "be "called to the leading executive posi-"tions" provided they keep their hands off "the right of the Imperial Administration to conduct our policy," that administration announces the names of the men so favored. What difference does it make who they are? Why spend time and ink endeavoring to conjecture the "leanings" of KUEHLMANN or WALDRAFF or some other puppet thus advanced into a position of nominal consequence? Of what importance is it that KUEHLMANN is said to have opposed the submarine war, or to have been an anti-annexationist, when he takes office on the understanding that he shall keep his mouth shut and obey orders? A dispatch from Copenhagen speculates upon the question whether KUEHLMANN or Vice Chancellor HELFFERICH will be "the real director of foreign "policies under the administration of "Dr. MICHAELIS." It seems an unprofitable speculation, since it was so recent as July 19 that the Kaiser answered that question fully and convincingly. It was on that date that he, speaking through the mouth of MICHAELIS, said:

> All this is, of course, possible only on the assumption that the other side recognizes that the constitutional right of the Imperial Administration to conduct our policy must not be narrowed. I am not willing to permit the conduct of affairs to be taken from my hands.

"All this" means the appointment of representatives of the different parties to offices which they are to hold in silence. The Kaiser has done as he promised; he has given jobs to different parties, the rebellious Centrists doing especially well. He has made no false pretenses; he told the German people on July 19 that he would give them nothing but husks, and husks he has given them.

REBUKING OBSTRUCTIONISTS.

Senator CHAMBERLAIN of Oregon performed a public service when he charged Senator GORE of Oklahoma with "knifing" the Food Control bill at every possible opportunity. That fact needed to be stated frankly and dispassionately in the Senate, so that the people of the whole country should bear it in mind. For the time will come when the obstruction of essential war measures in Congress will not be viewed so calmly by Americans. When that time comes, it will be well for them to remember the harm Senator GORE and others have accomplished, the worse harm they might have accomplished if the patriotic majority had not prevented it. The Food Control bill has been deliberately held up in the Senate for many weeks. The welfare of this country demanded a strong food control law not later than July 1. Yet while August advanced we have been obliged to listen to the voice of REED of Missouri raised against it. The end of this obstruction of the Food bill is set for today, when the Senate takes its long-delayed vote, and by Saturday the bill should be a law.

The World of this city also performed a valuable public service yesterday when it placed in parallel columns REED's unwarranted charges against Mr. HOOVER, charges put into words for no other purpose than to delay acceptance of the conference report, and a clear statement of the things Mr. HOOVER has done, without Congressional authority, pending the passage of the bill. That record alone proves his fitness for the post of Food Administrator. Senator WILLIAMS of Mississippi expressed public opinion yesterday in his vigorous denunciation of the men who obstruct war measures. Party alignment has almost been forgotten, when war measures have been considered, by a large majority of both houses. But there are, as Mr. WILLIAMS declared, a few men on both sides who have formed themselves into an anti-Administration and an anti-American party. They have "put themselves in the attitude of op-"posing everything that goes to carry "on the war."

> It is time for the majority of the Democratic and Republican Parties to get together and say to these two little groups, "You have danced your ballet, "you have sung your song. America "is tired of you and we are tired of "you. We want you to do something."

The voice of JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS, the mind of every patriotic American. The President's desire that Congress should get through with the Food bill and the War Revenue bill, and take a long vacation, should be realized. There is nothing else for Congress to do, and its presence in Washington is disturbing. Save us from "gabbing" for three months more.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Curious German Grievance. Another illustration of German inability to reason like other people, or to draw from observed facts any conclusion except the exact opposite of the one other people would see as inevitable, is provided by a recent speech delivered in the Reichstag. Deputy LORINGHOVEN is quoted by the Vorwärts as complaining bitterly that though the German armies had achieved successes fully entitling them to peace and its rewards, they had been robbed of both by the refusal of the rest of the world to play the game of war according to its long-established rules. In seemingly perfect sincerity Herr LORINGHOVEN presented as a cruel wrong the fact that, instead of allowing Germany to reap the fruits of her first victories, the other nations had come into the war one after another out of pure malignity, as he evidently believed, and so had created a task of such constantly increasing magnitude as in common fairness should be imposed on no country.

He felt, obviously, just as would a boy who, having undertaken for what he considered good reasons to whip another boy, discovered that the rest of the school, instead of forming a ring and being content with observation of the battle, had meddled with its natural course, and not only saved the original object of attack from his deserved thrashing, but had basely forced the potential victor into adopting a policy of desperate and almost hopeless self-defense.

It did not occur to Herr LORINGHOVEN that perhaps ability to conquer does not necessarily and always give the right to conquer—that sometimes it is the duty of bystanders at a fight not merely to watch the progress of events and to "let the best man win"—"best" in the pugilistic sense—but to interfere for the protection of one of the combatants and the foiling of the other. To have thought of that would have implied an admission on his part of the possibility that Germany's cause was bad—something hardly to be expected of him.

He cannot see that if, as he said, "the general world political and economic situation operates only in favor of our enemies, who have been able to enlist help from their ever-growing number of allies," there is another reason for it than malice—than a mysterious determination to rob Germans, as Germans, of their earned victories. His grievance is one that could be felt only by a man with a mind of peculiar simplicity and unable to realize that its own view of a situation may not be the only view that can justly or fairly be taken.

Nevertheless Corn Is Good Food. Two French physicians have just proved by an elaborate series of experiments that maize, when deprived of all its outer coatings and highly milled, is not good food for pigeons when they are allowed or forced to make it for long periods their only diet. It is not improbable that the sufferings of these unfortunate birds, and their ultimate fate, would have been about the same had they been fed on any other one thing, and there will be in this country, in some quarters at least, an inclination to suspect that though the French physicians may have acted in all honesty, their condemnation of what we call "corn" was based on the widespread European dislike of that grain as human food rather than on an experiment that hardly could have had any other result than the one it did have.

In this country there is no need to ask pigeons whether corn is or is not a safe, nutritious, and easily tolerable—even likable—addition to the food resources of anybody who can get it. That we like cornmeal as well as wheat flour as bread material for a steady diet would not be claimed by the most fervent of its American votaries, but that it is injurious in any sense except the one in which every article of food is injurious, including wheat itself, the king of them all, is a contention made ridiculous by the long experience of no small part of our large population. The Italians, almost alone in Europe, are—or were—accustomed to eat corn in considerable quantities. There has been some reason for believing that the disease pellagra, from which certain classes among them have suffered, was somehow connected with this peculiarity of their diet, but according to the best authorities that malady follows the consumption of damaged corn, the corn being harmless when in proper condition.

That we should help our foreign allies by sending them as much of our wheat as we can spare is true, and we are going to do it willingly enough. They should not expect, however, just because they have not learned to like corn or how to prepare it for the table, that we should do all the saving of wheat and allow them to eat nothing else in the cereal line.

One Form of War Terminates. By arranging between themselves something between a truce and an alliance, the hitherto bitterly antagonistic owners of airplane patents have ended an industrial war that has had many unpleasant and distasteful features, and if their new plan of operation escapes legal condemnation as monopoly and interference with trade—as apparently it should—the manufacture of these most necessary implements of war will be both cheapened and facilitated.

There has been a feeling, ever since the problem of mechanical flight was solved by the WRIGHT brothers, that success in this realization of humanity's age-old dream was not exactly a fit subject of commercial exploitation under strict interpretation of the patent laws. The justice of this feeling was never easy to support by argument, and naturally enough the WRIGHTS could not see any reason why they should not profit, like other inventors, from the result of their persistence and skill. Yet they were charged with lacking in the spirit of sportsmanship and they were often condemned for what was called their effort to prevent the making of airplanes by others than themselves, or at least by others than those who would pay royalties to them. Thus were they forced or led into devoting to litigation energies that would have been better employed if there had been no infringers of their patents to fight, and thus, too, was progress in developing the art of aviation measurably, though probably not much, delayed.

Now, seemingly, there is to be peace among the builders of the only real airships, and, if the new plan works, not only will everybody enter the business who chooses to do so—and can get any contracts—but everybody who uses another man's ideas in the building will pay an agreed price for the privilege. That is an equitable as well as an amicable scheme, and why objection to it should be found or sought could not easily be imagined.

To Attain Our Aims.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The recent editorial article in THE TIMES, criticising Hall Caine's interpretation of America's part in the war, is timely. America does not deserve to survive if all she wants is survival. The ends THE TIMES sets for her, justice, freedom, and security, far better interpret her spirit. To attain them, every American must do his bit. This is no time for pacifism. Whatever be one's convictions of the right methods of attaining justice, freedom, and security, the man is a coward and a shirker who refuses to do his part when the country has committed herself to a conflict like the present one.

LIGHT ON BELGIAN NEWS.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

If Liége has been fined 500,000 francs, as your paper stated, quoting the Echo Belge, for refusing "to demolish buildings damaged by fire on the Quai des Pêcheurs," this would be another instance in which Germany is trying to force the Belgians to efface the traces of what she has herself wantonly destroyed. The houses mentioned, as well as other adjoining houses in the Rue de Pitteurs were set on fire by drunken German soldiers belonging to the Fifty-seventh Regiment on Aug. 20, 1914, at about 11 o'clock P. M. After some looting these houses were sprayed with gasoline and burned. The firemen were allowed to interfere only when the fire began to threaten the property of a German. The inhabitants had been evicted, thirty of the males being kept for twenty-four hours in the Anatomical Laboratory under the repeated threat that they were going to be shot. They were finally released. At the same time houses were set on fire on the other side of the Meuse, (Place de l'Université,) but there the inhabitants were not evicted, those who tried to escape by the front door, about twenty in number, being shot by the Boches. Of these unfortunates seven were Spaniards, fruit dealers, for whose deaths Germany later agreed to pay an indemnity, thus acknowledging the murder.

A number of facts seem to indicate that the arson was premeditated, and is to be interpreted as a demonstration of frightfulness, as well as the other outrages of the same kind committed on the preceding and the next three or four nights. My opinion is that a number of picked rascals, like those soldiers who were billeted at that time in the Anatomical Laboratory, had been chosen as leaders to perpetrate these outrages, and that the other soldiers' minds had been put in the right shape by allowing them to drink freely.

Concerning the guns which were used against the forts of Liége, I doubt very much that there were any 16.4 German howitzers, but I have seen the Austrian 12-inch gun shooting from the very heart of the city. As Austria broke diplomatic relations with Belgium only on Aug. 28, this was a fine piece of treachery, which put the Austrian Government right away in the same gang of felons as the Germans. The last fort fell on Aug. 17.

NORWAY'S COMMISSION.

Its Secretary Replies to Criticism That Its Leaders Are Pro-German.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In a letter to your valued paper of Aug. 2 John Eiesland, among several thoroughly misleading statements about Norwegian conditions and the Norwegian Commission to this country, announces that Dr. Nansen and myself are "pro-Germans."

We are both absolutely at a loss to understand how Mr. Eiesland can see his way in a public letter to a great and widely read paper to make statements which are so absolutely at variance with the truth. As representatives of a neutral country we could naturally be neither pro-German nor pro-Ally.

Now, Mr. Eiesland's statement is not only false but it is also most unfair. It will easily be recognized by your readers, Mr. Editor, that Dr. Nansen's position as head of a mission from a neutral country prevents him from expressing publicly his personal sympathies for one or the other of the belligerent countries. He will thus not be in a position to refute statements of the nature Mr. Eiesland, without knowledge of the situation, has seen fit to make. This same naturally applies to me.

We venture to trust, Mr. Editor, that you will appreciate this position if in the future any of your contributors should avail themselves of that position to make untruthful statements.

Eastern Peaks.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Apropos of the discussion in your columns as to the "highest accessible point east of the Rockies," it may be of interest to note that as a mountain, measured by its own height above the general terrain of its base, Katahdin of Maine is superior to Mitchell or Washington.

Boston, Aug. 3, 1917.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY.

When I was a boy I used to go
Across the fields, where an unseen foe
Was waiting in ambush to give me fight—
Oh, I was brave and my cause was right!
I carried a gun that my daddy made,
And a sword as sharp as a hero's blade,
And a deadly dagger that Bill Brown found.
So I clattered away to the battleground,
And I dreamed, as I marched away to fame,
That the world would ring with my mighty name!

My gun was made out of whittled wood—
That, I take it, is understood—
And I had no bullets or powder-flask,
So to shoot the foe was a man-sized task!
But the crouching enemy never knew
'Twas a wooden gun with an aim untrue:
And when I'd march to the bloodless fray,
He'd always scamper and hide away.
You see, my name 'most took his breath,
And he'd shudder and shake well-nigh to death!

'Most every day I would organize
A squad of soldiers about my size—
Once there were five in my company,
A goodly sight for the folks to see!
So did I lead my daring band
To the hidden foe across the land,
And Solly Wittig's old red drum—
With a broken head—just made things hum!
If there had been moving pictures then,
Ere now you'd have seen my gallant men.

• • • • •

Today there marched along the street
Some bronze-faced boys with rhythmic feet;
It took me back to the long ago,
When I marched to conquer a bristling foe,
And oh, I wished I were marching too,
Under the brave Red, White, and Blue!
I longed to go. . . . But I had to stay,
For my step is slow and my head is gray;
So I doffed my hat and sent forth a prayer
For those stalwart boys who must do and dare!

SAYS BRITONS BUY TITLES.

Peers Attack the System of Giving Honors for Party Contributions.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A lively discussion arose in the House of Lords tonight over alleged scandals connected with the distribution of honors. The Earl of Selborne, calling attention to the bestowal of honors in return for contributions to party funds, moved that hereafter the reasons for rewards should be published, and the Premier in recommending recipients should satisfy the sovereign that no payment or expectation of payment was associated with the recommendation. The House came to no vote on the subject.

Earl Curzon, Government leader in the House of Lords, deprecated the course proposed on behalf of the Government as calculated to deter wealthy men from charitable contributions from the fear that they would come under unworthy suspicions. Supporters of the motion, including Baron Beresford and Baron Charnwood, urged the adoption of the American system of auditing and publishing contributions to party funds.

Baron Beresford said that a large part of the money went not into party funds, but into the pockets of those who offered the honors for sale. He added that this war would be famous for the large number of honors and awards bestowed upon people who had failed disastrously.

Earl Curzon admitted the gravity and importance of the subject, but thought the charges were exaggerated. He said that the number of cases of alleged purchase bore so small a proportion to the total as not to pollute the stream seriously. Experience showed that the desire to found a family and confer distinction upon descendants was widespread in democratic sections of the community, and he considered that the democratization of honors, as in recent years, ought to be encouraged because it was a great safeguard of public life.

BRITISH SURGERY WONDERS.

Of 1,350 Men Maimed, London Hospital Returned 1,000 to Duty.

Major J. E. Goldthwaite, an orthopedic surgeon of the United States Army, returned yesterday to an Atlantic port, after visiting the hospitals of France and England to study the new methods of treating the wounded.

Out of a batch of 1,350 wounded soldiers who had been crushed and fearfully maimed by shells, he said, 1,000 had been so skillfully patched up by the surgeons at the London Orthopedic Hospital that they were able to return to duty.

Major Goldthwaite was one of twenty American medical officers who were sent abroad by the Government. He said he had returned to recruit surgeons for study of war hospital conditions in order that American soldiers might later have the benefit of modern treatment from their own surgeons.

Another passenger on the liner was L. A. Post of Stanford, N. Y., who has been in Mesopotamia for the Y. M. C. A. He said that it was hotter in New York yesterday than he had found it in the Near East except once, when the temperature was 105 degrees in the shade, and the camels attached to the caravan had to have palm leaves soaked in water tied over their heads before they would leave the oasis after the noon meal. Mr. Post said he was in Bagdad when the British troops captured the city.

OPPOSE LOAN MORATORIUM.

Realty Interests Want Mortgage Business Left Untouched.

A request was made yesterday by the Advisory Council of Real Estate Interests to life insurance and trust companies, savings banks, title and guarantee companies, and other large lending institutions, to write to their representatives in the Legislature in opposition to the measure drafted by Senator Ottinger providing for a moratorium on real estate mortgages during the period of the war. Such a proposal, it is said, reflects only the attitude of the borrower, disregarding the lender.

"A moratorium that only protects the borrower," says the Advisory Council, "would discourage all lending on real estate, as no sensible business man or institution would invest money which the State would be able to declare could not be recovered until the end of the war. The mortgage market has experienced enough discouragement within the past few years without imposing another damper on it."

One of the reasons advanced in favor of a moratorium is that lending institutions are calling in mortgages, which, under normal conditions, especially in the case of small home owners, would be permitted to run for long periods. Such reasoning, says the Advisory Council, is fallacious, as lending institutions are not foreclosing to any greater extent than before the war, and are using all reasonable means to prevent a foreclosure.

STUDENTS HEAR WHITMAN.

Special to The New York Times.

SACKET HARBOR, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Declaring that America was in the war to efface autocracy from the world and in order that every nation, no matter how weak or small, might achieve its destiny without disturbance, Governor Whitman delivered an address before the 1,500 reserve candidates at Madison barracks this evening. He declared that democracy here and everywhere had but one chance for the future, and that chance lay in America.

"We can either arm now and fight for a peace that will endure, or accept a future in which we live at home and travel and trade at the sufferance of a triumphant autocracy in Berlin," said the Governor. "This war is a war of self-defense and the principles for which we are fighting do not concern America alone, but are concerned with the peaceful and orderly future of the whole world."

The Governor said that the conscription law was the keynote in the arch of our national defense and that there must be an end to misunderstandings that threaten to hinder its full and effective operation.

Governor Whitman arrived at the camp shortly after 5 o'clock this evening, and reviewed a regiment of the candidates before delivering his address.

CUTS KAISER FROM BOOK.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—The Kaiser must come out of the spelling book in use in the Chicago public schools—at least of all copies remaining in the hands of the Board of Education.

The Board of Education is controlled absolutely by Mayor Thompson. Superintendent Shoop, to get around a specific recommendation that the Kaiser page be cut out, asked that thirty-nine pages of the book be eliminated. This request was granted. There are that many pages devoted to the spelling course for the eighth grade. The Kaiser page happens to be one of them.

There are 10,000 copies of the speller in the supply department, and about 60,000 others in the hands of indigent pupils and unsold at the various schools.

Trustee Czarnecki tackled this matter with blunt directness.

"I move that the Kaiser page be not only cut out of the books in possession of the board," he said, "but that the Superintendent be requested to issue an appeal to the parents asking them to have their children cut the page out of the books they use."

This was voted down, 7 to 3.

STANDARDIZED SHIPS NOW.

First of a New British Fleet Will Be in Commission This Month.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The first of a fleet of standarized steamships being constructed in Great Britain will be put into service during the present month, according to a statement made in the House of Commons today by Sir Leo C. C. Money, Parliamentary Private Secretary to the Minister of Munitions.

The total dead-weight capacity of the first vessel will be about 8,000 tons.

PRESIDENT SPURS TRADE COMMISSION

Breaks In on Meeting to Know What Results Have Been Accomplished.

FIRM ON PRICES TO ALLIES

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—While the newly created War Industries Board was discussing today the policy it will adopt in regard to the prices which the United States Government and the allied nations shall pay for war-time necessities, the President took matters in his own hands and devoted his time to speeding up the machinery.

He went first to the offices of the Federal Trade Commission, which he has designated as the body to determine production costs, breaking in on a meeting of the full board. He asked flatly what results had been accomplished. When he left he told the commissioners that there must be no delay which would hamper the Government, and he received a definite promise to that effect.

One fact that stood out today in connection with all of the developments was that President Wilson was determined on a policy which would afford an opportunity for the Allies of the United States to obtain the supplies needed without paying the extortionate prices that obtained during the period before the United States entered into the conflict against Germany.

It can be said that this attitude on the part of the President has resulted in innumerable protests from American industry, and that was one of the main reasons why the statement of policy, promised yesterday from the War Industries Board, was held up. It probably will be made public tomorrow or Thursday.

These private interests have contracts with some of the Allies, which will be affected seriously by the attitude the White House has now assumed, and which, if carried out, will mean a tremendous cutting down in profits obtained. The statement has even been made to the State Department by certain private interests that England is following no such altruistic course, and is charging France a higher price for the output of its industries than England is paying.

Without further legislation the Government is not in a position to control prices to the consuming public along the same lines that it can control the prices the Government shall pay. The Food bill as approved by the conference will provide this power in regard to certain commodities, but does not cover, even if passed without amendment, all of the angles involved.

Laws already passed, however, placed in the hands of the Government a powerful weapon so far as the supplies which the Allies need are concerned. They make it possible for the Government to purchase and resell to the Allies, and no one realizes this fact more than the producers who have entered their protests. It is generally accepted that in the end the Central Purchasing Commission of the War Industries Board, of which Commissioner Bernard M. Baruch is Chairman, will do practically all the buying for this Government and the Allies.

Official announcement concerning the activities in regard to buying was withheld. A statement was given out by the Trade Commission stating that a report on the production price of copper probably would be forthcoming within two weeks. It is not probable that the reports on steel and other products will be made known before that time, and the commission has decided that all announcements of a definite character concerning policy must come, not from the commission, but from the White House.

The War Industries Board met early and sat late. It had several difficult problems to discuss. Involved in its considerations was the question of determining the basis for price fixing, which in turn involved the matter of so arranging prices as not to injure the small producer or give enormous profits to the big producer.

COPPER SALES DOUBTED.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Reports in Wall Street that the Allies were buying large amounts of copper through the Council of National Defense at 25 cents and more a pound could not be confirmed in any official quarter here. It is known that copper is being bought in large quantities for the Government, and practically without stated price, the matter of price being subject to adjustment in the future.

A comparatively small amount of copper has been bought through the Council of National Defense for one of the Allies, and it is believed at a price somewhat better than 25 cents; but this purchase was several weeks ago and is no part of the rumored purchase of 31,000 tons. It can be stated on high authority that there is no foundation for the report of heavy purchases of copper by the Allies as the New York reports mention. They would have been made through the council, if at all, and no such transactions have taken place or are in contemplation at this time, it was asserted.

TO BORROW $1,250,000,000.

Commons Authorizes Another Treasury Note Issue.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced in the House of Commons today a formal resolution authorizing the Treasury to borrow another £250,000,000 on the security of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom, and announced that a war loan bill for this purpose will be introduced within a few days. The resolution was adopted.

In the House last Thursday Mr. Bonar Law said that a loan bill would be required during the Parliamentary recess because the Government would "have to give the American Government long dated notes in exchange for a loan received from them, and the Treasury's power to issue such notes was limited by the last bill and is not sufficient to carry us through the recess."

Treasury Certificates Oversubscribed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Treasury's offer of $300,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness maturing Nov. 15, first financing under the projected second offering of Liberty bonds, was largely oversubscribed when subscriptions closed at 3 P. M. today.

DELAYS JUDGESHIP CONTEST

Delehanty's Suit Against McIntyre Put Off Until Aug. 15.

When the trial of the quo warranto proceeding brought by James A. Delehanty to determine the right of Judge John F. McIntyre to his seat on the General Sessions bench was called yesterday before Justice Sawyer, appointed by Governor Whitman to conduct the special trial term of the court, counsel for Judge McIntyre raised the objection that since the Attorney General had consented to retire in favor of personal counsel desired by Mr. Delehanty, the proceeding must fall.

Justice Sawyer adjourned the trial to Aug. 15 after the roll of talesmen summoned for the case had been called, in order to give counsel for Judge McIntyre opportunity to raise technical objections before Justice Donnelly.

'FRIEND MARTHA' NEEDS A FRIEND

RARELY BEAUTIFUL SCENES

A Showy Part Is Miscast and an Able Support Is Handicapped by Slender Material to Work With.

Godfrey Mayhew	Edmund Breese
Sarah Mayhew	Lizzie Hudson Collier
Martha Mayhew	Oza Waldrop
Aaron Quane	Sydney Greenstreet
Arabella Neeks	Florence Edney
Ruth Grellet	Helen Lowell
Colonel Shirley	Charles A. Stevenson
Harry Shirley	R. Leigh Denny
Judge Garnett	Wallace Erskine
Job Fox	John L. Shine
Jonathan	Arthur Hyman

Costume romance, beautifully apparelled and in scenes of exquisite beauty, stalked incongruously on the boards of the Booth Theatre last night, creaking in every joint. And the marvel of marvels was that "Friend Martha" is from the versatile Edward Peple, who has hitherto scored signally in plays of as different sorts as "The Prince Chap," "The Littlest Rebel," and "A Pair of Sixes."

The place was the Quaker Germantown and the period 1830. Over costumes, building, and furniture still hovered the beautiful spell of the style we call Colonial. And the most sensitive taste prevailed. Every detail was beautiful in itself and in relation to the whole; and, where the temptation to overelaboration must have been insistent, there was not one detail too much.

But with the play the case was far otherwise. In point of years the story may not have been as ancient as its setting; but according to the chronology of the drama it was of the hoariest antiquity. The Father Tyrannical was there, bent on marrying his Lovely Child to an Austere Elder, twice bereaved. And this duplex, pursuing widower was in turn unblushingly, outspokenly pursued, even in Quaker Meeting, by two spinsters, supposedly comic, hunting as a couple. The young gallant from Philadelphia who rescued the lovely heroine entered by a secret panel, hidden behind an ancestral portrait. In times of stress the hero hid under the bed and the heroine in the ancient fireseat—bobbing out their heads at intervals to launch comic asides to the audience. And as the character and action were of the stage, stagey, so the dialogue reeked of the study lamp, and was oily. Long passages were in unbroken iambic rhythm, and could no doubt be broken into irreproachable blank verse.

The heroine was of the good old school of historical drama, dating back at least a dozen years to the time when Dorothy Vernon dorothied and knighthood ran to seed. Though a Quakeress born, her heart sang like a bird, even on Sunday; and, on the very first provocation from her gallant, she trussed up her skirts (ever so much further than the Mary of the night before last whose playbill featured her ankle) and danced a minuet. But, though blithe and gay of spirit, she was innocent and pure as the snows, and with a heart all tenderness. Yet she had a mind and will of her own, and in her rare rages was rarely formidable. If Quakeress Martha had been played by the heroines of yore, a dozen years ago, she would have worn a flaming wig to match her disposition.

For reasons at which the knowing hinted the part was intrusted to Oza Waldrop. Her type, in theatrical parlance, is that of the soubrette, and her spontaneous repertory of miming consists in a flounce and a bounce and a skip, with odd, delightful moues on her round, fair face, and abrupt, inspiring twists to her wrist and elbow. As a red-haired tigress she is about as imposing as a fluff of a kitten in a rage. There were occasional moments in the part of potential theatric effectiveness, but, sad to say, they quite miscarried.

In the other parts there were a number of able and experienced actors; but unfortunately the characterization was so thin and unconvincing, when not positively false, that their best efforts went for little or nothing.

"Friend Martha" was in the case where a feller needs a friend. She had one staunch backer in Edgar MacGregor, who produced the play, being Miss Waldrop's husband. In the audience last night she had many well-wishers, who applauded and laughed most liberally. But still the need was manifest. Who or what the friend should be, deponent sayeth not. But it may be remarked in passing that when the audience called for the author he was found to be absent.

EQUITABLE TO HOLD VOTE.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Equitable Life Assurance Society has been called for 11 o'clock Aug. 21 to vote on the plan for the mutualization of the society recently approved by the Board of Directors. According to the plan, General T. Coleman du Pont, holder of the majority stock, would turn in his holdings for $2,790,000, $2,000,000 less than he paid J. P. Morgan for them in 1915, and the minority stockholders would get $1,500 a share for their holdings.

It is presumed that the stockholders will approve the plan, since General du Pont holds the vote of a majority of the shares. But the chief interest in the meeting will be the airing of the grievances of some of the minority stockholders who claim that the plan would mean an unfair distribution of the assets of the company. There are 1,000 shares of the stock. It is argued that the sum of $2,790,000 gives General du Pont about $5,000 a share for his 504 shares of stock, while the minority stockholders would get about a third of that for their holdings. The way the Directors figure is that General du Pont gets something like $2,700,000 for the controlling 501 shares, and then sells sixty-three shares of minority stock for $1,500 a share. Those who object to the plan argue that a share is a share and all should be paid for alike. Not all the minority stockholders will fight the plan. After the proposal has been approved by the stockholders, it is then to be submitted to the vote by mail of the 500,000 policy holders of the Equitable.

TOBACCO FOR TROOPS LOST.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Young Men's Christian Association's shipment of tobacco for the American troops in France has been lost. Word came from Paris today from the Red Cross commission to France, saying no suitable tobacco to replace the lost shipment was obtainable there, and urged that ten tons of tobacco be sent at once.

The Red Cross War Council immediately accepted an offer of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company to donate 1,500,000 cigarettes, 20,000 packages of smoking tobacco, and 10,000 cuts of chewing tobacco, which will be forwarded to the American troops at once. France has agreed to admit the tobacco free of duty, as well as all other articles for the American soldiers.

APACHES ON WARPATH IN ARIZONA MOUNTAINS

Indian Mine Workers Called Out and Mounted Rangers Set Out to Quell Uprising.

GLOBE, Ariz., Aug. 7.—Apache Indians in the Amchas Mountains, fifty miles northwest of Globe, are on the warpath, and the largest two asbestos mines in the district have suspended operations, according to a telephone message summoning help, which was received at the Sheriff's office here tonight.

The manager of one of the mines informed Sheriff Tom Armer that leaders of the uprising had called out all Indian mine workers and that were completely beyond control.

Deputy Sheriff Dan Armer, at the head of a band of mounted rangers, departed for the Sierra Anchas at 7 o'clock tonight, but they do not expect to arrive before tomorrow morning.

A call was issued tonight by the Sheriff for cowboys to hold themselves in readiness for duty in event the rangers are unable to quiet the Indians.

A forest arnger who rode twenty-five miles over rugged mountain trails to reach a telephone informed Sheriff Armer that forest fires were being started in the vicinity of the mines, and that attempts to burn mine buildings were prevented only by guards.

According to the ranger, two I. W. W. organizers have been active among the force of 150 Mexicans and Indians employed in the district. The ranger's statements were corroborated by Manager Tiffany of the mining companies.

MISS CRAVATH WEDS AUG. 22

Only Relatives and a Few Friends Will Be at Ceremony.

The wedding of Miss Vera A. H. Cravath, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Cravath, and James S. Larkin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian H. Larkin, will be celebarted on Wednesday, Aug. 22, at 4 o'clock, in St. John's Church at Lattingtown, L. I., by the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas's Church, this city, and the Rev. The Plattsburg officers' training camp, where Mr. Larkin is in training, will be closed by Aug. 15, and, as the officers selected will not be called into service for at least twelve days afterward, it was decided that the wedding should take place on Aug. 22. LOOPS THE LOOP 34 TIMES.

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 7.—Edward Stinson, aviation instructor at the Hampton Roads Aviation Station, near Hampton, today broke the world's record for consecutive loop the loops in the air, performing the daring feat thirty-four times with a passenger in his machine.

Stinson, with Mrs. Robin Gray of Norfolk as a passenger, early this afternoon ascended to the height of 4,000 feet, with the avowed purpose of breaking all records. Without a break in the performance, or even a minor accident, he made the air circle thirty-four times before gliding safely to the sward of the aviation field to receive the congratulations of army officers and spectators.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, Aug. 7.—Twenty-five additional cases of diphtheria were reported by the Board of Health today, making a total of 226 cases since the epidemic began a week ago.

Special Deputy Sheriffs are guarding five farms in Portsmouth, from which no milk or farm products will be permitted to leave. The financial losses will be paid by the State.

Up to the present time there is only one suspicious case of diphtheria at the training station, where a rigid examination of throats is being made twice a day. Because of conditions here it was deemed advisable to quarantine the reservists in camp today.

AIRCRAFT MERGER MEETS OPPOSITION

ALLIES' COMMITTEE MEETS

Standardization of Parts to be Agreed Upon—American Company Said to Have Asked $11,000,000.

The consolidation of the aircraft manufacturers of the country under the title of the Manufacturers' Aircraft Corporation, which has just been completed, was denounced yesterday by Thomas A. Hill of 233 Broadway, patent lawyer and former President of the Aeronautical Society, as a scheme entirely unmotivated by the military needs of the country, but designed only to solidify the Wright and Curtiss interests against impending suits against the validity of their patents.

Mr. Hill is the attorney for Albert S. Janin, a Staten Island carpenter, who obtained a patent for a hydroaeroplane with central water support of the general type which is now in widespread use. Janin never built an actually working machine, being restricted by lack of funds.

"This new organization of the Wright and Curtiss interests," said Mr. Hill, "with a few smaller trailers included has been bountiful enough to provide that after the meat of the pie of royalties has been eaten, a few small crumbs of the crust may be divided, subject to its arbitration board, among outside manufacturers and inventors whose patent rights they approve. What is Albert Janin, for instance, going to do now that the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia has said that he is the pioneer and ahead of Curtiss and entitled to his patent?

"The war had nothing to do with all this. Many patents are pending and some issued of which these companies have taken no notice, patents that they do and will infringe. Yet the accounts of the consolidation imply quite the contrary."

It was reported yesterday from sources close to the management of the Wright-Martin Aircraft Corporation that this company has applied to the Government, through the Aircraft Production Board, for an advance of about $11,000,000, to be used in greatly increasing the capacity of its plant, the money to be charged against future contracts for airplanes—the whole transaction forming one step in the Aircraft Production Board's program for an immense new air fleet for the United States.

It was represented to the Aircraft Production Board that the company at present has a capacity of about four airplanes a day, which makes it one of the largest in the country, but which is totally inadequate to the demands likely to be made on the plant when the Government's construction program gets well under way. The company proposes, therefore, to expand its resources until it is able to turn out machines of standard pattern at the rate of fifty a day.

In order to accomplish this, the heads of the company estimate that it will be necessary to spend upwards of $20,000,000 for new buildings and equipment, and rather than attempt to raise this sum themselves they suggest that the Government, as the most interested party, assume at least half the burden of financing the new construction.

The first meeting of an international committee, including representatives of the United States, Great Britain, Canada, France, and Italy, which is working for the standardization of metal parts in aircraft, will be held in New York today. Frank G. Diffin, formerly a manufacturer of metal parts in Erie, Penn., will act as representative of American interests on the committee.

"This committee has important work to do," said Mr. Diffin. "The average airplane has thousands of metal parts. Heretofore bolts, for instance, were made in innumerable sizes, the difference between which was often measured in a few thousandths of an inch in length or diameter. For one specific kind of bolt used for the same purpose on various types of machines different manufacturers called for the use of six diferent metals, sixty different lengths and eight different diameters.

"I figured out that fully 50 per cent. of the different sizes were unnecessary, and, after limiting the number of diameters and lengths as far as possible, I found I could treble production with the same amount of machinery and personnel."

NAVY TO BUILD PLANT TO MAKE AIRPLANES

Daniels Announces Million-Dollar Factory Will Be Constructed at League Island Yard.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Secretary Daniels tonight announced the decision of the Government to build an aircraft factory for the navy. The plant, which will be at the League Island Navy Yard, Philadelphia, will cost $1,000,000 for buildings and machinery. When worked at full capacity it will employ 2,000 men.

Secretary Daniels recently recommended to Congress the appropriation of $45,000,000 for naval aeronautics in addition to amounts previously made available. This money will be used in maintaining and expanding existing schools and stations, establishing new stations and training schools, and in the purchase and manufacture of necessary aircraft—seaplanes, dirigibles, and kite balloons for use on high seas and from coastal stations at home and in co-operation with our allies.

The additional personnel for the operation of the naval aircraft is being enrolled in the Naval Reserve Flying Corps. The navy is planning the establishment of an air force of sufficient size to operate as scouts from naval vessels, to patrol the waters off the coasts of the United States, and to cooperate with naval forces abroad in anti-submarine warfare.

In making his announcement tonight Secretary Daniels said:

"In view of the enormous expansion of the airplane industry now being undertaken in the United States, it was felt that it was necessary to increase the Navy Department's facidities along these lines, not only to enable it to supply a part, at least, of its own needs, but in order that the private plants might be relieved of the experimental developments which they have hitherto undertaken, and turn their whole attention to the maximum production of approved types.

"Contracts have been placed for the factory on the basis of completion of buildings and beginning of operations in less than 100 days. The total cost of the buildings and plant will be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, and it is expected that when the completed plant is working up to its capacity it will utilize the services of approximately 2,000 employes and be capable of producing a thousand small planes per annum, or a corresponding output of the larger types.

"The Navy Department has a small flying field at the League Island Yard adjacent to the factory and excellent facilities for hydroaeroplanes, so that it will be able to utilize this plant to keep the navy in the forefront with the latest developments in aircraft."

YANKEES ATTAIN EVEN BREAK IN SERIES WITH TIGERS, TAKING LAST GAME

Wild Bill Donovan's absence is still lending enchantment to the Yankees. The enchantment assumed the proportions of a 7 to 1 defeat for the Detroit Tigers up at the Polo Grounds yesterday. Wild Bill's exile is still in vogue. Just how long a sentence he will have to serve for talking too often to Umpire Bill Dineen, Donovan doesn't know, but one thing he does know, and that is, whenever he has any ideas he wishes to convey to Dineen in the future he is going to write him a letter.

Donovan wanders around the Polo Grounds now disguised as an ordinary citizen. Yesterday he sat in the press box before the game, but as soon as the umpires made their appearance Donovan started to travel as if the Sheriff were after him. When a manager is suspended he is supposed to keep out of sight. It was up to Bill to hide, so he went up in the stand and sat behind Harry Sparrow. Sitting behind Mr. Sparrow constitutes a complete case of disappearance any time.

The ball game started out like an air-tight pitchers' battle between Bob Shawkey and George Cunningham, but as the sun drew near the western horizon the Detroit pitcher's slants were stripped of their trickery and the Yanks won the game hands down by shoving the ball to the several corners of the meadows.

Baker and Pipp Hit Homers.

Two of the shoves commanded more than ordinary attention, as they were home-run smashes by Baker and Pipp. Both Pipp and Baker have called off their vacations, and, after several games of rest, have resumed their hitting. Pipp got two singles yesterday aside from the homer.

Ty Cobb, the greatest batter on this hemisphere or any other, couldn't do much with Shawkey, and he didn't get a hit until the ninth, when he planked a steaming liner against the right-field wall. Hendryx played the carrom perfectly and Cobb had to scramble to get back to first when he had every intention in the world of taking a trip around to third at least.

They can't lay the blame of yesterday's defeat to Jennings's coaching, for Hughey chanted all his signals in a Madagascar dialect, pulled up the sods, kicked his heels in the air, and worked just as much Hindu magic as ever, but the Tigers didn't respond. George Burns, the Tiger first baseman, who has been lacing the ball hard, was halted suddenly by Shawkey. The secret of Burns's hitting has been a small horseshoe which he carries in his back pocket. He forgot to carry the horseshoe yesterday, consequently no hits.

Tigers First to Score.

Shawkey kept his curves in the dark for four innings, the only hit in that time being made by Heilman, who planked a single to centre in the second. After Heilman and Burns had died on foul flies in the fifth Pep Young sent a lazy bouncer through the infield. Archie Yelle smashed a single to left, sending Young to third. Cunningham then showed that he can hit as well as pitch, his single to left scoring Young.

Only a dozen Yank batsmen faced Cunningham in the first four innings, ten of the twelve being put out by George Burns at first. Oscar Vitt, at third, contributed dazzling support, peeling off a gem of a play in the fourth when Maisel stung a hot grounder to deep third. Vitt grabbed the ball, which was going so fast that it swung him all the way around, but he got the runner on a beautiful throw.

The first Yankee hit came to light in the fifth, when Pipp poled a single to centre. Baker drew a pass and Marsans sacrificed both citizens along a station. While Bush was tossing out Miller Pipp romped over with the tally which glued up the score.

In the seventh Walter Pipp decided that the tie game had gone about far enough, so he pickled the first ball Cunningham pitched to him into the right field stand and shoved the Yanks to the fore.

Walters Starts Fireworks.

Walters took Vitt completely by surprise in the eighth when he laid a neat little bunt along the third-base line for a hit. Shawkey sacrificed and Tim Hendryx spanked a bounder right back of third. Vitt made a flying leap to get Walters sliding into the bag, but Albert was too spry for him. Maisel operated the squeeze play, and Walters naturally seized upon the opportunity to score, Hendryx going to second, and Maisel being out at first.

Home Run Baker brought heaps of joy to the effervescent fans when he shot a howling homer into the upper tier of the grandstand, Pipp blazing the trail home for him. That was five hits and five runs for that inning, which ought to be enough to suit anybody, so Marsans ended the festivities by hoisting a simple rocket to Veach.

Red Sox Gain Victory, 8 to 6, in Heavy-Hitting Contest.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Boston split even with Cleveland in the series which closed today by winning the final game, 8 to 6.

Speaker and Harris each made three hits, while Boehling was driven from the box in the seventh, when four runs were scored after two were out. Shore was hit freely in the seven innings he pitched.

MACKS LUCKY IN SEVENTH.

Score Six Runs on White Sox After Schalk's Error.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7.—Philadelphia hit the ball safe in every inning today and defeated Chicago, 8 to 1. Runs were hard to get for the home team, however, until two men were out in the seventh inning. Then no runs would have resulted but for Schalk dropping a throw to retire Strunk at the plate. Philadelphia then knocked Faber off the rubber and kept up the bombardment on Danforth, six runs being secured in this session on seven successive hits, two bases on balls and an error.

GIANTS TAKE FINAL BATTLE FROM REDS

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7.—Costly wabbles by McKechnie and Groh, together with hard-luck hitting by the locals, enabled the Giants to tuck away the fourth and final contest of the present series today by the score of 4 to 2. McKechnie's two errors in the fifth inning were directly responsible for the tying of the score, and Groh's untamed toss in the eighth started the enemy away to the last of its runs.

Added to this crumbling of the Reds' defense was unfortunate hitting of the locals. Wallop after wallop was either driven right at some Giant outfielder for an easy out, or else a circus catch stopped the attack. In the ninth inning Magee was out. Neale singled to centre. Thorpe batted for Shean and placed a safe one in right, Neale going to third. With Wingo up, a triple meant a tied score, a home run a victory. On the first ball pitched by Demaree, Wingo swung and met the ball right upon its nose, but it dropped foul.

The foul had its influence, as Demaree, who had pitched good ball for the Giants, was waved away, and Rube Benton was called. Clarke substituted for Wingo and fanned, leaving the Giants with victory achieved.

Schneider pitched a nice game of ball for the Reds, and would have won with better support. For six innings he held the Giants to three hits, and they would never have seen the plate in this time but for McKechnie's two boots in the fifth. On the other hand, the locals hit Demaree hard, but not effectively.

Cincinnati scored first. Magee opened the second with a line drive into Robertson's hands. Neale batted a single to Zim. Shean flied to Burns. Wingo hammered a long double to right centre, Neale scoring. Fletcher threw out Schneider.

This slender lead was safe until the fifth. With one out, Holke singled to centre. He tried to steal and was out a mile had not McKechnie dropped the ball. Rariden rolled to McKechnie and again Mac erred, throwing high to Groh trying for Holke at third. Demaree then hit a sacrifice fly to Roush, Holke scoring. Groh threw out Burns.

Nothing happened on either side thenceforth until the seventh, when the Giants went ahead. Fletcher tripled to the fence, and at once scored on Robertson's blow to right. Holke popped to Shean, Robertson died stealing, and Groh threw out Rariden.

The eighth saw the Giants get two more. With one out, Groh made a circus stop of Burns's smash, but threw over Chase's head, Burns reaching second. Herzog popped to Shean. Kauff sent a double to centre, Burns scoring. Zim singled to centre, Bennie coming in. Shean threw out Fletcher.

Ring pitched the ninth for the Reds, and although hit by Holke and Rariden, got by nicely by fanning Demaree and getting Burns on a roller to second.

OPEN NEW PUBLIC LINKS.

Forest Park Course, in Brooklyn, to be Dedicated Today.

The new Forest Park golf links, near Williamsburg, will be formally opened today, and it is expected Park Commissioner J. E. Weier of the Brooklyn Borough will drive the first ball over the new part of the course. The new links is a combination of the old course with four new holes added. It gives to Forest Park an eighteen-hole, all-hill course, declared to be one of the sportiest courses in the district.

The four new holes were laid out three years ago. At that time money was obtained by Commissioner Weier for clearing the ground. Later, more money was needed for removing stumps, plowing, seeding, and building tees and greens, and Commissioner Weier again came to the rescue.

With the golfers using the new course there has been released for playground purposes twenty acres of land lying along Ashland Avenue formerly used for golf. The building of the new holes was begun for this purpose, as the old holes by the edge of the park resulted in friction between players who insisted upon their rights and parents who insisted upon allowing their children to go upon the course.

SARATOGA HORSE DOCTORED

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA, Aug. 7.—The usual scandal which accompanies the racing here was made public today, when it was learned that the Stewards were investigating a race held last Friday in which the favorite, St. Tolon's Imperator, was badly beaten and the race was won by the second choice, Kings Oak.

The owner and trainer of Imperator could not understand the poor showing of their entry, and Dr. McCully was called in. The veterinarian discovered that a sponge had been forced up the nose of the horse. It took him some time to extract the sponge with forceps.

There was no suspicion that any one in the stable had been guilty of the action, and after an inquiry lasting until this afternoon the Stewards were unable to place the blame on any one.

TOO FAST FOR BUSY'S LASSIE

COLUMBUS, Aug. 7.—Busy's Lassie, conceded before the event to have almost a strangle hold on the big end of the purse in the $5,000 S. and S. stake for 2:12 trotters, was beaten today in the feature event by Early Dreams, thus losing her second important stake of the Grand Circuit year.

Busy's Lassie, selling a big favorite in the pools, trotted the first heat in 2:04¼, this being the fastest mile trotted in 1917 in a race. Early Dreams won the second heat in precisely the same time, and captured the third heat in 2:06¼. Busy's Lassie showed signs of tiring, and she was not a contender from that time on. Ima Jay, making her first start of the year, got away into a lead in the fourth heat, and won handily in the drive. Early Dreams was driven hard all the way in the fifth mile, and beat Ima Jay by two lengths.

The second race on the card developed the strongest betting of the meeting. Butt Hale sold for $300 in pools that were going for $220 on the field. The favorite made good and never was in danger of being headed. Driver Cox was fined $25 for not trying to win the first heat.

Ben Billings, winner of 2:14 pace at Kalamazoo, was taken sick with the distemper, and will not be able to race for several weeks. Peter Look, who had an attack of congestion of the lungs, was improved today.

OLD ROSEBUD AGAIN VICTOR IN HANDICAP

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA, Aug. 7.—H. C. Applegate's Old Rosebud further demonstrated his superiority over the thoroughbred handicap division when he picked up 133 pounds this afternoon and won the Delaware Handicap at a mile; that was the feature event of the racing day here.

The small but select field included the old champion, Roamer, winner of the Saratoga Handicap, and James Butler's lightly weighted Capra, which has been nosed out in all her starts this season. Cudgel, from the West, Ima Frank, and Hollister made up the field.

Weather and track conditions were ideal, and with a track made to order it was believed that Roamer would step out in front and set a pace that would trouble Old Rosebud to maintain with his heavy impost. Nearly all the money wagered was placed on Roamer, Old Rosebud, and Capra, with the first named closing a decided favorite.

When the barrier went up it was the fleet-footed Capra which dashed to the front, followed by Hollister. Molesworth on Old Rosebud had a position close to the rail, and he kept it at all hazards, even taking the chance of being shut out in the run down in the back stretch. Roamer, unable to get to the front, was being rated along in fourth place.

As soon as Hollister dropped back Old Rosebud moved up to Capra, and the pair turned into the stretch almost on even terms. Molesworth did not have to touch Old Rosebud with the whip as they raced through the last sixteenth, but when approaching the finish Old Rosebud poked his nose in front and the best efforts of Capra made no impression.

Meantime Butwell had Roamer under the whip, but though he was gaining at the end, Old Rosebud never was in trouble, so that he passed the judges with a head to spare over Capra, which was half a length in front of Roamer. Cudgel, the Western entry, was three lengths back. The time of 1:38 3-5, though not approaching the record, was considered a good performance, as Old Rosebud carried more weight than any other winner of this race, which was first run in 1901.

A much-talked-of two-year-old was introduced to racing followers in the last race. This was Mrs. W. M. Jefferd's Smoky Lamp, which had been purchased from John E. Madden for a big figure. Smoky Lamp had to be escorted to the post by a stable companion, but showed herself a smart filly when she got under way. J. F. Flanagan's Tea Party was allowed to lead until well into the stretch, when Smoky Lamp ran over her and won from the fast closing Rose D'Or by three lengths. There was a feeling of regret among the supporters of the winning filly when it was seen that she pulled up lame.

CHEVROLET WANTS TO RACE

Louis Chevrolet, one of the best of the modern school of automobile drivers, has requested the management of the Sheepshead Bay speed carnival to be held on Aug. 18, to be allowed to enter in the special race for the purse of $25,000, in which the veteran Barney Oldfield and Ralph de Palma are to compete. His challenge will be acted on sometime today, and as there is little doubt of its acceptance a speedy three-cornered race is assured.

The special race will be one of three heats at twenty, thirty, and fifty miles, the order in which the heats are to be run to be determined by the toss of a coin on the day of the race.

ALEXANDER FALLS BEFORE COAST STAR

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Standing foremost among the matches which opened the annual tennis tournament at the Meadow Club today was that in which John R. Strachan of San Francisco defeated the former Davis Cup player, Frederick B. Alexander, in a spirited three-set encounter. The score favored the Californian at 1—6, 6—1, 6—4. In the last set Alexander, after appearing to be hopelessly out of it, picked up so wonderfully that for a brief period it seemed as if he might fight his way through to victory.

Two other matches were played. In an exhibition mixed doubles Mrs. Rawson Wood and Frederick C. Inman triumphed over Mrs. Robert H. Williams and Frederick B. Alexander with the score of 9—7, 3—6, 6—2, and in the men's singles Fred Baggs defeated an old rival, Dr. William Rosenbaum, at 6—8, 6—2, 8—6.

The mixed doubles match produced a sharply waged contest in which Mrs. Wood emphasized that she is an adept at doubles. Her net play was a big factor, for her severe placement volleys were sent unerringly to the vantage points. Inman appeared to be at the top of his game.

Fred Baggs and Dr. Rosenbaum had a regular marathon match on their court. The contest started long before that between Alexander and Strachan, but it was not until this contest had been finished by many minutes that Baggs and Rosenbaum left the court with the contest decided. Dr. Rosenbaum started a lobbing game, and then wished he had left that department of tennis alone, for Baggs answered with lobs that frequently curved over Rosenbaum's head for placement aces. It was a nip-and-tuck battle, at the end of which Baggs just managed to win.

There was a display of some fine tennis in the contest between Strachan and Alexander. Alexander romped away with the first set today. Strachan was uncertain of his strokes. Well-intended cross-court shots and slashing drives down the lines persisted in going amiss, and Alexander profited by the wholesale list of errors which Strachan piled up. Alexander gained 31 points in the set, and of these 25 were on nets, outs and double faults by the Californian.

The second set saw a complete reversal of things. The Western star was even more severe than in the first set. After the first game of the second set had gone to deuce, Strachan burned across two service aces to place to his credit. Alexander won the second game, but that was the last time that he succeeded in winning his service in this set. The powerful forehand drive by Strachan was a feature all through the set. Both men were driving deep, and it was only occasionally that either succeeded in getting to the barrier to finish off a point.

In the third set Strachan moved along rapidly and led at 5—1, so that the outlook was anything but bright for Alexander. Against this overwhelming handicap Alexander contested stubbornly and brilliantly. He forced Strachan into errors by his masterly placing and ran off three games in a row. Strachan sacrificed his service in a game that was taken at love by Alexander. The veteran's own errors, however, turned the contest against him.

James P. Lee, Chairman of the Tennis Committee, announced that there would be a round robin women's singles event and a round robin men's doubles. These will begin tomorrow. There also will be matches in men's singles and in mixed doubles. The schedule of tomorrow's matches is:

10:30 A. M.—John R. Strachan vs. Fred C. Inman; 11 o'clock—S. Howard Voshell and Fred Baggs vs. Lyle Mahan and Dr. William Rosenbaum; 3 o'clock—Miss Molla Bjurstedt vs. Mrs. Robert H. Williams; 4 o'clock—Frederick B. Alexander and Harold Throckmorton vs. Voshell and Baggs; 4:30 o'clock—Miss Mary K. Browne vs. Mrs. Rawson Wood.

GIEBEL WINS WATER RACE.

Zimnoch and Miss Boyle Successful in Medley Swims.

The scene of the city's annual "Splash Week" shifted last night to the West Twenty-eighth Street Baths, where the second night's carnival of water sports was held and resulted in decidedly interesting competition, keeping up to the standard set by the opening night's festivities. Four events were held, one of them for women swimmers, each attracting its full quota of prominent swimmers of the metropolitan district and furnishing close finishes.

The feature race of the evening, the 100-yard handicap swim for men, was won by Leo Giebel of the New York Athletic Club. In this event Giebel started with a handicap allowance of five seconds, and just managed to gain first honors by a touch at the finish. W. Burrows, West Side Y. M. C. A., was second. Giebel also finished second in the medley swim for men over a 100-yard course, which event was won by John Zimnoch, a clubmate, who started from scratch. Giebel's mark in this race also was four seconds, but the speedier stroke of Zimnoch gained the latter the victory.

Miss Charlotte Boyle of the Women's National Life Saving League scored an impressive victory in the women's medley race, in which she started from scratch and won in 1:16 2-5.

The summaries:

Medley Swim for Men, Handicap, (distance about 100 yards.)—Won by John Zimnoch, New York A. C., (scratch;) Leo Giebel, New York A. C., (0:04,) second; W. Burrows, West Side Y. M. C. A., (0:04,) third. Time—0:58 3-5.

MADDEN ABSORBS PUNCHES.

Local Boxer Takes Beating from Brennan in Bout.

With an advantage of twenty-four pounds in weight and a proportionate advantage in hitting ability, K. O. Bill Brennan, the Chicago heavyweight, last night had an easy time outpointing Bartley Madden, the west side heavyweight, in the principal ten-round bout at the Pioneer S. C. Madden went along nicely in the opening round until near the bell, when suddenly Brennan's right hand landed solidly on the west sider's jaw, and he went down for a count of four.

Weakened, but game, Madden was again sent down, this time for a count of nine, and when he regained his feet the bell came to his rescue. From then until the finish Brennan tried desperately to land a finishing blow on his opponent, but, although he hit Madden at will, the latter managed to weather the storm of blows. The weights were: Brennan, 195¾ pounds; Madden, 171¾ pounds.

Rye to Hold Title Swim.

Announcement was made yesterday at the local headquarters of the Amateur Athletic Union that the women's national 100-yard championship swimming competition had been awarded to the Rye Beach Swimming Club of Rye, N. Y. The event will be held on Sept. 1, and it is expected that the leading women swimmers of various sections of the country will be among the competitors.

NEW YORK MEN WHO HAVE ACCEPTED SERVICE IN THE NATIONAL ARMY

THE LISTS HERE PUBLISHED INCLUDE ALL THE ACCEPTANCES OBTAINABLE LAST NIGHT FROM THE DISTRICT BOARDS IN SESSION IN MANHATTAN, THE BRONX, BROOKLYN, AND QUEENS.

Reports received yesterday from seventy-eight Exemption Boards in the city showed that 8,526 men had been examined and that 1,662 of them had waived exemption after passing the examination, making an average of nearly twenty-two men accepted by each board.

The following districts reported yesterday without giving the names of men who passed the physical examination and waived exemption:

No. 48, Manual Training High School, Brooklyn, examined 140, of whom 36 waived exemption after passing the physical examination; No. 98, P. S. 174, Rivington and Attorney Streets, examined 166 men, and only three who passed physically waived exemption; No. 130, 257 West 100th Street, examined 429 men, of whom 195 waived exemption after qualifying in the examination; No. 167, at Madison Avenue and 129th Street, examined 350, of whom 61 passed the examination and waived exemption.

Under the caption "Yesterday's Report," the results of the work in each district heard from are shown. Opposite the word "examined" in each case is the number of men who came before the board for physical examination. Opposite "exempted" is the number of men who, because of public service automatically making them unavailable for the draft army, foreign birth, or physical disability, were rejected or excused by the examiners. Opposite "claiming exemption" is the number of men who were found physically and otherwise acceptable for service in the draft army but announced their intention of claiming exemption. Opposite "not claiming" is the number of men who were physically fit and willing to fight in the draft army.

It should be noted that many of those claiming exemption may be drafted into the army, their claims being denied, and that others not now claiming exemption may change their minds and seek exemption within the five-day period allowed for the filing of exemption claims.

Silk Designs for the Spring.

The designs that will be brought out for next Spring in the silk trade are getting clearer. In the sport goods end of the business it is pretty well settled that the strange figures of geometric origin will be prominent. In the better grades of merchandise, the manufacturers feel that large floral designs and brocaded figures will be featured. There is also some talk of putting out comprehensive lines of dotted materials. The latter patterns just now have the backing of the Parisian dressmakers.

Belts Receive Novel Treatment.

In the Fall suit and dress models now being shown quite a feature is made of the different treatment of belts. This item of the garment seems to be getting some concentrated effort on the part of the designers. One of the belts noted was nothing more or less than a chain. In another the main idea seemed to be to show how much material could be used by making it anything but a straight all-around cincture. Other belts are that in name only, being placed merely at the back half way or three-quarters of the way around the waist.

Satins Show Up Well.

In the present silk demand, satins are sharing first place with taffetas. The forward business on this fabric keeps up so well that manufacturers will not be at all surprised to see them featured in the lines for next Spring. It is usually the custom in the trade to depend a good deal upon the materials that are popular late in the season to start off the season ahead. Satin has been especially well featured in separate skirts, principally in white, so the trade is of the opinion that this fabric will be a good construction to start off the Spring season with.

Say the Buyers Are Changing.

One of the interesting things about the present ready-to-wear season is that several of the near-by buyers are said to be changing their days of coming to this market, while buyers from further away, who are here for ten days or two weeks at a stretch, are changing their days of buying. Several seasons ago the buying of the week began to be more or less confined to Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the buyers either reaching here on Tuesday morning or taking off the week-end at some near-by resort. The result was crowded showrooms on the days mentioned and half empty ones on the others. Now, however, buyers are beginning to buy earlier and keeping on longer. On Friday last one high-class house had to go through its line eleven times, which is high for them on any day. On Monday of this week another house reported it had taken several thousand dollars' worth of orders before noon.

Clothiers May Follow Own Ideas.

While several large associations in the clothing trade have adopted, through their representatives, a resolution not to change the styles, a good deal will depend on the individual manufacturers as far as the carrying out of this rule is concerned, it was said yesterday. If the manufacturer is carrying any appreciable surplus of goods over, it was pointed out, it will be to his best interests to obey the mandate, otherwise he may be tempted to take the competitive advantage of putting out new styles. The action of the associations has caused a good deal of discussion in the trade, some for and some against the resolution.

Dresses Are Doing Well.

Late reports from the dress end of the local cutting-up trade indicate that there is little fault to be found with the way buyers are now taking these goods. Not the least interesting feature of this buying is the continued movement of the "showier" models, such as are used for formal evening wear or for dancing, in spite of earlier expectations that buyers might confine themselves more or less to goods of the "bread and butter" type. The straight-line silhouette continues to dominate, though semi-fitted models are taken here and there in a fair way. In the fabrics, shiny-faced goods have the preference, with taffetas in the running largely as a result of their use in party frocks. Crêpes are also meeting favor.

The Coal Trade Journal will say today that, while this is the season when talk is usually heard of the expected Fall revival in anthracite, interest now centres on the possibility of an easier situation developing in the late Summer or early Autumn. So far as the local market is concerned, a point has already been reached where only two sizes—egg and stove—are seriously short. The bituminous output continues to move through channels which greatly reduce the trading opportunities of middle houses that are trying to live up to the letter and spirit of the Washington price agreement. The difficulty lies in obtaining tonnage with which to fill orders.

Gray Goods Buyers Active.

Buyers and sellers of gray goods are coming closer now to agreeing on prices, and the result is more active and steady buying. Yesterday a nice business was put through here, including additional sales of 5.50 sheetings at 8¾ cents. This price is getting harder to have accepted, however, for most sellers now want 9 cents. For four-yard 56-60s, 12¾ cents is now the best that can be done on first-class goods. In the printcloths business was done for spot delivery on 38½-inch 64-60s at 10½ cents, with contracts sold at a quarter less. Bids of 10 cents for 64-56s in that width brought out none too many goods. There were bids of 11½ cents for 39-inch 68-72s and some sales, but in more than one instance nothing less than 11⅝ cents would be taken. For nearby deliveries of 38½-inch 60-48s, 8¾ cents was again paid. Mill prices for printcloths closed as follows:

39-inch, 68-72s	11¼c	38½-inch, 60-52s	9½c
39-inch, 56-44s	8¼c	38½-inch, 60-48s	8¾c
38½-inch, 64-64c	10¾c	27-inch, 64-60s	7½c

AGREE ON DISCOUNTS.

Committees Come Together In Garment Trade Controversy.

All that is required now for a settlement of the discount controversy between the retailers and the women's wear manufacturers is confirmation of the action taken yesterday by the committees representing both interests. This confirmation is to come from the members of the manufacturers' organization and the retail associations, and will mean that in the future the option is given the retail buyer of purchasing on either a 2-10 or an 8-10 basis. The committees provided, however, that the manufacturer may determine whether or not he will offer his wares on the two-discount basis.

The conference of the committees representing the retailers and the manufacturers at the Hotel McAlpin yesterday developed into somewhat of a logrolling contest. In conceding the retailers the option of buying on one set of terms or the other, the manufacturers in turn gained what is expected to be of great benefit to the trade as a whole.

They obtained a pledge that the retailers would do all in their power to correct existing trade evils, such as cancellations, the return of goods, unwarranted discounts, &c. Furthermore, the store representatives promised them full co-operation in the campaign that will be started to eliminate the resident buyers whose business methods are questionable. A suggestion that had strong backing was that the joint conference committees be continued in the form of a grievence board to take up all disputes arising between the manufacturers and their customers. It was said on good authority that the establishment of such a board was highly probable in view of the action taken.

Under the decision reached yesterday, the rock bottom price among the garment manufacturers will be the price figured on terms of 2-10. If 8-10 is granted the difference will be added. In other words, the garment selling at $10 on a discount of 2-10 will be priced at $10.58 on the 8-10 basis. The manufacturer who does not care to figure out his prices on the two sets of terms is at liberty to offer his merchandise on the 2-10 basis alone.

The manufacturers' organizations represented at the conference were the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Protective Association, the Dress and Waist Manufacturers' Association, the Separate Skirt Manufacturers of New York, and the Merchant Ladies' Garment Association. The retail associations represented were the National Retail Dry Goods Association, the Retail Dry Goods Association, and the National Garment Retailers' Association.

Following the conclusion of the conference the first meeting of the National Garment Retailers Association was held at the Waldorf-Astoria. There were seventy-five members present. S. M. Goldberg acted as Chairman. It was primarily a meeting to adopt by-laws and a constitution for the association and elect officers. In keeping, however, with the promise made by the association's representatives at the discount conference the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved by the National Garment Retailers Association at its first meeting that we pledge ourselves to endeavor to correct any and all abuses that may exist in the trade and further pledge ourselves to give our hearty co-operation to any and all manufacturers' associations."

A motion made to have copies of this resolution forwarded to the garment associations taking part in the discount conference was defeated on the ground that the passage of the resolution was sufficient evidence of the association's sincerity. A Board of Directors was chosen, but the election of officers was deferred.

Crude Rubber Prices Steady.

Continued apathy on the part of large traders in the local crude rubber market has not offset the stimulating effect of the strength of holders in the primary Brazilian markets, with the result that up-river fine, while still well below Para, is held here at 69½ cents a pound for the spot and nearby positions. For up-river coarse the figure asked is 47½ cents, with upper Caucho ball quoted at 41. The last week has brought no marked change to the plantation grades, both first late and smoked sheets being available for some time ahead at 65 cents. Trading of late has been almost entirely between dealers or with the smaller manufacturers.

FOR BUYERS.

Country buyers should consider the advisability of replenishing stores by a small advertisement on the Business Page of The New York Times. The contents of a prepaid day lettergram detailing buyers' needs will be adjusted to form an advertisement appearing the next morning and read by thousands of wholesalers. Cost for this service is 30 cents for each line of six words.—

Are you aware that this Law which went into effect June first permits you, upon payment of a nominal tax, to exempt your investments, as defined in the Act, from the Personal Property Tax in New York State, and that failure to comply with the requirements of the Law makes your Estate liable to a severe penalty through the imposition of an additional Inheritance Tax?

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks lost a little ground in an irregular session yesterday, but closed with sentiment improved by the growing belief that the Government authorities will accept a liberal view in fixing prices on supplies to be bought both for this country and the Allies. When it was first suggested a few weeks ago that the foreign Governments should be given the same terms as the United States upon their purchases made in this country the objection was immediately made that such prices as had been quoted for this country were too low to allow of any substantial profit unless averaged with the higher quotations obtainable in the open market. It is now expected that prices will be adjusted on a basis allowing a fair profit to producers and manufacturers so that they will have no interest in the destination of their materials. It was reported yesterday, for instance, that a sale of 31,000 tons of copper had been arranged for the allied Governments at a price better than 25 cents per pound. Figures which are being talked of for steel likewise take into acount the new conditions which have arisen in recent months, and no more is being heard, at the moment, of confiscation.

Yesterday's market was rather narrow, with little outside buying making itself felt. The list showed a much better tone at the close with some of the rails and several industrials making their best prices for the day. Attention centred in the final hour very largely upon United Cigar Stores, American International Corporation, and Mercantile Marine, all of which moved forward rather easily. Earlier in the day the steel stocks lost ground on the report that the War Industries Board was getting ready to establish arbitrary prices for steel products that would be considerably under those which have been paid lately.

The expected happened in the dividend meeting of the Studebaker Company, when the dividend was reduced from 10 per cent. to 4 per cent. The stock broke from its high of 56 to 52⅛, following the anouncement, closing unchanged at 53½. Steel sold down to 126⅝, but closed a half point above that price, with a net decline of ⅛. Some of the smaller steel companies' stocks felt the effect of the fears of low prices to be extended to the Allies more keenly. Bethlehem old stock dropped 4½ points on a single sale, while Bethlehem B on active dealings ranged from 126 to 123¾, showing a net loss of 1⅞ at the end of the session. For the most part, however, transactions were in such small volume as to rob movements of any significance.

Many traders have taken advantage of the lull to get out of the city, and there were no signs discernible yesterday of an early return to greater activity in the market. Not even the liberal offerings of call loans at from 2½ to 3 per cent. are sufficient to induce the big operators to carry stocks pending the determination of the policy to be followed in fixing prices. Payment must be made this week for the $100,000,000 of Canadian notes and for the new issue of $300,000,000 Treasury certificates.

The question of terms to be made for the next Government war loan is still under discussion, and bankers do not look for a decision on the interest rate for some weeks yet. The Liberty bonds went to a new low record yesterday when a block sold at 99.52. It is understood that the new loan will not be brought out until the middle of November, by which time conditions governing the rate of interest which it will be necessary to offer may undergo radical changes.

GOOD TONE IN LONDON.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Money and discount rates were quiet and steady today:

The stock market opened with a good tone all around, and moderate investment buying, chiefly in the old and new war loans, allied and colonial bonds and Mexican issues.

South American rails recovered, and in the miscellaneous section brewery shares were the feature. Oil stocks closed firm. American securities were dull and neglected.

Trading Quiet on Paris Bourse.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Trading was quiet on the Bourse today. Three per cent. rentes, 61 francs 50 centimes for cash; exchange on London, 27 francs 18 centimes; 5 per cent. loan, 87 francs 55 centimes.

NEW $5,000,000 ISSUE.

National City Company to Offer Six Per Cent. Gold Notes.

The National City Company has bought, and will offer to the public, $5,000,000 6 per cent. secured gold notes of the Electric Auto-Lite Corporation, maturing in one and two years. Of the total issue $2,000,000 will fall due in one year and $3,000,000 in two years. The one-year notes will be offered at 99⅛ and interest, yielding over 6⅞ per cent., and the two-year notes will be sold at 98 and interest, yielding over 7 per cent.

The notes of the Electric Auto-Lite Corporation will be secured by specific pledge of collateral, valued at over $17,000,000, and consisting of the common stock of the Willys-Overland Company, Fisk Rubber Company's 7 per cent. second preferred stock, and Federal Rubber Company's 7 per cent. second preferred stock. The Electric Auto-Lite Corporation (a Delaware concern) has recently been organized to acquire the business and assets of the Electric Auto-Lite Company, (an Ohio corporation,) which owns a modern plant in Toledo and is engaged in the manufacture of electric starting and lighting systems for automobiles.

The company's net income for the first six months of the current year amounted to $1,703,222, and the dividend income from stocks pledged amounts to $820,000.

STUDEBAKER DIVIDEND CUT.

Common Stock Reduced from 10 to 4 Per Cent. Basis.

The news was received in Wall Street yesterday that the Directors of the Studebaker Corporation, at its annual meeting in South Bend, Ind., had declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock, but reduced the common stock dividend from 2½ per cent. to 1 per cent., equivalent to a reduction from 10 to 4 per cent. a year. The dividend, as usual, is payable on Sept. 1 to stockholders of record Aug. 20.

"The net profits of the corporation for the first six months of this year amounted to $2,966,198," says a statement issued by A. R. Erskine, the President, "after deduction for existing corporation income taxes, but without provision for excess profit taxes which may in the future be enacted by Congress. The Directors feel constrained to reduce the dividend on the common stock on account of the uncertainties of the future and the consequent necessity of conserving working capital. Upon the entrance of our country into the war the company's sales declined. The factory production schedule in May was changed to conform with the reduced volume of business. This increases overhead costs. Since July 1, however, sales have improved."

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Decline in Liberty Bonds.

United States 3½ per cent. Liberty Loan bonds established a new low record on the Stock Exchange yesterday, the day's transactions totaling $760,500. Bonds to the amount of $45,000 changed hands at 99.52—that is, $995.20 per $1,000 bond. For odd lots the new low figure was 99.48, or $994.80 per $1,000. The previous low record for round amounts was 99.64, or $996.40.

Discussing New Liberty Loan.

Bankers who conferred with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo in New York on Monday maintained absolute secrecy regarding the conference. Some of them even refused to admit that they had spoken to the Secretary, while others declined to divulge the place of meeting. None would indicate what was said. It is understood that the conference was on the subject of the proposed new Government loan, but the best information is to the effect that while Mr. McAdoo listened to the views of local bankers he did not commit himself as to terms and details of the issue. The impression in Wall Street is that Congress will be asked to enact a law permitting the Secretary to raise the interest rate, and the general expectation is that the loan will be offered soon. With prospects of the next loan being put out at a rate higher than 3½ per cent., the first issue of Liberty bonds will no doubt rise to par, for they are exchangeable for bonds of later issues, bearing higher rates.

Canada's Disappointment.

Referring to the recent floating in this country of the $100,000,000 Dominion of Canada loan, The Monetary Times of Toronto remarks that "one cannot repress a little disappointment at the high rate we have had to pay." It goes on to say that the notes, which were offered to the public at a price to yield 6.07 per cent., cost the Dominion Government approximately 7 per cent., and compares it with the 3½ per cent. rate at which the Liberty Loan bonds were put out. The paper also refers to the fact that Great Britain and the other Allies had received advances from the United States at 3½ per cent. The fact of the matter is that England and France had to pay a high rate for their last loans negotiated in the New York market, and the relatively slow response of the public to subscribe to the new Canadian notes is the best indication that New York bankers had not overcharged the Canadians.

Helping the Allies.

Bankers manifested displeasure over the cabled article from the Journal des Débats of Paris, in which the United States was criticised for not extending more financial aid to the Allies. It was pointed out that our Government has advanced to the foreign Governments nearly $2,000,000,000, at an unusually low rate of interest, and that our Government is prepared to make further credits on a large scale. It was also explained that neither our Government nor our bankers had insisted upon shipments of gold, but that Great Britain had determined upon the advisability of sending the metal here for the purpose of stabilizing foreign exchange and keeping interest rates down in this market.

Trend of Railroads' Operating Income.

The monthly report of the Bureau of Railway Economics for May, just published, is an interesting study of the race between mounting gross incomes and mounting expenses, labor, material, and taxation. As far as the month of May is concerned, the two appear to have run practically a dead heat, with the result that the operating income per mile of all steam roads in the United States, which after going down to slightly less than $200 in 1914 had been steadily rising in 1915 and 1916, remained practically stationary for the last year, gaining only about $4 per mile, or 1.1 per cent., the rise being from $395 per mile in 1916 to $399 per mile in 1917. Total operating revenues increased $44,727,367 in May, 1917, over those of May, 1916, but operating expenses increased $41,272,388 and taxes $2,333,548, leaving a net revenue increase of only $1,147,753 for all the railroads in the country.

Kennecott Strike Ends.

The receipt of news from Alaska at the Kennecott Copper Corporation's offices that the strike at the mines had been settled brought relief to numerous copper men. The Kennecott mines, or at least the leading ones, have been closed since late in June, and the production figures show the drastic effect. In July, the corporation reports, 3,580,000 pounds of copper was turned out, compared with 5,848,000 pounds in June and 7,208,000 pounds in May. When compared with July of last year, a striking contrast is seen, as the month brought less than one-third of the output of July, 1916, which amounted to 10,750,000 pounds.

Ending Allied Copper Shipments.

The copper producers who participated in the enormous contract with the allied Governments last Autumn expect to complete the deliveries this week. The arrangement covered a sale of 448,000,000 pounds at one time and of approximately 60,000,000 pounds at another, all to be delivered in the first half of 1917. The copper was ready for shipment on the due dates in the first four months, but later strikes at the refineries tended to delay the outflow, and a more serious factor was the shortage of ocean tonnage, necessitating alteration of shipping schedules. Although the sellers are about a month overdue in completing the transactions, they have reason to feel gratified with results. The copper industry has had many problems of late, some of which not only have reduced output, but threaten to affect refinery and mine operations even more seriously in the future.

One Price for All.

Inquiries among copper and steel men yesterday failed to disclose a state of depression over President Wilson's stand in respect to prices to be charged to the allied Governments. While it was the first direct indication of the President's desires, there had been so much discussion of the possibility of common prices that producers appeared to have become reconciled to the situation. The lack of depression may have been caused largely by the belief that whatever the prices they will permit good profits. Industry is not so afraid of price fixing as it was a month ago. At the same time it must be said that no particular facts have become public yet to raise optimism.

RECORD PROSPERITY SHOWN BY RAILWAYS

BIG JUMP IN EXPENSES

Increased $30,000,000, While Operating Revenues Gained $38,000,000—Put 1917 Down as Banner Year.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Record prosperity for the railroads is shown in Interstate Commerce Commission returns for June. The 153 roads covered by the figures, operating three-fourths of the country's mileage, reported that their net revenue increased nearly $8,000,000 over June, 1916, the previous record month, and reached a total of $88,283,329. Operating revenues increased more than $38,000,000, totaling $273,867,527, while expenses were approximately $30,000,000 higher than a year ago.

The greatest increase is shown by Western roads, whose operating revenues jumped from $94,000,000 to $110,000,000. Expenses increased approximately $10,000,000, leaving net revenues from operation $39,616,950, or about $6,000,000 more than in June, 1916.

Eastern roads show an increase in net revenue of approximately $600,000. Operating revenues increased $15,000,000, totaling $120,865,262, while expenses increased approximately $14,400,000.

In the Southern district operating revenues show an increase of more than $7,000,000, reaching $42,719,588. Expenses increased approximately $6,000,000, leaving net revenues $13,494,159, approximately $1,000,000 higher than a year ago.

Preliminary figures covering the first six months of 1917 show an excess of $2,500,000 in net revenues over the record figures of a year ago. This increase was in the face of several bad months during the Winter. The returns are interpreted as indicating that the railroads will exceed in 1917 by many millions the banner figures recorded last year.

Total operating revenues of the 153 roads during the first six months were $1,489,248,702, an increase of $163,000,000 over the first six months of 1916. Expenses totaling $1,065,281,720 were approximately $160,500,000 greater than a year ago.

The upward turn came in May, when the total earnings were slightly better than in May, 1916.

Thirty-three roads still are to be heard from, and on the basis of the reports already in the total operating income of all the roads for June should show a $10,000,000 increase, at least, over June, 1916. The complete returns, it is estimated, will show the enormous total of $1,800,000,000 in operating income during the first six months of the current year. The increase in operating revenues for all roads during the period is expected to amount to approximately $190,000,000.

On the basis of these figures it is not unlikely that the roads will receive around $4,000,000,000 for operations in 1917, an increase of 20 per cent. over the previous high total. Expenses, of course, have soared to new heights also, but the margin between revenues and expenses is expected to be greater than ever before.

Cable Censorship in Siam.

Siam has imposed a cable censorship. The Commercial Cable Company announced yesterday that Siam now only admits cablegrams written in plain language, English or French, or in certain specified codes.

COTTON GOES HIGHER

There was a renewal of the advance in the cotton market yesterday, and August contracts again made a new high record for the season by selling at 27.70. This is the highest quotation made in the futures market in forty-five years.

In the early trading October contracts sold at 26.50, an advance of 44 points from Monday's closing figure and of 280 points from the low level reached on the decline which preceded the recent Government crop report. Later in the day these high prices brought about freer offerings. There appeared to be no change in the general character of the news—at least no fresh bearish factors were discussed around the ring. But the demand from shorts had evidently been pretty well supplied during the progress of the advance and in addition to realizing, there may have been scattered selling for a reaction. At any rate, prices broke sharply, with October selling off to 25.95, and closing at 25.97. The general list closed steady, net 42 points higher to 9 points lower. August showed the big advance, with other months 9 points lower to 5 points higher.

There were overnight buying orders around the ring at the start. Shorts had shown a good deal of nervousness on Monday. Their anxiety to cover appeared to have been increased by bullish spot advices and the continued advance of rain in the Southwest. Contracts were very scarce until active months had sold about 44 to 53 points net higher, with January touching 26.20. Realizing then became rather heavy, and the market was nervous and unsettled later in the afternoon, with the close showing reaction of about 50 to 53 points from the best.

One of the reports circulating here during the early trading was that spots had sold out of the local stock to an exporter on Monday at 40 points on order. According to a wire from New Orleans spots were selling at a big premium on October in the interior of Texas, and the strength of the spot situation was emphasized by Monday's late official report from Houston. This quoted middling at 27.25, the highest price yet officially reported in southern markets, although new crop cotton is now said to be coming in pretty freely in the southern part of the State.

Yesterday's report from the South showed no change in the Houston market, with sales of 1,148 bales. Other markets were unchanged to 150 points higher. According to some reports reaching the trade a large proportion of the stock now held at both ports and interior towns consists of linters, bollies, and low grades of cotton that is marked for export.

Exports yesterday were 700 bales, making 45,694 so far this season.

According to Memphis advices ocean freight room for 200,000 bales has been booked for shipment out of New Orleans and Galveston for the months of August and September.

HIGH PRICES FOR COTTON.

Crop This Year Is Valued at $1,412,860,035.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7.—The cotton crop, including the seed for the trade year which ended July 31, was valued at $1,412,860,035 as against $958,200,000 a year ago. The annual report of Secretary Hester of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, made public today, said prices this year were the highest in forty-seven years.

The average price for middling was 18.41 cents a pound, compared to 11.99 last year.

"The short crop, following in the wake of a short crop and increased demand, accentuated by the domestic demand for war purposes, naturally resulted in the high prices," said the report.

Secretary Hester reported the crop at 12,940,934 bales, averaging from middling to strict middling. The actual growth of 1916-17 was placed at 12,966,000 bales.

"Not only was every bale brought into sight from the fields this year consumed," the report says, "but the visible and invisible supply left over from last year was trenched upon to the extent of over 1,100,000 bales, a shrinkage in the visible and invisible supply for the two years of 3,100,000 bales."

Total world takings of American cotton for the year were placed at 13,611,000 bales. The visible supply at the end of the year was 1,504,000 bales; total visible and invisible supply 2,525,000 bales.

Want New Treasury Certificates.

Officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said yesterday that the response of banks and trust companies in this district to Secretary McAdoo's offering of $300,000,000 of 3½ per cent. Treasury certificates, due Nov. 15, was very satisfactory. No figures, however, were given out, but it was intimated that the subscriptions which were filed yesterday were relatively as large as those received for previous issues, namely about 50 per cent. of the total offering. Payments for the certificates allotted to subscribing banks will be made tomorrow, and it is expected that the funds will be redeposited with the institutions, the banks paying the Government 2 per cent. interest.

COMMODITIES MARKETS

WHEAT.

The wheat market was featureless as far as trading operations were concerned, and price changes were not important. Cash markets in Minneapolis were unchanged, while in Kansas City quotations were 2 to 6c lower, and St. Louis was unchanged to 3 points lower. There was an absence of pressure of new crop offers, but the movement is gradually assuming larger proportions, and it was thought that the cash position was somewhat less acute.

The Government report will be published at 2:15 this afternoon. It was the general impression that the yield of Winter wheat will be larger than indicated a month ago.

Cash wheat was being offered very sparingly in the local market, with No. 2 red quoted at $2.60 and No. 2 hard at $2.65, free on board, New York.

CORN.

Corn prices were feverish and moved within a range of about 2c a bushel, closing ¼c to ⅜c net higher. The weather was highly favorable for the new crop, further rains having fallen in Kansas as well as in other portions of the Western belt. This caused some selling early, but prices rallied on the strength in the cash position with reports that cash corn in Kansas was selling for December-January shipment at 25 to 27c over the December position. There were also rumors that the maximum price in Chicago would be raised, although this was officially denied and caused renewed selling at the close. The Government report was expected to show improvement over last month's figures of 3,124,000,000 bushels. In the local cash market No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at $2.44 and No. 2 mixed at $2.42 plus cost, insurance, and freight New York.

OATS.

The private reports of wonderful yields of oats led to the belief that the Government report will indicate a crop considerably in excess of the July figures of 1,453,000,000 bushels. Larger receipts from the country are anticipated, but after an early decline, the market became oversold, and at the close was steady with very small net changes. The local cash market was easy; standard quoted at 86½c; No. 2 white, 86½c; No. 3 white, 85 to 86c; No. 4 white, 84 to 85c; fancy clipped white, 86 to 88c; ordinary clipped white, 84 to 86c, all elevator.

PROVISIONS.

The provision list showed firmness early in the day, with a good demand from commission houses and influenced by further peace talk. Prices, however, developed a reactionary tendency under profit taking and influenced by the decline in cottonseed oil, closing with net losses. Receipts of hogs at Chicago were 10,000; estimated for Wednesday, 26,000. Kansas City received 9,000 and Omaha 9,500.

COTTONSEED OIL.

The market for cottonseed oil was disappointing to the bulls yesterday, prices closing 17 to 34 points net lower. An early advance in lard as well as firmness in the cotton market had little or no influence and it was apparent that the trade at large felt nervous over the situation and considered the technical position of the market weak. The consuming demand was not particularly active, and the strict embargo against exports to neutral countries is believed to stand in the way of more than moderate export sales. Total sales for the day were 50,300 barrels.

COFFEE.

With Brazilian weather advices suggesting that the cold snap had passed without temperatures generally considered damaging at this season of the year, the coffee market showed an easier tone during yesterday's trading. The opening was 1 point lower, and active months sold about 11 to 12 points off Monday's closing figures during the middle of the day. Slight rallies followed on covering, but the close showed a net decline of 5 to 8 points. Sales were reported of 19,500 bags, including an exchange of September for May at 36 points.

SUGAR.

New records were made again yesterday in sugar contracts on the exchange, and September at one time during the session touched 6.42, with December going to 5.93. The market opened strong, 2 to 15 points higher, and was more or less irregular throughout the day, closing 1 point lower to a net advance of 8 points. Total sales amounted to 23,300 tons. Operators were good buyers, with a fair demand also coming from Wall Street and from brokers usually trading for European account. Refined sugar developed further strength, and the American advanced their list 10 points to 8.40c, the range being 8.40c to 8.75c, less 2 per cent. for cash. Range of prices:

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER. — Receipts yesterday, 13,083 packages. There was quite active trading at the opening of business, and the market shows some further advance on the higher grades of creamery. On medium grades the tone is steady, but on lower grades from seconds down the feeling is weak, owing to the large proportion of poor qualities in the recent arrivals. Renovated is still scarce, ladles and packing stock firm. Creamery, higher than extras, per pound, 40½@41½c; extras, (92 score,) 40@40½c; firsts, (88 to 91 score,) 39@39½c; seconds, (83 to 87 score,) 37@38½c; thirds, 36@36½c; creamery, unsalted, higher than extras, 41½@42½c; extras, 40½@41½c; firsts, 39½@40c; seconds, 38@39c; State dairy, tubs, finest, 39½@40c; good to prime, 37¼@39c; common to fair, 35@37c; renovated, extras, 37½@38c; firsts, 36½@37c; lower grades, 35@36c. ladles, current make, firsts, 34¼@35c; seconds, 34c; lower grades, 33@33½c; packing stock, current make, No. 1, 34c; No. 2, 33¼c; lower grades, 32½@33c.

EGGS.—Receipts yesterday, 21,235 cases. The scarcity of heat-free eggs continues unrelieved, and dealers are obliged to do the best they can in making their selections. There is a fair trading. More fine eggs are wanted than can be readily found, and prices hold very firm. On some grades quotations are revised to bring them more nearly in line with official inspections reported. But the market is still extremely irregular, and on the general offerings receivers are still anxious to keep the stock moving close to receipts. There is still some demand for storage eggs, and the market is rated steady as quoted. Nearby eggs are in light supply, and these also show more or less serious hot weather defects; fancy stock is scarce and wanted at full prices; undergrades very irregular. Fresh gathered, extras, per dozen, 40@41c; extra firsts, 38@39c; firsts, 36@37c; seconds, 33@35c; thirds and poorer, 23@32c; dirties, No. 1, 29@30c; No. 2 and poorer, 18@28c; checks, good to choice dry, 27@28c; undergrades, 18@26c; refrigerator, special marks, fancy, storage and insurance paid, 36@36½c; firsts, 35@35½c; seconds, 34@34½c; refrigerator, State whites, 40@42c; State, Pennsylvania, and nearby Western hennery whites, fine to fancy, 49@50c; ordinary to good, 42@48c; gathered whites, good to fine, 42@48c; poor to fair, 34@40c; Western and Southern gathered whites, 34@43c; State, Pennsylvania, and nearby hennery browns, 42@46c; gathered brown and mixed colors, 35@41c.

WANTS COTTON PUT ON EMBARGO LIST

Exports Council Also Recommends That It Be Extended to Ship Lumber and to Sugar.

NEUTRALS HEAVY BUYERS

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—A report has been prepared for the approval of President Wilson, recommending that cotton, sugar, and lumber be placed under the embargo restrictions of the Exports Council. There seems little doubt that the recommendation, which comes, it is said, from the Exports Council and its advisory commission, will receive favorable consideration at the White House.

THE NEW YORK TIMES recently published figures to show the tremendous increase in the exports of cotton to some of the neutral countries which have been accused of supplying Germany with that commodity. Cotton is one of the materials essential to the manufacture of explosives.

It is understood that Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce discussed this new phase of the work of the Exports Council with President Wilson and made definite recommendations. A dispatch from The Hague published this morning in THE NEW YORK TIMES, which indicated that Germany was tremendously agitated because of the attitude assumed by this Government in shutting off exports of foodstuffs, fodders, and other wartime material from the northern neutrals, caused much discussion here today. However, it did not serve to weaken the position which the American Government has taken, and there is not likely to be any change in the policy followed up to this time.

The inclusion of lumber in the restricted exports will mean that America will carefully conserve its full supply for its shipbuilding program, working along the lines of the construction of a great fleet of wooden cargo carrying vessels. It is understood that the restrictions will not be placed on all kinds of lumber, however, and that the Allies will be supplied freely with war needs by this industry.

The cotton situation is one that has occupied much of the attention of the State Department and other Governmental agencies. The Exports Council, it is said, has at last reached the conclusion that action must be taken which will end all danger of cotton for explosives reaching Germany through neutral countries.

An examination of the export records in regard to sugar shows an amazing draining of American industries during the war period, and also that some of the neutral countries contiguous to Germany have taken many millions of pounds of American sugar for the first time in years. This may be due in part to shutting off of sugar supplies from Germany. However before these neutrals get any more sugar from the United States, the officials here want to be certain that none of it is to reach Germany.

The sugar situation is illustrated by the following summary: In the eleven months ended May 31, 1914, only 47,662,845 pounds of refined sugar was exported by the United States. For the same period in 1915 the exports jumped to 488,620,097 pounds. In 1916 the exports were 1,476,190,736, and in 1917 1,094,418,502 pounds.

More significant, however, is this record of American exports of sugar to the neutrals contiguous to Germany, for the twelve months' period of each year quoted, ended June 30:

Switzerland—1915, 110 pounds; 1916, 36,791,230 pounds.

The increase in exports of sugar to France and Great Britain during the war period were tremendous.

France, which in 1914 took only 1,000 pounds of refined sugar from America, absorbed 240,176,091 pounds in 1915 and 350,296,244 pounds in 1916. Italy, which imported no sugar from the United States up to 1916, absorbed 20,912,913 pounds of our supply in 1916.

England also has taken refined sugar in immense quantities since the war began. In 1914 England (omitting Scotland and Ireland) imported from the United States 1,514,875 pounds. In 1915 she took 195,507,048 pounds, and in 1916 no less than 422,579,596 pounds.

Ireland imported from the United States no refined sugar in 1914, 48,387,719 pounds in 1915, and 560,460,954 pounds in 1916.

50 SHIPS A YEAR, HARRIMAN PROJECT

Son of Railroad Builder Said to Have Made Big Contract with Emergency Corporation.

Reports were current in Wall Street yesterday, based, it was said, on dispatches from Washington, that W. Averill Harriman, son of the late E. H. Harriman, had gone into the shipbuilding business on a huge scale. Mr. Harriman, the story went, had purchased outright or secured control of the yards of the Chester Shipbuilding Company on the Delaware River at Chester, Penn., and had also purchased an immense tract of land at Bristol, also on the Delaware, where he planned, it was said, to construct an even larger shipbuilding plant, having twelve launching ways capable of simultaneously building as many ships of 8,000 to 10,000 tons.

Mr. Harriman himself, who recently opened offices at 165 Broadway, refused yesterday either to confirm or deny the report. The story, however, was so entirely circumstantial that it received general credence. It was said that besides building the new plant, Mr. Harriman would increase the number of ways at the Chester plant from seven to twelve, contracts for the construction of all the new work having been given to the American Bridge Company, and arrangements already made for cranes and all other equipment of a thoroughly modern shipyard. The combined capacity of the two yards is estimated at fifty ships a year, and it is said Mr. Harriman has practically closed with the Emergency Shipping Corporation for the construction of eighty steel ships of 8,000 to 10,000 tons.

Offer New Oil and Gas Stock.

Cosden & Co. will soon offer about 640,000 shares of stock to the company's stockholders of record Aug. 14, at $10 per share. The offer is to be underwritten by a syndicate to be formed by Hallgarten & Co. of New York, and Sassatt & Co. of Philadelphia. The offer will be open until Aug. 30. The company, which was recently organized as a consolidation of the former Cosden & Co., controlling oil properties, and the Cosden Oil and Gas Company, controlling gas properties, has an authorized capitalization of $7,000,000 of preferred stock and 25,000,000 shares of common, of which 12,700,000 shares were issued on organization.

SEEK A SIX-CENT CAR FARE.

Hearing on Petition of 28 Up-State Companies Begun at Albany.

ALBANY, Aug. 7.—In opening today before the Public Service Commission the cases of twenty-eight up-State electric railway companies applying for an increase of fares from 5 to 6 cents, Professor Thomas Conway, Jr., of the Wharton School of Finance, submitted a statement based on reports to the Public Service Commission that more than half of the petitioning companies were not only paying no dividends, but they were not even earning the interest on their bonds and faced receivership if they obtained no relief.

Professor Conway stated that the net corporate income of twenty-seven of the companies, despite an increase of total business, had fallen from $1,148,294 in 1912 to $423,711 in 1916. In the same period the interest on bonds in default had increased from $11,875,000 in 1912 to $374,007,000 in 1916. He testified that fourteen of the twenty-eight companies failed to earn their fixed charges in 1916. He said even a 6-cent fare would not make up for the loss of purchasing power of the nickel in the buying of supplies for street car service, and unless relief were granted some of the companies must go into receivership.

Edmund P. Waller, manager of the Railway Department of the General Electric Company, and Roscoe Seybold of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, testified that all kinds of electric apparatus used by street car companies cost from 50 to 125 per cent. more than in 1914. Labor costs in the production of these supplies, it was declared, had advanced from 30 to 40 per cent. since 1914; steel plates had increased 700 per cent., copper 120, steel castings 100, steel forgings 340, coal 80, and brass 200 per cent. Other witnesses gave similar testimony as to cost increases.

Strong opposition to the application was voiced by Corporation Counsels of more than thirty up-State cities who have organized to fight the proposed general increase.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE

United States Steel common was in special demand on the Consolidated Stock Exchange at the close of the day, with its last sales at 127⅛. The lowest at which it sold was 126⅛. In the opening dealings it was one of the leaders in a reactionary trend. The price-fixing plans of the Government were again brought into play as a market influence. Bethlehem Steel B was one of the early particularly soft stocks. Commission house business in odd lots was broadly distributed throughout the market.

WANTS GOVERNORS TO SEIZE COAL MINES

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Initiative in calling a conference of the Governors of sixteen States at Chicago Aug. 16, for the purpose of taking concerted action to reduce coal prices, even to the extent of seizing the mines, was taken today by the Illinois State Council of Defense. The report of Levy Mayer, Chairman of the Law and Legislation Committee, which held that the Governors have power to seize mines, was adopted.

Governors of the following States will be asked to attend the conference: Tennessee, North Dakota, South Dakota, Ohio, Kentucky, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, and Illinois.

After calling attention to the critical coal situation in Illinois, the opinion of Mr. Mayer says:

"Though not heretofore invoked, there are available fundamental principles of law that furnish means of relief." As to methods the opinion enumerates:

"First, seizure by the State and operation by it during the period of the war of the coal mines in this State. There is an implied agreement on the part of every member of society that his own individual welfare and property shall, in cases of necessity, yield to that of the State. The seizure of the coal mines can be effected without the institution of judicial proceedings and thus court delays can be avoided. The right of the State in cases of this kind has for its foundation the security of sovereignty itself, and the doctrine of eminent domain and the police powers support the right.

"If the State operates the coal mines during the war a scale of prices for the coal mined can be established by the State and changed from time to time to meet various conditions. The existing wage scale can, if conditions require, be increased by the State. The coal can be sold at such prices above the cost of production as will (after allowing all proper charges and deductions) leave a reasonable margin of profit with which to pay such just compensation as the court of claims may grant the operators.

"The course here indicated, if pursued, will in our opinion not violate the State or federal Constitution nor constitute an interference with interstate commerce.

"Second, call an immediate meeting of representatives of the State councils of the neighboring coal producing States so that an adequate and uniform measure of relief can be at once contemporaneously adopted and enforced in all these States.

"Third, either separately or in conjunction with the State councils of the neighboring coal producing States take immediate steps to bring about the adoption of a federal law which will give full and sweeping federal powers of control over prices and distribution to an administrative body possessing the machinery to render complete and instant relief."

TO TEACH IN TRIAL SCHOOL.

Instructors Chosen for General Education Board Experiment.

Dr. Otis W. Caldwell, Director of Lincoln School, Teachers' College, which is the experimental school to be opened next Fall with the support of the General Education Board, announced yesterday most of the appointments to the teaching staff

Dr. Caldwell said the general principles considered in selection had been experience, initiative, openness of mind, and personality. With these considerations as a background, the selections were made on the records of individuals. The appointments announced were:

First Grade—Miss Gail Harrison, Santa Barbara, Cal.

Second Grade—Miss Anna J. Gannett, Milton, Mass.

Third Grade—Miss Nell C. Curtiss, Chicago.

Educational Records—Chester A. Buckner, University of Kansas.

French—Miss Suzanne Roth, Morris High School.

Lunchroom and Household Arts and Counsellor for Girls—Miss Helen Hicks, University of Chicago.

Mathematics—Raleigh Schorling, University of Chicago High School.

Physical Training for Girls—Miss Jean Hosford, Horace Mann School.

The school will be housed at 646 Park Avenue. There will be about 120 pupils the first year, perhaps one-fourth of whom have their tuitions covered by free scholarships. Critics of the school have attacked it on the assumption that it would be for the children of the wealthy alone, and others as designed to enforce utilitarian training upon children of the poor; but the enrollment for the first year is drawn from various social and industrial groups, with children of parents in the middle, financial and social classes predominating.

ACTOR'S CREDITORS ABSENT

William H. Willis, referee in the bankruptcy proceedings in which Joseph E. Howard, actor, song writer, and theatrical producer, seeks to be purged of his debts, was ready yesterday to hear those who had claims against him, but no one appeared. However, the referee read a letter from Sophie Tucker, a vaudeville actress, who was named by Mr. Howard as a creditor, with a legitimate claim of $1,000. Miss Tucker denied that Mr. Howard owed her anything, and her letter indicated that the mention of her name was a liberty which she did not thank Mr. Howard for having taken. It was explained that Mr. Howard had engaged Miss Tucker to appear in a play he was going to produce in Chicago; that it was not produced, and that Miss Tucker demanded $1,000 for the costumes she had bought, and threatened suit to force payment. All the claims tabulated by Mr. Howard totaled $127,238, with no assets save one suit of street clothes, and one much-worn evening suit.

All the creditors are connected with the stage, and among the claims are those of Mabel Kane, $5,000, for a loan; Flora Stein of the Hotel Knickerbocker, $12,000; Emma Carus, $385; the Shuberts, $5,000, and Selwyn & Co., $4,406.

MRS. DE SAULLES TO FIGHT FOR BOY

If Family of Man She Shot Refuses Her Request a Writ Will Be Sought.

REMOVED FROM HER CELL

MOTHER AND SISTER ON WAY

Leave Chile to be at Her Side When She Faces Trial for Murder.

Counsel for Mrs. Blanca De Saulles, now in prison in Mineola, L. I., will apply today to the family of her former husband on grounds of humanity for their consent to have 4-year-old John Longer De Saulles, Jr., visit his mother. If this permission is not granted an application will be made for a writ of habeas corpus for the boy in order to have him brought before the Supreme Court, so that the petition of the mother to see the child may be reviewed. The family has not made known its attitude. The last time young Jack saw his mother was last Friday night, when he saw her shoot five bullets into his father, an event the significance of which has not yet dawned on the child.

Unless an agreement is reached regarding visits of the boy to the mother, a long-drawn-out guardianship contest is likely to occur during the next two months while the mother is awaiting trial for murder in the first degree. Henry A. Uterhart, lawyer for Mrs. De Saulles, said yesterday that he was inclined to be in favor of continuing the boy in the custody of his grandfather, Major Arthur De Saulles, for the present at least, providing that the child be allowed to make frequent visits to the Mineola Jail. Such visits, in the opinion of the lawyer, are absolutely necessary, if the mother is to live to face trial. In this opinion he is supported by three physicians who have examined her.

"Although the mother is the only surviving legal guardian, we are not going to ask for the custody of the child," he said, "because we could not keep the boy in jail and it would mean committing him to the care of strangers or servants, which the court might not approve. It seems better to leave the child with his grandfather, but the mother must be allowed to see him."

Mr. Uterhart said that he had not pressed this question as yet, because he was anxious that the mother should have time to recover from the shock of last Friday night before seeing the child. In her present condition, he said that he feared the mother might be overcome with joy at seeing the child, thus increasing her illness. County Physician Dr. Guy F. Cleghorn said, however, that he thought nothing would do the mother so much good as visits from the child.

The result of the examination of the accused woman by three physicians on Monday night was the verdict that she was suffering from malnutrition and anaemia because she had not been properly cared for during the last year. No effort was made to have her transferred from the Nassau County Jail to a hospital because of the opinion of the physicians that she could be treated where she was and because of fear that, if she was placed in an institution where she was not constantly guarded, she might attempt to kill herself. The three physicians agreed that, while her illness might result in her death if her present rate of decline continued for any length of time, it would not be difficult to restore her to health, provided she received proper medical treatment and diet and was comforted occasionally by a sight of the child, whom she continually begs to see.

Because of the result of the physical examination, Mrs. De Saulles was removed yesterday from her little cell, 7 by 9 feet, to a spare room in Sheriff Seaman's own apartment, which is considerably larger and airier. It has two windows, both of them barred. These quarters were occupied by Mrs. Florence Carman during the period between her first trial, when the jury disagreed, and the second trial, which ended in acquittal. Sheriff Seaman said he had received no directions to keep a guard on constant duty over the woman to prevent attempts at suicide, and that only the usual precautions would be taken in her case.

Evidence to support the plea of insanity was received by the woman's lawyer in the preliminary report from Dr. J. Sherman Wight of Long Island College Hospital, who said yesterday that he had not completed his diagnosis, and would pay another visit to the patient before he did. His preliminary report was as follows:

"We found the patient psychopathic and in a depressed state. She has been seriously ill for at least a year, and is still on the downward track."

Indifferent to Her Health.

County Physician Dr. Cleghorn said one of the most alarming symptoms was her indifference to her state of health. He found, however, that her trouble arose from physical rather than mental causes. He said:

"She is thin and wasted, and weighs less than 100 pounds. She will have to be built up and kept under observation, but there is no reason why this may not be done where she is. If she fails to respond to treatment and grows worse here, the question of removing her can be taken up again. While her illness is physical, she was in a very melancholy frame of mind, and seemed to be in a state of complete nervous exhaustion. She volunteered nothing, and was rather hostile in some of her replies to our questions. I would not say that there is danger that she may make an attempt on her life, but I would not sanction her removal to any place where she would not be constantly guarded."

"District Attorney Charles R. Weeks said yesterday that he had his doubts about the seriousness of Mrs. De Saulles's illness, and that if an attempt were made to have her removed from the prison he would oppose it by all the means in his power.

"Everything that is necessary can be done for her where she is," he said. "I see no reason for treating her differently from any other accused person, and she will be treated just as any sick prisoner is. There is a man in the jail now charged with the same crime she is, a man named De Mascos from Lynbrook, who is penniless, but I see no reason why she should receive any different treatment from him. If she is really ill and her counsel wants her removed from her cell, I will have my own physicians examine her, and be guided by their report, but she will not be released. The facts that she is a woman and that she comes of a wealthy family give her no exceptional rights. I do not purpose to give her case any priority or preference. It will be presented to the Grand Jury in its turn and tried in its turn, not before.

"Another thing I wish to say is that I do not believe in conducting criminal trials in newspaper columns, and I will not be led into any public discussion of the case. The other side has been given elaborate space in the newspapers, but there will be no such campaign from this office. Our detectives are making some investigations that I expect will be helpful to the prosecution, but beyond that I shall say nothing."

Mr. Uterhart received word that Mrs. Blanca Vergara-Errazuriz and Miss Emilia Vergara-Errazuriz, mother and sister of Mrs. De Saulles, will leave Valparaiso today to come to New York to be at the side of the young woman during the trial. Mrs. De Saulles has not communicated with her family, but a cable briefly relating what had occurred was sent on Saturday to Valparaiso by Mrs. D. Stewart Iglehart, who is of Chilean birth and was a neighbor of Mrs. De Saulles both in Valparaiso and on Long Island. The family was already acquainted with the experiences of Mrs. De Saulles since she married and came to this country in 1911.

It was learned yesterday that before the suit for divorce was started by Mrs. De Saulles last December, the charges against De Saulles and the story of the alleged sufferings of the Chilean girl who had taken an American husband were current, not only in Valparaiso, but in other cities of South America. The story had spread, according to Americans and to Latin-Americans arriving by steamer from South America, because of the great prominence of the family of Mrs. De Saulles, whose grandmother, Mme. Vergara, was a generation ago much written about as "the wealthiest woman in South America." According to stories from travelers returning from South American cities, the discussion of the affairs of the De Saulles had added appreciably to an impression widely held in South America that North Americans make bad husbands.

South America Interested.

Evidence of the wide interest in the case appeared yesterday in demands received by news associations and transmitted to Mr. Uterhart for a statement from the young woman for South American papers. Requests for news, which were turned over to Mr. Uterhart, came from Buenos Aires, Rio Janeiro, and Valparaiso. Another evidence of the interest felt in South America was contained in dispatches from Valparaiso saying that the Government there had been petitioned by prominent Chileans to interest itself in the case. This was followed by statements from Washington that the Chilean Ambassador mentioned the case at the State Department and suggested that his Government was willing to do anything it could in the matter.

The mother and sister of Mrs. De Saulles will make their home, according to present plans, at The Crossways, the Roslyn house where Mrs. De Saulles had lived with her boy, and from which she made the trip last Friday night which ended in her killing her husband. Mr. Uterhart commented on the report that Mrs. De Saulles had consented to the decree which gave the father an equal possession of the child because she was threatened with a countersuit, saying:

"While I have not had an opportunity to talk with my client, I want to call your attention to the fact that reputable lawyers would not enter into any such agreement. It would be a disbarring offense to compromise a divorce case in any such manner. Certainly nothing of the kind occurred in this case. The verdict was not consented to by Mrs. De Saulles, who, on the contrary, was terribly surprised by it."

The boy's whereabouts, which has been kept in doubt by statements from relatives of De Saulles that outsiders would not be permitted to learn where he was, was definitely made known yesterday by G. M. Heckscher, the business partner of the slain man. His statement was as follows:

"There is no mystery, and never has been, in respect to the whereabouts of little Jack De Saulles. He is at my home at Westbury under the care of his aunt, Mrs. Rudolph Degener, and of my wife."

Mr. Uterhart said that his client continued to receive numerous letters adding to the charges against De Saulles and offering evidence to corroborate her description of him. Relatives of De Saulles and friends allowed the defense of the dead man to rest on the brief statement issued by the father, Major De Saulles, characterizing the charges as calumnies, but Marshall Ward, an old friend of De Saulles and a witness of his death, said yesterday that he expected to have something to say on the subject later.

The body was removed yesterday from Campbell's undertaking parlors to the De Saulles apartment, at 4 West Fifty-seventh Street, where it was viewed by many of his friends. A great collection of floral pieces was received during the day. The original plan to hold the funeral at Grace Church was changed, and it will be held at 10:30 o'clock today from the apartment. It will be private and the interment will be at Greenwood Cemetery.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Chilean Government has been informed of the facts in the case of Mrs. Blanca Vergara De Saulles, who shot and killed her former husband, John L. De Saulles. The report to the Santiago Foreign Office was said to be regular and routine, according to a practice followed by the foreign representatives of all Governments, and merely for the information of the Chilean authorities.

J. W. LAMBERT FOUND DEAD.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 7.—With a bullet through his brain, the body of Jordan W. Lambert, wealthy Vice President of the Lambert Pharmacal Company, prominent sportsman, and brother of Albert Bond Lambert, founder of the United States Aviation Reserve Corps, was found by a maid in his room soon after 1 o'clock this morning, death having occurred only a short time before.

Mr. Lambert had received three notes, one from his last wife, in which she declined to return to St. Louis and get a divorce; one signed "Nellie," which warned him not to "do anything rash without thinking carefully," and a third from which the signature had been torn, which hinted at a love affair.

The discovery of the body was made after the maid had been called on the telephone about 1 o'clock this morning and asked by an unidentified woman to see if Lambert was all right. The mysterious woman said:

"Mr. Lambert told me he might not live through it. Please see if he is all right, or if you can help him."

The maid, hearing mysteriously mumbled words at Mr. Lambert's door, did not enter, but being again urged over the phone, knocked on the door and, when her knock was unanswered, swung the door open. The body was lying full length on the floor, a pistol lying near by.

Lambert was known as a sportsman here and was in the limelight for some time in 1908 because of certain stories of psychic demonstrations that were issued from the Lambert home by his first wife, which concerned the psychic abilities of a male nurse employed for their 17-year-old son.

The police hold a suicide theory, but are endeavoring to find the mysterious woman who telephoned.

Wisdom In Few Words

IV.

THE STUFF OF LIFE.

Benjamin Franklin was strongly against all idleness, waste and extravagance, and especially against the ill-use of time. Have we things to do worth while? Let us, then, be up and doing. There will be time for rest and play by and by. If he could talk in to-day's vernacular, he would, no doubt, advise: If there is something up to you to do, do it. Do it now. Don't be a slacker. But the way he put it was this:

"Dost thou love life?
Then do not squander time,
For that's the stuff life is made of."

A lot of Franklin's sayings, useful for young or old, have been brought together in the little pamphlet "The Proverbs of Franklin" published by the Franklin Society, which for thirty years has helped thousands to practice the philosophy of one of the wisest of men. The proverbs are yours for the asking.

Your Surplus Business Records! Are They Safe from

WHERE do you store your back records, reports, correspondence and other valuable data that you need and must have on file readily accessible?

In your office or office building? Where they occupy space, gather dust, add to fuss and confusion, and cost you 66 2-3% more than you should pay for the space they occupy!

Even then they're not safe!

A fire is liable at any time to sweep them all away and destroy every single record on file—and even if not burned, your building may be partially demolished and your business interrupted.

Is the risk worth while, when for actually one-third the cost of lower Manhattan office rentals you can rent space in the Pioneer Fireproof Warehouses? Located out of the congested districts—

SOCONY
NY
STANDARD OIL CO. OF N.Y.
The sign of a Reliable Dealer and the World's Best Gasoline

YOU can judge the efficiency of your motor by its flexibility—the eagerness with which it picks up when you open the throttle, the steadiness and smoothness with which it turns over when throttled down.

So-CO-ny (accent on the second syllable) gets the full flexibility out of your motor—because it is absolutely pure, and every drop power-full. More than that, SOCONY is always the same—every gallon like every other gallon. It's always dependable.

The demonstrated efficiency of SOCONY has made it for years the favorite fuel of the motoring public.

Look for the Red, White and Blue SO-CO-NY sign. You'll find it on garages and service stations everywhere and anywhere throughout New York and New England.

The Biggest thing in New York
REDDEN
REDDEN TRUCK MAKER

It means millions saved for New Yorkers. For it halves the cost of deliveries. Any merchant or manufacturer in New York can cut hauling costs in two by using Redden Truck Makers.

Be critical. Tell your engineer to compare the Redden to all other Ford ton truck attachments. If he tells you that the Redden has bigger and stronger wheels, tires, springs and rear axle—that its steel channel frame reinforces the Ford frame its entire length—that it is the only attachment with an extra set of service brakes on the jack shaft, that its chain sprockets have 8½ inches road clearance, and that bronze bushings are used liberally—in short, if your engineer tells you that the Redden is by far the soundest and strongest truck maker that's built—why that ought to be conclusive.
